Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degree programs

Admission

Any student who is admitted to the university and who wishes to major in an interdisciplinary or disciplinary field offered by the College of Arts and Sciences is admitted to the degree program.

Degree requirements

All candidates for graduation in the B.A. and B.S. degree curricula are required to present at least 120 semester hours, of which at least 50 hours must consist of upper division courses. A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00 is required for graduation.

In cooperation with their college and faculty advisors, students file a Declaration of Graduation in accordance with the degree requirements. It is the students’ responsibility to be aware of the requirements for their degree program and to select courses accordingly.

To graduate, a student must satisfy separate requirements of three kinds:

1. college proficiency requirements for Language and Cultures and Mathematics;
2. university First-Year Composition and General Studies requirements; and
3. major requirements which involve concentrated course work in one program.

Proficiency requirements. Each student is required to demonstrate proficiency in the analysis of language and cultures and mathematics by passing an examination or by completing the courses specified below with a grade of “C” (2.00) or better in each course.

Students considering graduate work after completion of a bachelor’s degree should consult with faculty advisors regarding language requirements in their intended areas of study.

A. Language and Cultures

This requirement may be satisfied through one of the following:

1. completion of secondary education at a school in which the language of instruction is not English; or
2. completion of a language course at the intermediate level (202 or equivalent), including American Sign Language IV; or
3. completion of upper division course(s) taught in a foreign language, taken in the United States or the relevant country; or
4. completion of six hours of upper division courses that have a Global Awareness (G) or Cultural Diversity in the U.S. (C) designation, in addition to the courses used to meet the University General Studies requirements; or
5. completion of two sequential semesters of course work in a current computer language. Contact the college Advising

Office for information on applicable coursework.

B. Mathematics

1. MAT 114 or 117; or
2. any higher level MAT course.

Major requirements. Each student is required to select a major from among the programs offered by the College of Arts and Sciences. The requirements for completion of the major are described under department listings.

A. The major program may require up to 45 semester hours of course work. The minimum is 30 hours. A maximum of 18 additional hours may be required in related courses and prerequisites. No more than 63 semester hours of course work may be required to complete the major, related courses, and prerequisites. A minimum of 12 upper division hours in the major must be taken in campus resident credit.

B. No credit is granted toward fulfilling major or minor requirements in any upper division course in the subject field of the major unless the grade in that course is at least a “C” (2.00). Normally a “Y” (satisfactory) grade needs confirmation that it is equivalent to a “C” (2.00) or better.

General electives. Once the three kinds of requirements have been satisfied, the remainder of the minimum of 120 hours required for graduation are general electives. Contact college advisors for assistance in selecting elective courses.

The Department of American Studies faculty offers an interdisciplinary Bachelor of Arts degree program in American Studies, Bachelor of Arts degree programs in English,

History, and Spanish, and courses in other disciplines represented in the program, such as Religious Studies and Art History.

Bachelor of Arts Degree in American Studies

Nature of program

The Bachelor of Arts in American Studies enables students to look at the experiences of North Americans and their environment from a variety of historical and contemporary perspectives. Courses are grouped into four emphases:

American systems, which deals with political, economic, religious, and legal institutions;

American cultures, which concentrates on systems of belief and their symbolic expression in literature, art, philosophy, and regional and popular cultures;

American lives, which explores the ways in which categories of race, ethnicity, class, and gender intersect with individual and community experience; and

Writing, which stresses critical writing skills and helps train students to undertake careers in which writing is a major activity.

American Studies offers a flexible, interdisciplinary degree program that allows students to take courses in a number of areas. Students who have interests in American history, society, literature, or art, for example, but prefer not to major in a single discipline, such as English or History, are ideal candidates for the program. All students complete a core of American Studies courses (12 hours) that provides them with an overview of American history and society and introduces them to interdisciplinary study. In addition, each student designs, with the approval of the American Studies faculty advisor, a program of focused course work (21 hours) tailored to the student's interests and career goals. Students may choose to emphasize a particular area in American Studies, for example, or select other courses to develop a program focusing on a particular topic, such as the American West, the twentieth century, or American multi-culturalism. Of the focused course work, at least four courses (12 hours) must be at the upper division.

