Admission Requirements:

In addition to a minimum 3.00 cumulative transfer GPA, students must meet one of the following for admission to the W. P. Carey Bachelor of Science degree program: SAT (math and critical reading sections only) score of 1160 or higher, OR an ACT composite score of 25 or higher, OR a high school class ranking in the top 8 percent, OR an overall high school GPA of 3.60 in ASU competency courses (A=4.00).

A cumulative transfer GPA includes all college coursework completed at regionally accredited institutions of higher education. Students are responsible for confirming all transfer transcripts are on file with ASU. For more information: https://transfer.asu.edu/credits

Only 64 credits are transferrable to ASU. Please refer to ASU Degree Search for information regarding readmissions requirements.

Personalized Tools and Services for All Students

Degree Search

Students want to find a degree and major that meets their interests, goals and preferred location. Degree Search [1] helps students find a major by searching on the name of a major, college, area of interest, campus and/or keyword. It also allows side-by-side degree/major comparison.

Major Maps

All students can view a major map for each major through Degree Search [1] or My ASU [2]. A major map is an eight-semester, optimal course plan that clearly outlines a recommended sequence of courses that enables students to graduate in four years. Critical requirements, GPA requirements and milestones that occur within the first four semesters are highlighted on the major map. ASU's automated tracking system (eAdvisor™) charts first-time, full-time freshmen students' progress on critical requirements, GPA requirements and milestones during their first four semesters.

Placement Testing

ASU is focused on helping students succeed in their academic goal: to earn their degree. One of the first critical steps to academic success is determining if each incoming student has the skill preparation necessary, particularly in math and English, to proceed with their degree program.

The purpose of placement testing is to ensure students are placed in the classes appropriate for their level of preparation and to make sure they get the skills they need to succeed from the beginning. If students begin classes they aren't prepared for, they will have difficulty with the new material and won't solidify their basic skills. If they are advanced in their skills, they need to be appropriately challenged.

Find out more about first-year math [3] and English [4] placement testing.

Data has shown that if students get on the right course towards graduation during their first four semesters, they are more likely to stay at ASU and earn their degree. Because of this, we have created an eAdvisor initiative that identifies our full-time freshmen, provides an optimal course plan and tracks their progress during the first four semesters. The following tools are available exclusively to eAdvisor students.

Progress Reports

All students can track their progress through an online graduation audit and unmet requirement audit available on My ASU [2]. Students can run an unmet degree audit that lists only the requirements they have not yet taken and need to complete in order to graduate. They can also view a complete list of all their degree requirements on a graduation audit, those they have completed as well as those they still need to complete. eAdvisor students have additional tools that allow them to track their progress toward completing critical requirements (required courses, grades or GPAs and milestones required to stay on track) on their major map, also on My ASU [2].

Academic Status Reports

Early intervention is key to student success when a student is struggling in a course. ASU students are alerted during the fifth and tenth weeks of the semester if they are in danger of receiving a D, E or Unsatisfactory grade in a class. Through My ASU [2], students receive suggested follow-up items and information about academic resources so they can get the help they need before it is too late. Some students need encouragement to commit more time to their studies, to locate tutoring services or to speak with the instructor about the course work and performance expectations. Even if a student did not receive a status report for a class, it is still a good idea to check with the instructor to see how they are doing in the class.

Online Access to Advising Committees

Each student's academic advising committee will help them set personal academic goals, understand policies and create strategies for staying on track towards graduation. The committee is listed on the student's My ASU [2] page. There is also information about how advising services work in the student's department and how to get answers to advising questions or make an appointment with an advisor. The ASU Academic Advising Directory [5] provides links to all the advising offices at ASU.

Holds and Tasks

The Holds and Tasks section of each student's My ASU Web page is dedicated to informing the student about academic holds and tasks they need to accomplish. An academic hold is placed on a student's record if the student is placed on academic probation or is off track, for instance. It restricts the student from registering for new classes and requires them to meet with their academic advisor. A task item will show up on My ASU when there is a task the student must complete, such as meeting a scholarship application deadline or checking their academic status report.

Unique Tools for eAdvisor™ Students

Data has shown that if students get on the right course towards graduation during their first four semesters, they are more likely to stay at ASU and earn their degree. Because of this, we have created an eAdvisor initiative that identifies our full-time freshmen, provides an optimal course plan and tracks their progress during the first four semesters. The following tools are available exclusively to eAdvisor students.

eAdvisor Status and Progress Reports

In addition to traditional progress reports, eAdvisor students can run a critical requirement audit and view their tracking status at any time during the semester. A student record may change multiple times during the semester because of dropped courses, transferred credit, completed milestones or changed majors. The system accounts for the changes to student records and updates the eAdvisor status, critical requirement audits and advising holds nightly.

E-mails from eAdvisor eAdvisor students receive e-mails regarding their progress. E-mails are sent to asu.edu e-mail addresses, so it is important that students check their ASU e-mail daily.

eAdvisor Holds and Tasks

eAdvisor will place important notes and reminders in these two sections of eAdvisor students' My ASU [2] page. If a student becomes off track, an advising hold will be placed on their record and while they may drop and withdraw from a course, they will not be able to add courses to the current semester. A student with off-track status will not be able to register for future fall and spring semesters until they have contacted their advisor and discussed strategies for getting back on track. Their advisor will then remove the hold.

Transcripts

Official and unofficial ASU academic transcripts are available through University Registrar Services.

Sending your transcripts to ASU? Contact Admissions [1] for mailing address information.

Official Transcripts

An official transcript is a copy of the student's permanent academic record issued by the University Registrar. It displays all courses taken for credit at ASU and includes all grades received. Unlike unofficial transcripts, it is signed and dated by the registrar and displays the ASU seal. Official transcripts are not issued for students with outstanding financial obligations to the university.

> For students that attended the Thunderbird School of Global Management prior to December 31, 2014, information on ordering official transcripts can be found here [2].

ASU cannot send official transcripts by email or fax.

University Registrar Services has partnered with Parchment, a digital credentials service, to manage the ordering, processing, and secure electronic delivery of your official ASU transcripts.

All students are encouraged to go online to place their transcript order. This is the easiest and most efficient way to place an order for either a traditional paper transcript or electronic transcript delivery.

Electronic Delivery of Official Transcripts

Official electronic transcripts may only be ordered using Parchment's online request system. Students choosing this option will identify their recipients by selecting them from a list within the ordering system or by providing the email address of their intended recipients.

To expedite and ensure accurate delivery, students should:

- Make sure the transcript recipient will accept the electronic transcripts, so they can avoid paying to send a replacement copy.
- Double check that the email address they provided for an institution or individual is correct, so they can avoid paying again to send a replacement electronic or paper copy.
- Provide their email addresses for notification purposes (the student's email address assists with tracking and confirming delivery by notifying the student when the transcript is sent and when it is received by the selected institution or individual).
- Instruct recipients to allow emails from Parchment (noreplyint@parchment.com [3]) to avoid potential problems with spam filters.

Orders are generally processed immediately, unless you request a hold for degree or grades.

The transcript is not delivered by email; the recipient's email address is used for notification and reminder messages regarding delivery of the student's transcript to a secure site where it can be accessed.
