College of Human Services

Purpose

The College of Human Services offers a wide range of undergraduate course work and some graduate instruction in the departments of Administration of Justice, Communication Studies, Recreation and Tourism Management, and Social Work. One goal of these programs is to prepare students for careers in the helping professions. Another goal is to provide a variety of service courses for the entire university, enabling students of all majors to explore the life quality challenges of contemporary society. The programs provide opportunities for involvement with public and private human service organizations throughout the West Valley, the state, and the nation. The faculty of the College of Human Services is committed to excellence as it strives to empower students with abilities to respond to the needs of increasingly complex social systems. As such, the college seeks to be an inclusive unit where students from various cultures and backgrounds can meet and learn about our diverse community, country, and world.

The College of Human Services offers eight degree programs:

- B.S. Administration of Justice
- B.A., B.S. Communication Studies
- B.S. Recreation and Tourism Management
- B.S.W. Social Work
- M.A. Communication Studies
- M.A. Criminal Justice
- M.S.W. Social Work

In addition, ASU West students can secure a degree in Nursing (B.S.N.) by taking courses “hosted” by Human Services but administered by ASU Main. The College of Human Services offers a multidisciplinary Certificate in Gerontology and a Postbaccalaureate Certificate in Communication and Human Relations. Students can also acquire minors in Communication Studies, Gerontology, Prelaw, Special Events Management, and Tourism Management. Students should consult the College of Human Services web pages for additional information at www.west.asu.edu/chs/.

Baccalaureate degree programs

Admission. Admission to programs in Administration of Justice, Communication Studies, Recreation and Tourism Management, or Social Work requires a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00, and whatever additional requirements the respective programs impose.

Transfer students. Any person applying for admission or transfer to the Communication Studies or Administration of Justice programs is admitted as a major of that program. A student applying for admission to the Social Work or Recreation and Tourism Management programs must meet the requirements identified in the respective academic program sections that follow.

Degree requirements. Students seeking a baccalaureate in a Human Services major must successfully complete 120 semester hours of college course work, fulfill all university degree requirements, and complete the specific requirements of the degree program. Specific degree requirements are explained under the respective academic program sections that follow.

Administration of Justice

Chair: Vincent J. Webb, Ph.D.
Location: FAB S270C-1
(602) 543-6607

The Administration of Justice Department offers the Bachelor of Science Degree in Administration of Justice and the Master of Arts Degree in Criminal Justice to accommodate the needs of one of the most rapidly growing academic and professional fields in the United States.

Bachelor of Science Degree in Administration of Justice

Nature of program

The program provides a social science, interdisciplinary perspective to the study of the administration of justice. The focus is on the policies and practices of criminal justice system components including law enforcement, corrections, and the courts. Students are exposed to the criminal law and its origins, patterns and theories of crime and crime analysis, and the body of research based literature that examines and evaluates contemporary criminal justice practice.

The Administration of Justice curriculum offers students a solid foundation of courses that provide the content, analytical, and communication skills required for working in complex criminal justice occupations. The program also prepares students to enter into graduate studies and exposes students considering law school to substantive and procedural criminal law.

During their senior year, students are encouraged to complete an internship in a justice-related placement. AJS 484 Internship in Administration of Justice has been designed to provide the student with a well-rounded learning experience in an experiential setting. It involves a three-way partnership among students, ASU West, and cooperating institutions. It is guided by a set of goals and objects that are based on the needs and resources of those involved. The intern's goals and objectives are developed with the assistance of the internship coordinator and the cooperating agency supervisor. They represent skills and competencies that can be reasonably accomplished during the internship period.

Career outlook

The Administration of Justice Department provides an interdisciplinary approach to understanding issues related to the field of criminal justice. Societal concern about issues of crime, crime prevention, and victimization necessitate that state and federal monies be devoted to the field of criminal justice. Consequently, this field is one of the fastest growing areas of employment.

Graduates of the Administration of Justice program find employment in both the public and private sector. Employment opportunities exist in the areas of law enforcement, probation, parole, corrections, private security, court personnel, legal offices, and victim witness advocate agencies. Graduates may also pursue advanced degrees in law and in social science disciplines.

Major requirements

The 51 semester hour Bachelor of Science degree program in Administration of Justice consists of 18 hours of major core courses, 21 hours of major elective courses, and 12 hours in a related field. A student must attain a grade of “C” or higher in all courses credited toward the major, including courses in the related area.

AJS	305	Women, Crime, and Justice (C)	3
AJS	306	Race, Ethnicity, and Justice (C)	3
Total			18

Electives. The 21 hours of elective courses in the major and the 12 hours of courses in related fields must be strategically assembled with appropriate advising to make up a specialty area consistent with the student’s intellectual and career interests and objectives. Of the 21 hours of elective Administration of Justice courses, students will take nine hours at the 300 level (with the remaining at the 400 level).

Community college courses. Many Administration of Justice courses are currently taught at Arizona community colleges. The transferability of these courses is governed by the Course Equivalency in effect when the course was taken. This information is maintained in the Course Applicability System (CAS) - CEG function at az.transfer.org/cas. Community college courses which are equivalent to ASU West upper division courses will apply to the program, if completed with a grade of “C” or better, and should not be repeated at ASU West; however, these courses will not count toward the required upper division credit hours. Students must complete a minimum of 24 Administration of Justice credits at ASU West.