Students conclude the program with an exit project, developed with an individual faculty member, and approved by the faculty advisor. Exit projects may take a variety of forms; they can include internships, theses, or some similar kind of creative project. The purpose of the exit project is to help students to integrate the knowledge and skills that they have gained in the program. It also provides students with a means of exploring career interests before graduation.

Career outlook

The B.A. in American Studies teaches students to think and write critically, to conduct research, and to appreciate the changing and diverse nature of American life. American Studies graduates accordingly are well-equipped to embark on a wide variety of careers in government, education, business, museum and foundation work, law, journalism and other forms of professional writing, and in other areas where these capabilities are highly valued and sought. The program also serves as excellent preparation for law school and for graduate programs in fields such as American Studies, English, Journalism, History, and Art History. Most importantly, American Studies, by virtue of its interdisciplinary approach to the study of American cultures, systems, and lives, provides a rounded perspective, a chance to see issues and problems from a variety of angles. As such, it is ideally suited to careers in which research, analysis and planning play a central role.

Bachelor of Arts Degree in Spanish

Nature of program

The Spanish program consists of three tracks: language, literature, and cultures. These tracks are integrated within the discipline and with other disciplines within the College of Arts and Sciences. Spanish classes are taught through an intensive language approach using the most recent electronic technologies including videos, CD-ROMs, electronic chat groups, and news groups devoted to Hispanic literature and culture.

Spanish also offers credit for internships in social and business agencies. This school-to-work experience, in addition to offering the student an entry-level job opportunity, will provide stimulating linguistic and cultural rewards outside of the campus environment.

Career outlook

The Spanish major serves as excellent preparation for graduate school or for employment as a teacher in either the elementary or secondary school system, especially in those districts where bilingual programs are integral to the curricula. Outside the education system, students majoring in Spanish can find employment as translators and interpreters in social agencies, federal and state courts, the diplomatic corps, law enforcement agencies, and law firms. The business world also provides employment for those fluent in Spanish. This is especially true in the southwest, with its proximity to Mexico and through new outlets opened by the trilateral NAFTA agreement.

Major requirements

The Spanish Major consists of a minimum of 45 semester hours, of which at least 30 hours are in Spanish (SPA) courses and 15 are in related courses to be selected in consultation with an Arts and Sciences academic advisor. Of the 30 hours in Spanish, at least 24 upper division hours are required, with at least nine hours at the 400 level. A minimum grade of “C” (2.00) is required in all upper division courses in Spanish. First-year Spanish courses (SPA 101, 102) are not applicable to the major, but may be applied to the degree as electives.

The Department of Integrative Studies faculty offers an interdisciplinary Bachelor of Arts degree program in Integrative Studies, Minors in Mathematics and Philosophy, and courses in a number of areas that contribute to General Studies program requirements.

Bachelor of Arts Degree in Integrative Studies

Nature of program

The Bachelor of Arts degree in Integrative Studies enables students to design individualized programs of study for their academic, personal, and professional pursuits.

Integrative Studies emphasizes focused study in the liberal arts, the development of critical thinking skills, and the capacity to synthesize problem-solving strategies for life in the 21st century. In this program, students will work closely with dedicated faculty who have scholarly training and teaching interests in the sciences, social sciences, mathematics, arts, and humanities. Students learn from one another's life experiences and from the professional expertise of their faculty.

Career outlook

The Integrative Studies curriculum emphasizes advanced, interdisciplinary study combined with a concentration in a traditional disciplinary or professional area (e.g. English, communication studies, gerontology, history, psychology, prelaw, pre-MBA etc.). Students can tailor their academic programs to meet their individualized career goals. A capstone internship program prepares students to make the transition smoothly to post-baccalaureate employment in business, cultural, educational, community, and human service settings, as well as to graduate school. Students planning graduate or professional degrees in law, business, helping professions, or in traditional disciplinary areas will benefit from the flexibility of this program for a broad range of future academic and career pursuits.

Major requirements

The Integrative Studies major consists of 39-45 semester hours with a grade of "C" (2.00) or better.

Core courses

Twenty-one semester hours of course work are required.

