There are two routes for becoming a secondary History Teacher:

1. Students majoring in History and Culture may concurrently complete teacher-certification courses offered by the School of Educational Innovation and Teacher Preparation, including courses in teaching history and social sciences.

EDP 311 Educational Psychology	SED 402 Secondary Methods
EDP 313 Adolescent Psychology	RDG 301 Content Area Literacy
SPE 222 Exceptional Child	EDC 474 Field Experience
ELL 415 Intro to Structured English Immersion	EDC 355 Accommodating Instructor
EDC 354 Educational Media	EDC 405 Classroom Management
SDE XXX Content Area Methods	SDE 484 Student Teaching
HTY 435 Methods of Teaching Secondary Social Studies &	EDC 425 Integrating Learning Experience IV: Advanced Mgt &
HTY 430 Methods of Teaching Secondary History	Professional Knowledge

2. Students may major in History & Culture and subsequently complete state certification requirements in Arizona or in another State. (Students planning to seek certification in another state should consult that state's requirements requirements for courses.)

Students preparing to teach secondary history are strongly encouraged to take courses in other related fields – anthropology, economics, geography, political science, religious studies, sociology, and women's studies. Secondary history teachers are often asked to teach in these areas.