The following ASU West courses may have ASU Main or Community College transfer equivalents and should not be repeated at ASU West.

ASU West	Course Title	ASU Main Equivalent

AJS 360	Substantive Criminal Law	JUS 365
AJS 410	Procedural Criminal Law	JUS 368
AJS DEC	Crime & Delinquency	JUS 311

Other requirements. Students must complete all university degree requirements (including General Studies program requirements). For descriptive information on these requirements, refer to the “General Studies Program” section of this catalog and the Administration of Justice Undergraduate Advisement Guide available in the College of Human Services.

Nature of program

The Master of Arts Degree in Criminal Justice is designed to provide criminal justice agency professionals with advanced training in management and operations analysis and research and evaluation. The degree consists of 30 hours of coursework that will enable students to develop the high level skills in agency data analysis, policy analysis, program planning, and program evaluation allowing them to apply scientific criminology to crime prevention and criminal justice practice. Students will also be required to complete a major policy analysis, agency data analysis, or agency planning project.

An accelerated degree track is available to students who wish to complete the degree in one calendar year. Students not on the accelerated track will be able to complete the degree within 24 months, but no course on the program of study may be more than six years old at the time of degree completion.

Admission

Admission to the master's program is open to:

1. holders of baccalaureate degrees from institutions with regional accreditation;
2. those who show promise of success as demonstrated by scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), previous schooling, and experience; and
3. those who have career goals that are compatible with the educational objectives of the program.

Application. An official transcript from every university or college attended must be received by the Office of Graduate Studies at ASU West before an application can be considered. Official GRE scores must be sent by ETS to ASU. Letters of recommendation, a resume, and a personal statement must be sent to the M.A. in Criminal Justice Program Office.

The suggested application deadlines are June 1 for fall semester and November 1 for the spring semester.

The application, application fee, and transcripts should be sent to:

Program requirements

The 30-semester hour master's program includes 15 semester hours of required core courses, a six semester-hour applied project, and nine semester hours of electives. Students will be able to develop specializations in areas such as policing, corrections, and management by combining required and elective coursework. The planning of specializations will be done jointly by the student and his or her faculty program committee.

Communication Studies

Chair: Lesley Di Mare, Ph.D.
 Location: FAB S141C
 (602) 543-6606

The Department of Communication Studies offers Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science Degrees in Communication Studies, undergraduate Minors in Communication Studies and Public Relations and Strategic Communication, the Master of Arts Degree in Communication Studies, and a Postbaccalaureate Certificate in Communication and Human Relations.

Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science Degrees in Communication Studies

Nature of program

The Communication Studies Program is designed to explore how communication takes place in relationships, within national and international organizations, in public forums, and between and within cultures. The program is grounded in both rhetorical and communication theory approaches to the study of human communication. The major gives students the opportunity to study a common core of communication courses, to design part of their program to achieve individual goals, and to take part in a communication apprenticeship experience. Faculty and students work together to integrate teaching, research, and service with the goal of improving communicative interactions. The successful graduate will be able to communicate competently with people, be able to research, analyze, organize, and communicate information, and to show potential for leadership.

Career outlook

The Communication Studies Department offers humanistic and social science approaches to communication leading to a wide range of employment options in both public and private sectors.

The Communication Studies program is designed to enhance students' interpersonal skills, presentational skills, and critical thinking skills. Thus, the successful graduate will be able to work effectively with people, assimilate, organize, and analyze information, solve problems, make effective presentations, and show potential for leadership. The program prepares students for advanced education and various careers and professions, including:

- training and development
- public relations
- public administration
- public office
- public advocacy
- speech writer
- lobbyist
- industrial research centers
- advertising
- mediation
- customer relations
- human resources
- health and human services
- international service
- fund-raising
- the ministry, and
- advancement toward careers in teaching, counseling, law, and medicine.

Admission requirements

A minimum GPA of 2.00 is required for entrance into the major and for enrollment in all upper division courses.

Major requirements

Of the minimum required 51 hours, majors must complete 24 semester hours of program core courses, 18 semester hours in one of four emphasis areas, three semester hours of senior apprenticeship, and six semester hours of communication electives. Students seeking the Bachelor of Science degree must complete one general studies CS course and one additional upper division statistics course. All courses must be passed with a minimum grade of “C.”

Lower division core (6 hours)

COM 222 Argumentation (L)
COM 225 Public Speaking (L)

Upper division core (18 hours)

COM 308 Empirical Research Methods in Communication (L)
COM 309 Rhetorical, Interpretive, and Critical Methods in Communication
COM 321 Rhetorical Theory and Research (L/HU)
COM 410 Interpersonal Communication Theory and Research (SB)
COM 450 Theory and Research in Organizational Communication (SB)
COM 463 Cultural and Intercultural Communication Theory and Research (SB, G)

Emphasis areas (18 upper division hours). Students will design a program of course work with their faculty advisor (advisor approval of program mandatory) to study the application of communication concepts and strategies in various contexts. Of the 18 hours, 12 hours must be in the Communication Studies Program and up to six hours may be outside of the Communication Studies Program. Students are encouraged to take at least one special topics course (COM 394/494).

1. Communication and Relationships includes studying communication concepts and strategies that focus on communication in personal and social relationships.
2. Communication and Organizations involves studying communication concepts and strategies that focus on communication in national and international organizations.

3. Communication and Culture includes studying communication concepts and strategies that focus on communication within and between communities and cultures.