1. IAS 300 Adult Career Development (L/SB)
2. IAS 420 Multicultural Autobiographies (L/HU, C) or
IAS 477 World Literature (L/HU, G)
3. IAS 484 Internship

Concentration

Working with the Integrative Studies faculty advisor, students will complete the coursework of a minor available at ASU West or create an individualized concentration.

Approved ASU West minor. Working with the Integrative Studies faculty advisor, students will select one of the minors available at ASU West (see page 82). Specific requirements for these minors are described in this catalog under the major field departments and are available from the IAS faculty advisor. The credits required in a minor vary by department. The courses taken to fulfill the concentration requirement may not be used to concurrently fulfill the requirements of a minor.

Individualized concentration. Working with the Integrative Studies faculty advisor, students may construct an individualized concentration of 18 upper division semester hours that has a coherent theme or purpose and fulfills intended general learning outcomes. Other options are a concentration of six literacy and critical inquiry General Studies (L) courses and the ASU West Writing Certificate Program.

Senior Project. The goal of any senior project should be to focus the body of course work undertaken in the IAP curriculum in an original creative work or comparable experience. This work may take the form of a performance (with the student as creator/producer and/or performer), or a written thesis, gallery exhibition, internship, media work or some other acceptable format.

Successful completion of a more demanding senior project for six semester hours is required for the student to graduate with departmental distinction.

Minor in Interdisciplinary Arts and Performance

The minor consists of 24 semester hours in the arts. Twelve of these must be at the upper division (IAP prefix). Six of the 12 upper division credits must be selected from a single concentration offered by the department. The other six credits must be from the IAP core courses. Twelve additional semester hours in applied arts are required.

The Minor and Certificate in Film and Video Studies explore theory and practice in the general field of the moving image. These interdisciplinary programs provide students the opportunity to develop interests, skills, and knowledge of the forms, channels, technologies, and histories of the media arts. Students may pursue focused interests in film studies or adopt a more generalized approach to visual media through television, film, and video. The Minor or Certificate Program is useful to students who may pursue careers in broadcasting, writing, and public relations, as well as degrees in production, film studies, media studies, performance studies, and communication studies.

Courses in the Minor/Certificate in Film and Video Studies are designed to:

- develop astute and discriminating critics and analysts of film and media arts;
- strengthen critical thinking through an awareness of the philosophical, aesthetic, political, and technological debates in film, media, and video studies;
- develop knowledge of the history of film, television, and the video arts as dynamic forces of social, cultural, and political expression; and
- develop practical skills that will enable students to be competitive in film, video, television, and media-related production industries.

Minor in Film and Video Studies

For the minor, students will select one of two areas of emphasis: Films Studies and Media and Video Studies. The Film Studies emphasis focuses on the impact of film and video. The Media and Video Studies emphasis is concerned with the rendering of film and video.

The Minor consists of 21 semester hours, 15 of which must be at the upper division level. A maximum of six semester hours of lower division coursework may be applied to the non-foundation coursework. Both emphases identify foundational courses and available elective courses as listed below. Students are required to include courses drawn from two or more different prefixes and complete IAP 480 which requires a capstone experience.

The Department of Life Sciences offers an interdisciplinary Bachelor of Science degree program in Life Sciences, including a premedical track, a minor in Life Sciences, and teacher training in the biological sciences.

Bachelor of Science Degree in Life Sciences

Nature of program

The intricate connections among environment, medicine, and human culture form the basis of the Life Sciences curriculum at ASU West. The Life Sciences major integrates traditionally separate areas within biological sciences, such as environmental biology and medicine, while drawing on the rich heritage of the American Southwest to illustrate the importance of cultural perspectives in science.

The Life Sciences major provides opportunities for students who wish to enhance their employment opportunities at the level of a Bachelor of Science degree, as well as for students who plan graduate training for careers in human or veterinary medicine, dentistry, biotechnology, and academic or environmental biology. Courses include a blend of basic and applied topics.

The Life Sciences Department has developed alliances with the Sun Health Research Institute, the Arizona Department of Game & Fish, Bolin Laboratories, Maricopa Environmental Health Services Department, Arizona Department of Environmental Quality, the Phoenix Zoo, and the Salt River Project that allow students to work with practicing scientists from those organizations. Students can work with faculty in the department to arrange volunteer or paid internships with these and other organizations in the community, tailored to the student's needs and interests.