4. Rhetoric, Philosophy, and Media Studies includes studying rhetorical and philosophical concepts and strategies that focus on forms and contexts of public communication.

Electives (6 hours). Students will take six hours of electives in Communication Studies. These courses may include COM 100 Introduction to Human Communication or courses 200 level or above.

Senior apprenticeship (3 upper division hours).

During their senior year students must complete three hours of either COM 499 (Individualized Instruction), COM 484 (Internship), or COM 382 (Classroom Apprenticeship) for their senior apprenticeship. Students must have faculty advisor approval in order to enroll in any of the above courses. The senior apprenticeship is evaluated on a Pass (P) or Fail (E) basis. Students must receive a passing mark to receive credit for their senior apprenticeship.

Communication Internships (COM 484) consist of supervised field experiences and are available to qualified upper division undergraduate students. Internships must receive prior approval from the Coordinator of Internship Programs before student registration for the course. Internships may be taken once or repeated for credit up to a total of 12 hours.

Not more than six apprenticeship hours may be applied toward the major.

Other requirements. In addition to the above listed requirements, students must satisfy the General Studies Program requirements. Students should consult their advisors for current information concerning College of Human Services and the Communication Studies Program courses applicable to General Studies requirements.

Minor in Communication Studies

The minor consists of 18 credit hours of Communication Studies courses. Students wishing to pursue a minor must meet with a Communication Studies faculty advisor to construct a minor that reflects a particular area of specialty and interest. At least 12 semester hours must come from upper division courses. To graduate with the minor, students must earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in Communication Studies courses. All courses must be passed with a minimum grade of “C.”

Minor in Public Relations and Strategic Communications

The Public Relations and Strategic Communications will provide students with professional and academic expertise in persuasion and campaign communication, public relations, crisis communication, special events planning, marketing, professional writing, and editing (among other areas). Additionally, students will have the opportunity to refine their presentational skills needed for public and community relations.

Program Requirements

The minor consists of 18 semester hours upper division coursework, including six semester hours of required course work, an internship, and nine semester hours of electives.

Required core courses (9 hours)

Select two of the following three courses:

- COM 320 Communication and Consumerism
- COM 329 Persuasion
- COM 454 Rhetorical and Critical Approaches to Public Relations

COM 484 Internship

Electives (9 hours)

Select courses from the following in consultation with an advisor

- COM 353 Professional Communication
- COM 414 Crisis Communication
- COM 453 Communication Training and Development
- ENG 311 Persuasive Writing
- ENG 315 Writing for the Professions
- ENG 412 Writing for Publication

- REC 404 Marketing Recreation and Tourism
- REC 486 Special Events Management

Or other approved courses

Postbaccalaureate Certificate in Communication and Human Relations

Nature of program

The contemporary workplace increasingly requires employees to develop advanced knowledge and skill in the processes of communication. This observation is based on several long-term trends. First, the increasing popularity of team-based organizational structures requires employees to develop competencies in group communication, negotiation, and conflict management. Second, the tendency toward decentralization of decision-making in contemporary organizations requires leaders and followers to rely more heavily on persuasion and communication and less heavily on traditional structures and position power. Third, the need for organizations and governments to be more responsive to an increasingly diverse set of citizens and customers requires competencies in cross-cultural communication, audience analysis, and message development. Fourth, rapidly developing communication technologies can be exploited only when employees are knowledgeable about the capabilities, limitations, and ethical implications of traditional and emerging media. Fifth, modern organizations are increasingly required to be responsive to the social, ethical, and environmental concerns of local communities. The program in Communication and Human Relations provides an individualized program of coursework for advanced students and employees seeking to stay abreast of these trends.

The certificate program is designed for working professionals in communication-intensive fields such as public affairs, employee relations, mediation, organizational development, public relations, training and development, community relations, customer relations, media relations, change management, sales and sales management, marketing, public administration, event planning, and health communication.

Admission requirements

To be admitted to the Postbaccalaureate Certificate in Communication and Human Relations, an individual must:

1. possess a four-year baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited college or university;
2. be admitted to ASU West as a nondegree graduate student; and
3. have completed the following college-level courses with a grade of “C” or better in each course:
 - a. Quantitative, qualitative, or critical research methods (three semester hours)

- b. Oral communication performance (200 level or above) (three semester hours)

Program requirements

The certificate requires completion of 18 semester hours of upper division coursework in Communication Studies and related disciplines.

Focused Coursework. In consultation with a faculty advisor, students will design a program of study comprised of five courses (15 semester hours) focused in an area of human relations, such as employee communications, interpersonal relations, community relations. Course selections will be made from the following:

- COM 410 Interpersonal Communication
- COM 411 Communication in the Family
- COM 414 Crisis Communication
- COM 417 Communication and Aging
- COM 421 Rhetoric of Social Issues
- COM 430 Leadership in Group Communication
- COM 450 Theory and Research in Organizational Communication
- COM 451 Employee Participation Processes in Organizations
- COM 453 Communication Training and Development
- COM 456 Political Communication
- COM 457 New Media
- COM 494 Special Topics
- Other approved substitution

Capstone Project. Students are required to complete an independent research project (supervised by a faculty member) on a communication topic related to their professional or research interests. The project should reflect the integration and application of coursework to a social or organizational problem. The scope and quality of the written report will be appropriate for post-baccalaureate students. A minimum of three semester hours of COM 499 Individualized Instruction is required.