The Life Sciences Department encourages undergraduate students to gain research experience in faculty laboratories, and full time students enrolled for at least three credits of individualized instruction may apply for Salt River Project Science Scholarships.

Environmental Specialist program. The Department of Life Sciences has developed a curriculum articulation with the Maricopa Community Colleges for students interested in employment in environmental biology. This articulation is a highly-structured eight-semester sequence (four semesters at a Maricopa Community College and four semesters at ASU West) leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in Life Sciences. A required internship is included, as are courses in Geology, Computer Science, Communication, and Ethics. For information call (602) 543-6050 to make an appointment with a Life Sciences advisor.

Premedical course articulations to medical degrees.

Medical colleges base admission decisions on a variety of factors, including GPA, the courses a student has taken, scores in required national exams, extracurricular activities, and hands-on experience. All medical colleges in the United States have extensive science course prerequisites, including lower division courses in chemistry, physics, and biology. Many medical colleges have additional course requirements, often including courses in psychology, communication, or math as well as upper division biology or biochemistry courses.

The Department of Life Sciences has worked with local medical colleges, other departments in the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Human Services, and the Maricopa Community Colleges to develop articulations of lower and upper division courses that satisfy the requirements of specific postbaccalaureate medical programs. Articulations are in place with two masters' level programs (Physician Assistant and Occupational Therapy) and one doctoral program (Physical Therapy) at the Arizona School of Health Sciences, with the Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine program at the Arizona College of Osteopathic Medicine (Midwestern University), and with the Doctor of Naturopathic Medicine program at the Southwest College of Naturopathic Medicine and Health Sciences. Students who complete the specified courses and satisfy admissions requirements receive preferred admission to these programs. For more information, make an appointment to talk with a Life Sciences advisor (602) 543-6050.

Career outlook

A degree in Life Sciences provides broad training in laboratory, data-gathering, writing, communication, quantitative, problem-solving, and critical thinking skills that prepare students for a wide variety of careers. Life Sciences students may enter careers in laboratory or field research, business, scientific journalism, publishing, teaching, and medicine.

Laboratory technician or research associate positions are available in university and government research laboratories, hospital and diagnostic laboratories, and pharmaceutical, biotechnology, agricultural, and food processing companies. Laboratory experience at the undergraduate level, available in laboratories on and off campus, will enhance employability in these areas.

Students who emphasize field studies may prepare themselves for entry level positions in private companies as well as state and federal agencies. These positions include wildlife biologist, environmental consultant, conservation officer, and pest control officer. Participation in volunteer or paid internships in government agencies or private companies as an undergraduate will provide the student with experience valuable to potential employers.

The Bachelor of Science degree is appropriate for students who wish to enter Master's and Doctoral programs in basic or applied areas of biology.

Major requirements

The Bachelor of Science in Life Sciences requires a minimum of 32 semester hours of upper division course work in the major (plus BIO 187 and 188), as well as a minimum of 19 semester hours of course work in Chemistry, Physics, and Mathematics. Cell Biology and Physiology Emphasis
 Ecology & Organismal Biology Emphasis
 Human Biology and Environment Emphasis

Cell Biology and Physiology emphasis

The Cell Biology and Physiology emphasis is especially appropriate for students who plan careers in any area of medicine, molecular biology, or biotechnology. Minor in Life Sciences

The minor consists of 23 hours in the life sciences, including BIO 187 General Biology I and BIO 188 General Biology II, LSC 300 Modes of Biological Thought, and 12 additional hours of courses with the prefixes BCH, BIO, LSC, MIC, or PLB offered by the Department of Life Sciences.

The Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences offers students the opportunity to enroll in traditional social and behavioral science courses (Anthropology, Family Studies, Geography, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology), as well as interdisciplinary courses. The faculty offers interdisciplinary Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degree programs in Social and Behavioral Sciences and Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degree programs in Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology.

Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science Degrees in Social and Behavioral Sciences

Nature of program

The Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science programs in Social and Behavioral Sciences provide an interdisciplinary foundation in the social and behavioral science disciplines. The objective of the Social and Behavioral Sciences degree program is to:

1. provide a basic understanding of the assumptions underlying the social and behavioral sciences;
2. develop the research skills necessary for the analysis of complex social issues;
3. offer a flexible program tailored to the career goals of the individual student; and
4. offer both individual and group experiences in working with faculty on concrete intellectual and policy issues.

The interdisciplinary program is designed to provide students with a substantive understanding of the theoretical assumptions and methodological techniques underlying the latter. Students can choose either a social science (ISS) or a behavioral science (IBS) emphasis. Each contains a number of course clusters: in the ISS emphasis they are titled Identity/Difference, Power/Knowledge and Local/Global; in the IBS emphasis they are titled Biological Foundations, The Individual and the Family, and The Individual and the Group. All courses provide students with knowledge about the biological and/or social principles related to the behavior of individuals across multiple social contexts and institutions (family, community, society, and culture). For further details, please contact the department.

Career outlook

The interdisciplinary degrees are an excellent means of creating a degree program that both matches the individual's interests and fulfills many employers' expectations of a baccalaureate degree, namely that it should expose the student to varied outlooks and challenges. Such a degree will be competitive in most situations where the disciplinary social and behavioral degrees are accepted and is advantageous when seeking entry to broad professional programs such as regional planning or urban studies.

Major requirements

The Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science in Social and Behavioral Sciences consists of 45 hours of required course work.

Students must select one of two emphases: Interdisciplinary Social Sciences or Interdisciplinary Behavioral Sciences. Each emphasis consists of:

Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science Degrees in Political Science

Nature of Program

The Political Science degree program is designed to help students gain an understanding of theory, practice and policy underlying political processes locally, nationally and internationally, as well as to train students in research skills necessary for the analysis of complex sociopolitical issues locally and globally. The program strives to meet these goals by offering students learner-centered coursework in political theory, American political institutions, and international relations and world affairs. These goals are accomplished by offering a flexible program of coursework focusing on international, urban, and race/ethnic sociopolitical areas, internships, and service-learning/action research opportunities. Under the direction of faculty, students throughout the degree program focus on intellectual and concrete policy issues in the greater Phoenix metropolitan area, the State of Arizona, the Arizona-Mexico borderlands, the Americas, and the world.

Career Outlook

The Political Science major provides students with the background and skills necessary to gain employment in a relevant profession or to continue their studies in graduate degree programs in political science, social science disciplines, urban planning, or professional schools. The baccalaureate degree in Political Science is also a good precursor to staff, manager, or policy analyst positions in local, state, and federal government. Some graduates work in the U. S. Foreign Service; as policy analysts/aides in Congress or in state legislatures; some are elected to those bodies. Alternate careers can be found in linking business interests and legislators. In addition, a Political Science degree is a recognized qualification for many careers in business (for profit and non-profit) and industry, particularly as firms become more global in scope. Some graduates may work in binational, cross-border positions linking U.S. and Mexican businesses, Arizona-Sonora local government, or local community groups on both sides of the border. Some students view a degree in Political Science as a valuable gateway to law school; many use the degree as a basis for further study in such applied fields as urban affairs/urban and regional planning, public administration, public policy, or community development.

Major requirements

The Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science consists of 42 semester hours, of which 12 are core requirements, 18 are Political Science electives, and 12 are electives in related fields or in POL internships. For the B.A., at least 15 hours in Political Science must be in upper division courses.

Nature of program

Psychology is the scientific study of the behavior and mental processes of individuals and groups. The ASU West program provides a diverse curriculum of basic and applied courses that cover multiple perspectives within the field, including clinical, cognitive systems/behavioral neuroscience, cross-cultural, developmental, organizational, and social psychology. Courses are presented in the context of cultural, sociohistorical, and transnational issues, enabling the student to understand the relationship between psychology and other social and behavioral sciences.

Students may add practical experiences to enrich their program of study through service learning, internships, and research with individual faculty members. A strong emphasis is placed on developing skills in critical thinking and reasoning, quantitative and qualitative research methods, and writing to round out the student's preparation for a career or graduate studies.