Nature of program

The Master of Arts Degree in Communication Studies provides students with advanced analytical, oral, and written communication skills applicable in today's technological and information-based society. The program blends theoretical and practical perspectives concerning communication and advocacy in public and private communication settings.

Career outlook

In today's technological and information-based society, advanced degrees that educate and train individuals in analytical, oral, and written communication skills make graduates suitable for a variety of occupations. National statistics indicate that the average American will experience at least four different occupations during his or her lifetime.

Graduate degrees in communication studies are among few degrees that blend the best attributes of a professional degree (training in specific areas and skills for particular vocations) with the best attributes of a liberal arts degree (ability to think critically, conceptualize new theories, and apply skills across a variety of occupational situations and challenges). This blend of intellectual skills is of great social and community consequence with respect to advocacy and social justice.

Admission

Admission to the program is competitive, based on applicant's undergraduate scholarly activities and research abilities, and professional experience. All applicants must submit the following:

1. a completed application and official transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate work;

2. a 500-word personal statement indicating professional goals and addressing how the program will aid in the achievement of those goals;

3. official Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores;

4. three letters of recommendation, up to two of which may come from appropriate professional, non-academic sources.

5. a writing sample of scholarly work or an example of professional activities (i.e., technical reports, grants, creative campaign); and

6. a minimum test score of 450 on the Test of English as a Foreign Language and a minimum score of 220 on the Test of Spoken English for all applicants who are non-native English speakers.

Application. The application, application fee, transcripts, and official GRE scores (sent by ETS) should be sent to:

Graduate Studies
Arizona State University West
P.O. Box 37100
Phoenix, AZ 85069-7100

Letters of recommendation, a resume, personal statement, and writing sample must be sent to:

Director of Graduate Studies
Department of Communication Studies
Arizona State University West
P.O. Box 37100
Phoenix, AZ 85069-7100

The completed application including all supporting material must be received prior to consideration for admission. The suggested application deadline is the second Tuesday in April for fall semester.

Program requirements

The Master of Arts Degree in Communication Studies is a 36 semester hour degree program that includes:

1. required core courses (nine semester hours)
COM 502 Theory and Practice in Communication and Persuasion
COM 505 Methods in Applied Communication Research
COM 506 Humanistic Inquiry and Field Research in Communication
2. at least 15 semester hours of departmental elective courses at the 500 level or higher;

3. six hours of additional courses, as approved by advisor, that may be taken at the 500 level in any other department or related program;
4. completion of six hours of COM 599 Thesis or COM 593 Applied Project.

Thesis or Applied Project. The thesis or applied professional project must demonstrate intellectual, academic, and/or professional growth and ability. The prospectus and thesis or applied project will be supervised and approved by the student's advisor and committee. An oral defense is required for the thesis or applied project.

Gerontology Program

Director: Janet Shirreffs, Ph.D.
Location: FAB S170H
(602) 543-6642

Nature of program

The Gerontology Program brings together faculty from several disciplines to teach courses related to adult development and aging, to collaborate on gerontological research, and to participate in projects of service to older adults. ASU West offers courses that fulfill requirements for the undergraduate Minor in Gerontology and the Graduate Certificate in Gerontology. In addition, many of the courses offered by this program may satisfy requirements for ASU West degree programs and General Studies requirements.

Program activities are designed for students who wish to study the psychological, sociological, biological, and policy-related aspects of aging as well as for those interested in the health, economic, and social concerns of older people.

Students study the aging process from multiple perspectives and develop knowledge and skills to prepare them for careers in an aging society. Courses related to aging are taught by faculty who are active contributors to research and theory, and public policy and practice. Students gain practical experience in working with older adults through field-based experience and internships. The faculty also help students find rewarding volunteer positions in community programs and agencies for older adults.

Career outlook

Since older Americans are becoming an increasing percentage of the population, there is a growing need for professionals with gerontological expertise. This is especially the case in Arizona due to the large number of retirement communities located here. Careers will be available in a broad range of fields including recreation, social work, nursing, counseling, public policy, and long term care administration. Career outlook for those with gerontological expertise is bright in not-for-profit, governmental and non-governmental settings as well as for-profit entrepreneurial settings.

Certificate in Gerontology

The interdisciplinary Certificate in Gerontology is designed for students who wish to study the psychological, sociological, biological, and policy-related aspects of aging and the health, economic, and social concerns of older people. Admission to the program is open to individuals with a baccalaureate degree. The Certificate may be earned by non-degree seeking graduate students as well as graduate students enrolled in master's or doctoral programs. Undergraduate students may reserve up to nine semester hours earned toward the Certificate in Gerontology. (See the policy on Reserving of Course Credit by Undergraduates, page 107.)

The 21 semester hour Certificate in Gerontology provides a broad academic foundation for students who wish to apply the knowledge and skills acquired in their major and/or work experience to a variety of aging-related pursuits. Students complete seven courses related to aging. Students must complete two of three core courses (GRN 420, PGS 427, SOC 418) and a three-hour capstone experience (GRN 584 Internship, GRN 590 Reading and Conference, or GRN 592 Applied Research). The remaining 12 semester hours are courses taken as electives. Students must obtain a 3.00 GPA in the seven courses completed for the certificate.