Career outlook

A baccalaureate degree in psychology is a logical choice for careers in the mental health professions, the social services, education, government, and many areas of business, (e.g., sales and marketing, human services management). It is also an excellent foundation for graduate study in fields such as public administration, law, family studies, communication, and the various programs of psychology such as clinical and counseling, developmental, environmental, experimental, physiological, cognitive neuroscience, and social.

Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science Degrees in Sociology

Nature of program

The Sociology program provides students with an understanding of theory, practice and policy underlying issues of social change and of inequality and diversity from multiple perspectives, including race/ethnicity, gender, economic position, age, geographic location and position in the global political economy. The student majoring in this degree will learn how sociology enhances one's understanding of social realities and institutions at local, national and international levels, and how sociology contributes to the other social sciences and to the humanities. Students gain a basic understanding of the assumptions underlying the discipline of sociology as well as develop research skills necessary for analysis of complex social issues. These are accomplished by offering a flexible program and by providing the student with both individual and group experiences in working with faculty on concrete intellectual and policy issues.

Career outlook

Graduates with a baccalaureate degree in sociology apply the sociological perspective to a wide variety of jobs in such sectors as business, the health professions, the criminal justice system, social services, and government. The discipline also offers valuable preparation for careers in journalism, politics, public relations, or public administration, all fields that involve investigative skills and an ability to work with diverse groups. Graduates with an advanced degree in sociology may become research analysts, survey researchers, gerontologists, statisticians, urban planners, community developers, criminologists, or demographers.

Major requirements

The Sociology major consists of 45 semester hours, of which 30-33 must be in sociology and 12-15 in closely related fields approved by the faculty advisor in consultation with the student. At least 18 semester hours must be in upper division courses. The 30 hours must include:

The curriculum includes courses offered by the Women's Studies Program and by other academic programs and departments throughout the university. Women's Studies courses can be used to fulfill the requirements of the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Minor, and Certificate in Women's Studies. The courses also fulfill General Studies requirements and serve as electives. Following are the goals of the Women's Studies Program:

- To provide the university and the community with academic programs of study and research that place women at the center of the university curriculum.
- To provide a model for interdisciplinary teaching and research with cross-cultural, national, and global perspectives on women.
- To generate and facilitate research on women's experience and the social construction of gender.

- To stand as a visible example of the university's commitment to improve the status of women.

Women's Studies offers the following academic programs:

B.A., B.S. Women's Studies

Ethnic Studies Program

Director: Gloria H. Cuádriz, Ph.D.
Program Coordinator: Hortencia Gutierrez
Location: FAB N204
(602) 543-6007

Nature of program

The Minor and Certificate in Ethnic Studies explore the study of ethnicity within the United States. The program is designed to foster direct linkages between the university and community through student participation in community-based internships that are a keystone to the program. With an emphasis on service learning that combines the acquisition of analytical skills from classroom instruction and work experience gained through community-based organization internships, students are placed at a significant advantage in acquiring jobs in the state and local labor market.

Courses in the Ethnic Studies minor and certificate are designed to:

1. address theoretical, analytical, and practical issues relevant to understanding race, culture, and ethnicity in American society from a comparative and interdisciplinary perspective;
2. enhance the student's critical thinking and writing skills through the study of ethnicity in the United States;

3. develop more effective skills for working in diverse communities through integration of service-learning experiences in course content; and
4. create collaborations among faculty, students, and community members to address concrete issues facing racial and ethnic groups in the United States.

This minor/certificate is designed for students who plan to work and live in ethnically diverse communities and seek to acquire the skills for understanding the complexities of race, class, and gender at a local or national level. It is expected that students in the minor/certificate program will be able to think both analytically and creatively about ethnicity in the United States. The minor or certificate is strongly recommended for students who plan to enter a wide variety of jobs in such sectors as business, the health professions, the criminal justice system, social services, education, public relations, community development, public policy, or government. It is also valuable for students preparing for further graduate study.

4. those who have taken the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). This requirement may be waived if the applicant has attended a graduate or professional school that required a standardized admission test.

Application. Application packets are available from the Office of Graduate Studies and the Master of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies Program Office. The Office of Graduate Studies at ASU West must receive the application, application fee and an official transcript from every university or institution attended before an application can be considered. GRE scores must be sent directly to ASU. On the appropriate program forms, letters of recommendation, a resume, a writing sample, and a personal statement must be sent to the program office. The application deadline is March 15 for fall semester.