For their electives, students choose courses from the gerontology-related offerings of several departments as well as those offered by the Gerontology Program. Of the 21 hours required for the Certificate, 15 hours must be completed at the 500 level. The capstone course must be completed at ASU West.

Students may elect to take the Certificate in conjunction with the M.A. in Interdisciplinary Studies (see page 150), with the 21 hours of study for the former constituting the core of the program of study for the M.A. Contact either program for details.

Minor in Gerontology

The Minor in Gerontology requires 18 semester hours of course work. The Gerontology minor is designed to explore the study of aging from an interdisciplinary perspective. Students select two of the three gerontology core courses and four additional aging-related courses that are approved as electives. The Gerontology Program allows double counting of courses from the student's major in the minor; however, students should consult with their major department to determine if it has more stringent requirements. A 2.50 grade point average must be obtained in the six courses.

Undergraduate students may begin taking courses for the minor upon completion of 56 semester hours with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.00.

Core courses

GRN 400 Aging in the New Millennium or GRN 420 Health Aspects of Aging or approved substitution
 PGS 427 Psychology of Aging
 SOC 418 Aging and the Life Course

Electives. All courses carrying a GRN prefix can be counted as elective courses in the program. A list of elective courses carrying other disciplinary prefixes which may be used towards completion of the minor and certificate in gerontology is available from the Gerontology Program Office.

For specific information on the Certificate in Gerontology and the undergraduate Minor in Gerontology, call the Gerontology Program at (602) 543-6642.

Nursing

ASU West hosts the ASU Main College of Nursing Bachelor of Science in Nursing program. Junior and senior level nursing courses are hosted at ASU West and taught by ASU College of Nursing faculty. All upper division requirements for a nursing degree are available at ASU West.

The Nursing faculty acknowledge their responsibility to health care consumers for the preparation of individuals who provide nursing care of professional quality through teaching, research, and service. Within the context of a liberal education, the undergraduate degree program prepares professional nurses who:

1. understand and respond to changing health and social needs and services;
2. influence nursing practice and health care through leadership and participation in professional and sociopolitical activities; and,
3. utilize scientific knowledge to advance professional nursing practice.

The continuing education program provides opportunities for nurses to improve and expand their nursing practice to meet the health care needs of various populations and to further their own professional development.

For information on admission, advising and degree requirements, refer to ASU General Catalog, “College of Nursing” section, call (480) 965-2987, or consult the College’s web page at www.asu.edu/nursing/.

Recreation and Tourism Management

Chair: Richard Gitelson, Ph.D.
 Location: FAB S115 A
 (602) 543-6603

The Recreation and Tourism Management Department offers the Bachelor of Science degree in Recreation and Tourism Management and minors in Special Events

Management and Tourism Management for majors outside the department.

Bachelor of Science Degree in Recreation and Tourism Management

Nature of program

The Recreation and Tourism Management program prepares students for leadership roles in the recreation, park, tourism, and travel management fields. Its primary purpose is to help students acquire the knowledge and perspective they will need to lead these fields through the social, economic, and environmental challenges of the next century.

The program offers a curriculum that places the study of recreation and tourism in a broad, multi-disciplinary context. Students will integrate perspectives from such diverse arenas as human development and behavior, law, marketing, strategic planning, urban and regional planning, financing, economic development, social justice, environmental management, human resource management, organizational behavior, and public policy. At the same time, the curriculum emphasizes experiential learning in professional settings to develop the core competencies required for professional-level entry into the recreation and tourism fields.

Students graduating from this program are eligible to sit for the examination to become a Certified Park and Recreation Professional (CPRP) and thereby acquire this valuable credential for professional advancement.

Accreditation

The Bachelor of Science degree program in Recreation and Tourism Management is accredited by the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA)/American Alliance for Leisure and Recreation (AALR) Council on Accreditation.

Career outlook

Recreation and Tourism combined is the second-largest industry in the United States. While no university degree automatically ensures employment, Recreation and Tourism Management graduates who have tailored their programs and work experience to market opportunities have done very well in securing relevant career positions.

Public sector and for-profit recreation operations, resorts, employee recreation, special events, and non-profit agency recreation services have continued to grow to meet recreation demands. Employment for recreation professionals working with youth, older adults, and other special populations has grown significantly. Strong citizen and government emphasis has recently been placed on how to best use natural resources and how to best plan, design, operate, and maintain these resources.

Employment opportunities are expanding in areas such as resorts, outdoor recreation programs, fitness facilities, private membership clubs, military recreation, camps, and commercial recreation businesses. Federal, state, and local recreation agencies are contracting for many recreation services to handle increased demands they cannot presently meet. There are opportunities for assertive, highly motivated, competent, and innovative graduates to create their own nontraditional jobs. Career opportunities for minority students are good, especially in parks and natural resources where there is significant underrepresentation of minorities. In terms of career opportunities, it is the Recreation and Tourism Management Department's goal to provide the best professional training possible to help our students be leading candidates for jobs upon graduation.

Admission requirements

Admission to the degree program is based upon the applicant's educational and career goals. The applicant must meet the university and College of Human Services admission requirements.

Application forms are available in the Recreation and Tourism Management department office (FAB S115-A; (602) 543-6603). The application must be completed and accepted for the student to be considered a Recreation and Tourism Management major.

Major requirements

The 63 semester hour Bachelor of Science degree program in Recreation and Tourism Management consists of 39 hours of major core courses, 15 hours of major elective courses, and nine hours of approved nonmajor elective courses from related areas.