Students may elect to take the degree in conjunction with the Graduate Certificate in Gerontology (see page 226).

The application, application fee, and transcripts should be sent to:

Nature of the program

The Bachelor of Applied Science (B.A.S.) is a flexible degree plan designed specifically to serve the additional education needs of students who have earned community college Associate of Applied Science (A.A.S.) degrees. The A.A.S. degree will transfer as a block to the university as meeting all graduation requirements beyond the B.A.S. requirements. B.A.S. students will then complete a 60 semester hour capstone program.

To be admitted to the B.A.S., students must complete an A.A.S. degree at a regionally accredited institution or an A.A.S. equivalent to be determined by the B.A.S. admissions committee. A student who is completing an A.A.S. degree may be granted conditional admission into the B.A.S. degree program. This conditional status is effective for one semester. An official transcript with the degree posted must be received by the B.A.S. program coordinator in order to register for subsequent semesters.

Career outlook

The B.A.S. degree is primarily intended to assist in job progression rather than initial job qualification. Achievement of a bachelor's degree may remove promotional ceilings that can limit advancement. The degree may also be of use to those who wish to make mid-career changes. Most of the students for whom the B.A.S. is designed have an occupational qualification by virtue of their A.A.S. degrees, and most will be employed in related areas. The B.A.S. curriculum can enhance the student's technical education and experience while providing the broader cognitive skills and perspective that are associated with baccalaureate education and are relevant in any working environment. With the assistance of an advisor, students will be able to tailor their programs to suit their personal or career objectives.

Admission

To be admitted to the B.A.S. degree program, students must have completed an Associate of Applied Science (A.A.S.) degree at a regionally accredited institution or an A.A.S. equivalent to be determined by the B.A.S. admissions committee.

Program requirements

The B.A.S. is comprised of the A.A.S. degree plus a 60 semester-hour capstone requirement. The 60 semester hours must all be upper division with the exception of the mathematics (MA) course if it is needed.

B.A.S. Core	21 semester hours
General Studies
Completion Curriculum	13 semester hours (minimum)
Concentration	18-21 semester hours
Electives	0-8 semester hours

Core requirements (21 semester hours). The goals of the B.A.S. core curriculum are (1) to provide an educational bridge between lower division and upper division programming, (2) to develop students' professional communication and quantitative skills, and (3) to hone students' critical and creative abilities. The B.A.S. core includes the following:

	Semester Hours

General Studies completion curriculum (minimum 13 semester hours). The B.A.S. curriculum is based on the assumption that the students have completed an A.A.S. degree program with a general studies component of approximately 18 hours. In order to complete the remainder of their university requirements, students will need to take one course in each of the following areas:

Cultural Diversity in the U.S. (C)
Global Awareness (G)
Historical Awareness (H)
Natural Science-General with lab (SG)

Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB):
Students may complete the SB requirement in conjunction with one of the other program requirements.

Mathematics (MA): Students may be required to take an MA course if the mathematics course included in the A.A.S. degree does not meet the criteria for MA. This course may be taken at the lower division.

Concentration (18-21 semester hours). In consultation with an advisor, the student will complete the course work of a minor available at ASU West (see page 82) or develop an individualized concentration that has a coherent theme or purpose and fulfills intended learning outcomes. Specific requirements for the minor are described in this catalog under the major field department. The semester hours required in a minor vary by department. The courses taken to fulfill the concentration requirement may not be used to concurrently fulfill the requirements of a minor. A minimum of nine upper division hours in the concentration area must be completed in residence at ASU West. Courses taken to fulfill the concentration requirement at ASU Main or ASU East must be chosen in consultation with and approved by the department offering that coursework.

Elective credit (0-8 semester hours). Electives, if needed, will be chosen to fulfill the 60 semester-hour requirement.

Other requirements. No credit is granted toward fulfilling major or concentration requirements in any upper division course unless the grade in that course is at least a "C" (2.00). Normally a "Y" (satisfactory) grade needs confirmation that it is equivalent to a "C" (2.00) or better.

Candidates for the B.A.S. degree program are not required to fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences proficiency requirements.