The major core courses include six hours of lower division courses and 33 hours of upper division courses. Students must transfer the lower division hours into ASU West.

	Semester Hours
Lower division core
REC 120 Leisure and Quality of Life (SB)	3
REC 210 Leisure Delivery Systems	3
Upper division core
REC 301 Leadership in Recreation and Tourism	3
REC 302 Recreation and Tourism for Diverse Populations	3
REC 303 Programming Recreation and Tourism Services	3
REC 304 Recreation and Tourism Areas and Facilities Management	3
REC 401 Administration of Recreation and Tourism Services (L)	3
REC 402 Evaluation and Assessment in Recreation and Tourism	3
REC 403 Professional Development Seminar	3
REC 404 Marketing Recreation and Tourism	3
REC 484 Senior Internship	9
Total	39

The 15 hours of elective courses in the major must be strategically assembled to craft a specialty area in recreation or tourism management. Similarly, the nine hours of nonmajor course work in related areas must be chosen to enhance development within that specialty area. To achieve these goals, all elective hours within the degree program must be chosen in consultation with a faculty advisor.

Additional major requirements. The program requires two hundred hours of professional field experience approved by a faculty advisor, which must be completed and documented prior to enrollment in REC 484 Senior Internship.

The REC 484 Senior Internship course is a capstone experience for the major, and therefore must be the last course taken within the set of 63 hours required by the major. In addition, a minimum 2.00 cumulative GPA is required for major courses prior to enrollment in the internship. Furthermore, students must demonstrate competency in the use of computers for word processing, spread sheets, and specialized programs related to leisure services prior to enrollment in the Senior Internship.

A grade of "C" or better is required for all courses credited toward the 54 semester hours of major courses required by the program.

Students must complete all university degree requirements, including General Studies Program requirements as articulated in the "General Studies Program" section of this catalog.

Minor in Special Events Management

Nature of program

The Minor in Special Events Management is designed to offer students a solid understanding of special event programming and management. In addition to the two-tiered special event courses, which provide both basic and advanced instruction, as well as experiential learning opportunities through event production, each student will be able to select electives to meet his or her specific interests.

Minor requirements

The minor consists of 12 semester hours of required courses and 6 semester hours of electives selected in consultation with a faculty advisor. At least 12 semester hours must be completed at ASU West in upper division classes. To earn the minor, students must complete all course work in the minor with a minimum grade of “C”. Recreation and Tourism Management majors are not eligible to earn the Minor in Special Events Management.

Required core courses (12 hours)

- REC 303 Programming Recreation and Tourism Services or
- REC 404 Marketing Recreation and Tourism
- REC 453 Volunteer Management in Human Service Organizations
- REC 486 Special Events Management
- REC 487 Special Events Management, Advanced

Electives (6 hours)

Select courses from the following in consultation with the minor advisor:

- REC 301 Leadership in Recreation and Tourism
- REC 303 Programming Recreation and Tourism Services
- REC 373 Leisure Travel and Tourism
- REC 404 Marketing Recreation and Tourism
- REC 451 Grant Writing for Human Service Professionals
- REC 475 Entrepreneurial Recreation and Tourism
- REC 345 Meeting and Convention Planning (available at ASU Main)
- REC 484 Senior Internship
- Other approved course

Minor in Tourism Management

Nature of program

The Minor in Tourism Management is designed to provide students with fundamental knowledge in travel and tourism management. The minor may be useful to students pursuing degrees in Communication Studies, Administration of Justice, Global Business, Interdisciplinary Arts and Performance, Spanish, etc.

Minor requirements

The minor consists of 18 semester hours of which 15 semester hours must be at the upper division level. To earn the minor, students must complete all courses with a minimum grade of “C”. Recreation and Tourism Management majors are not eligible to earn the Minor in Tourism Management.

Required core courses (6 hours)

- REC 373 Leisure Travel and Tourism
- REC 473 Tourism Management or
- REC 475 Entrepreneurial Recreation and Tourism

Electives (12 hours)

Social Work

Chair: Melissa Lavitt, Ph.D.
Location: FAB S149
(602) 543-6602

The Department of Social Work offers the Bachelor of Social Work and the Master of Social Work degree programs.

Bachelor of Social Work Degree

Nature of program

The goal of the Social Work Department is to train professional social workers for entry-level, generalist practice focused on populations that are most oppressed and most in need of the services social workers offer. A special emphasis is placed on working with diverse groups of the Southwest.

The undergraduate curriculum leads to a Bachelor of Social Work (B.S.W.). Junior and senior Social Work majors focus on Social Work courses in social policy and services, human behavior in the social environment, social work practice, research, and field instruction in community agencies. In addition, majors take elective courses in related areas.

The B.S.W.-level practitioner is seen as a generalist. The curriculum focuses on such roles as advocacy, referral, case management, and problem-solving functions with individuals, groups, families, organizations, and the community.

Accreditation

The Bachelor of Social Work degree program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE).

Career outlook

The Department of Social Work prepares students for professional generalist B.S.W. practice. Employment in social work is expected to grow faster than most other occupations until at least the year 2005.

Social Workers are employed in public and private agencies dealing with a wide variety of social issues including, child abuse, foster care, adoptions, health, mental health, aging, delinquency, corrections, family dysfunction, poverty, teen pregnancy, domestic violence, homelessness, AIDS, school-related problems, discrimination, disability, substance abuse, and others. Social work skills such as problem solving, resource utilization, counseling, group work, and community organization are also useful for positions with industry in employee relations and mediation.

Admission requirements

In order to be considered for admission to the Bachelor of Social Work program, applicants must have:

1. completed the university First-Year Composition requirement with a grade of "C" or better;
2. completed all General Studies requirements with a grade of "C" or better;
3. completed the following Social Work courses with a grade of "C" or better:
 - a. SWU 271 Introduction to Social Work (SB, H)
 - b. SWU 291 Social Service Delivery Systems
 - c. SWU 301 Human Behavior in the Social Environment I
 - d. SWU 310 Social Work Practice I

4. completed a minimum of 240 hours of volunteer or paid experience in social work related settings;
5. completed the following related courses with a grade of “C” or better:
 - a. ECN 111 Macroeconomic Principles (SB)
 - b. PGS 101 Introduction to Psychology (SB)
 - c. PHI 101 Introduction to Philosophy (HU)
 - d. POS 110 Government and Politics* (SB) or POL 310
 - e. SOC 101 Introductory Sociology (SB) or SOC 301
 - f. A course in Human Biology (e.g., LSC 365; BIO 120*, 201*)
 - g. A course in Statistical Analysis
 - h. A course with a contemporary focus on ethnic minorities of the Southwest
 - i. A course with a contemporary focus on women

Complete this ASU Main course or transfer equivalent*

6. completed and submitted the Social Work Department application packet; and
7. be admitted to the university as a degree-seeking student.

Applications. Students wishing to enter the Social Work program are required to apply for admission to the program in addition to obtaining an official Certificate of Admission to the university. Students are eligible to apply for admission to the Social Work major during the last semester of the junior year.

A student may obtain a Social Work Department application packet at the Department of Social Work office (FAB S149) or request that one be mailed by calling (602) 543-6602.

Criteria for admission. Admission is based on the following criteria:

1. A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00 is required.

2. A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.75 in core Social Work courses (SWU 271, 291, 301, and 310) and a grade of “C” or better in all Social Work courses are required. Students with less than a 2.75 GPA in Social Work courses may apply for conditional acceptance to the program.

3. The applicant’s educational and career goals must be compatible with the educational objectives of the program.

4. Three references are required for each applicant. Two references should be from individuals who have known the applicant in a professional capacity. The other reference will be provided by the applicant’s SWU 310 instructor.

5. The applicant must possess the degree of physical and mental health necessary to function successfully as a social worker.

Admission appeal. Those applicants who have been denied admission may request a conference to discuss the decision and to obtain guidance in the development of future plans. Students may appeal the decision to the B.S.W. Standards Committee.

Readmission. Undergraduate students who have previously attended ASU West but have not been enrolled at this institution for one or more semesters are required to apply for readmission following university procedures. Students who were previously B.S.W. majors may, in addition, be required to apply for readmission to the program.

Transfer credit. Direct transfer of courses from other accredited institutions to the Social Work Program is subject to the existence of parallel and equal courses in the school’s curriculum. Transfer credit is not given for courses in which the lowest passing grade (“D”) or a failing grade (“F”) was received. Credit for “life experience” is not given in lieu of course requirements.

Major requirements

The required Social Work core consists of 48 semester hours.

SWU 4__ Social Work Elective	3
Total	48

†Majors only.

Electives. Students are required to take courses in areas related to social work, such as psychology, sociology, political science, and economics. It is necessary to consult with a faculty advisor in selecting electives.

Field instruction. Field instruction for the B.S.W. program is offered concurrently with classroom study. Students are assigned to a social service agency and work under the supervision of an experienced and certified social work professional. Field instruction permits testing theory in practice and gives a base of experience to class discussions. Qualified agencies in several Arizona communities are utilized for field instruction.

B.S.W. students work in one placement for 16 hours a week, usually two full days each week, for a total of 480 hours over two semesters. In assigning the placement, the program takes into account the student's educational needs and career goals. Generalist social workers need to be familiar with the methods of working with individuals, families, and groups, as well as in organizations and communities and with all ages and ethnic groups. The faculty are committed to establishing the capabilities necessary for high-quality, social work generalist practice.

B.S.W. field instruction agencies are located primarily in the Phoenix metropolitan area. Personal transportation is strongly recommended while in field placement.

Graduation requirements

Social Work majors must file a Declaration of Graduation within the semester that they earn their 81st credit. A minimum of 120 semester hours, a minimum of 50 semester hours in upper division courses, a minimum of 480 hours in field education, and a minimum GPA of 2.00 are required for graduation with a B.S.W. degree. To be acceptable as graduation credit, all course and field work in the major must show an earned grade of "C" (2.00) or higher.

Academic policies

In order to remain in good academic standing, students must maintain a minimum overall GPA of 2.00 (B.S.W.) at the end of each semester. Most courses in the program are sequential; successful completion of each course in the sequence is required to enroll in the following course. Students may not enroll in any second-year required courses until all foundation courses have been completed successfully.

Retention and disqualification. Students must maintain a minimum overall cumulative GPA of 2.00 (B.S.W.). A student is placed on probationary status automatically when (1) the GPA is less than the minimum at the end of any semester or (2) a grade of "D" or "E" is received for any major core requirement, regardless of the GPA. Students may also be put on probation for reasons other than grades. See the Policies and Procedures Manual of the Department of Social Work for information on the resolution of probationary status.

Termination from the program. A student may be terminated from the program under any one of the following circumstances:

1. a student fails to carry out the plan developed during a probationary semester.
2. the student receives an “E” grade (failure) in field practicum.
3. the student does not accept or is not accepted by three or more field agencies if, in the judgment of faculty and field staff, the placements can provide appropriate field experiences without undue inconvenience to the student.
4. the student does not adhere to professional expectations and standards (see the Code of Conduct, NASW Code of Ethics, and CSWE Curriculum Policy Statement).
5. a student appears to lack the degree of physical and/or mental health necessary to function successfully as a social worker.

The responsibility for reviewing and determining the qualification of students whose behavior and/or performance are in question is vested in the Status Review Committee.

Appeal procedures. Students who feel they have been unjustly treated in academic or other matters relating to their career as students may appeal by following the guidelines set forth in the “ASU West Academic Policies” section of the B.S.W. Student Handbook.

Student responsibilities. Students are expected to support and maintain the highest professional standards as spelled out in the Code of Conduct and the National Association of Social Workers Code of Ethics.

Regular attendance is expected in all classes and in field education and is a critical factor in evaluation of performance.

Nature of program

The Master of Social Work (M.S.W.) program requires 60 semester hours of course work with 900 hours of fieldwork. The program prepares students for advanced social work practice. The first year, or its equivalent, consists of foundation courses. The second year, or its equivalent, provides an opportunity to focus coursework on aging, behavioral health, or children, youth and families. Students will also gain expertise in a particular aspect of diversity such as ethnic minorities of the southwest, physical disability, religious diversity, immigrants, or gender.

An Advanced Standing program is designed for applicants who have completed a B.S.W. from an accredited undergraduate social work program within the past five years. The successful applicant has social work experience that demonstrates competence in generalist practice skills. Advanced Standing requires 34 semester hours, including a summer preparatory “bridge” class and coursework in an area of emphasis.

Career outlook

There is currently a shortage of master’s level social workers in the United States. Considering Arizona’s rapidly growing population, the need for more social services and social service providers is greater than in other parts of the country. Locally, the need for professional social workers is expected to increase faster than average in comparison to all occupations. There is a significant shortage of social workers in behavioral health and services for children and their families. Furthermore, services for aging adults continue to expand.

Accreditation

The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) has specific guidelines for accreditation. The accreditation process proceeds in sequential stages: candidacy and accreditation. The M.S.W. program is currently in candidacy for accreditation. Full accreditation is anticipated to occur in June 2002.

Admission

Admission to the M.S.W. program is open to:

1. holders of baccalaureate degrees from institutions with regional accreditation;
2. those who show promise of success as demonstrated by scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), previous schooling, and experience; and
3. those who have career goals that are compatible with the educational objectives of the program.

Application. An official transcript from every university or institution attended must be received by the Office of Graduate Studies at ASU West before an application can be considered. Three letters of recommendation, a resume, and a personal statement must be sent to the M.S.W. program office. The suggested application deadline is May 1 for fall semester. The application deadline for the Advanced Standing Program is March 1.

The application, application fee, transcripts, and official GRE scores (sent by ETS to ASU) should be sent to:

Prelaw Minor

Minor in Prelaw

Chair, Prelaw Advising Committee: Nancy Rodriguez, Ph.D.
Location: FAB S272 A
(602) 543-6601

Nature of program

The Prelaw minor is designed to explore the study of law from an interdisciplinary perspective. Students will take a core of classes which are reflective of courses taken by first year law students and will enhance a student's critical thinking skills. In addition, students will select elective courses for the minor with assistance from the College's Human Services Advising Office and from a faculty member on the College's Prelaw Advising Committee. In general, the courses selected as Prelaw minor electives are those which:

1. enhance the student's critical thinking and writing skills;
2. develop the student's knowledge of the law; and
3. enhance the student's understanding of the social, cultural, historical, economic and political development of the law in our society or world.

The minor is designed for students who plan to attend law school or who contemplate careers in fields closely related to the legal profession. Students who exhibit exceptional critical thinking and writing skills are highly successful in their legal studies. It is expected that students in the minor will be able to think both logically and creatively about the law and its philosophical basis. In addition, students will be able to effectively apply legal principles to various factual problems, a rudimentary part of the case book method of legal study.

Minor requirements

The 18 semester hour Minor in Prelaw consists of nine hours of required courses and nine hours of elective courses to be selected with advisement. Students may not count classes towards both completion of their major and the Prelaw minor.

	Semester Hours
Core Classes (select three classes)	9
AJS 360 Substantive Criminal Law
COM 422 Argumentation, Critical Reasoning and Public Communication
GLB 300 Gateway to Global Business or
LES 306 Business Law
POL 470 Law and the Political Order
Electives	9
Students must select nine hours of courses with advisement to complete the minor.

Electives. The nine hours of electives must be strategically assembled from courses which are either reflective of the different types of law they are interested in studying (e.g.: business law, civil liberties, criminal law, environmental law, family law, international law, legal history and jurisprudence, and mental health law), or which enable them to develop critical thinking and writing skills. A list of elective courses which may be used towards completion of the minor is available from the College of Human Services' Advising Office or from a member of the Prelaw Advising Committee.
