Second Addendum

2019-2020

This document, published in November 2020, is a supplement to the Academic Catalog Archive 2019-2020 published in October 2019 and the Academic Catalog Archive Addendum published in November 2019. It is the record of policies and programs that experienced changes since the publication of the Academic Catalog Archive 2019-2020 and the first addendum. It also contains additional policies that were not provided within the Academic Catalog Archive 2019-2020 because information was unavailable at the time of publication.

This addendum is a printable publication for accreditation organizations, agencies and university offices for data collection, evaluation purposes and referencing. Academic advisors, faculty and current students should refer to the online version of the academic catalog.

To navigate this document version of the Academic Catalog Second Addendum 2019-2020, refer to the table of contents and the bookmarks provided.

(2) Students admitted to Barrett, the Honors College are assessed a $1,000 honors fee each fall and spring semester in addition to the tuition and fees presented above.

(3) The College of Nursing and Health Innovation post-bac BSN, the Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering Professional Flight program, and the ASU-Draper University Entrepreneurship Incubator Program will continue to maintain a separate program or class fee.

(4) All amounts shown in the Tuition and Fees Schedules or in other University publications or webpages represent tuition and fees as currently approved for the 2019-2020 academic year. Arizona State University reserves the right to increase or modify tuition and fees without prior notice, upon approval by the Arizona Board of Regents. Students should note that all tuition amounts and fees are subject to change at any time for correction of errors and may be adjusted at a future date.

(5) ASU's student government leaders, on behalf of the students they represent, have sought and received ABOR approval for the Health and Wellness fee, Student Athletics fee, Student Programs fee, Student Services Facility fee and Recreation fee. Funding from these fees will be used to enrich the student experience. Included with the Student-initiated fee is the Financial Aid Trust fee as authorized by the Arizona Legislature to create a Financial Aid Trust Fund.

(6) Summer tuition is billed per credit hour with no cap. The rates presented above are per session and if more than nine credits are taken in a session, tuition will be greater. To calculate the increase in tuition, add the tuition cost per credit hour for each additional hour taken to the tuition and fee total for nine hours.

Academic Programs (Descriptions and Requirements)

The following degree programs experienced a change for the 2019-2020 academic year. This change occurred after publication of the 2019-2020 academic catalog archive.

Graduate Certificates and Degree Programs

American Studies, MA (LAAMSTMA). Reorganization. Summer 2020.

Current Department: School of Social Transformation

Previous Department: School of Historical, Philosophical and Religious Studies

Computational Life Sciences, Certificate (LACMLSGRCT). Established. Fall 2019.

Online Degree Search Title: Computational Life Sciences (Graduate Certificate)

Campus: Tempe

Program Description:

Students in the computational life sciences graduate certificate program develop expertise in the understanding, interpretation and analysis of diverse data types generated from a variety of life sciences disciplines, including ecology, botany, evolutionary biology, neuroscience, molecular and cellular biology, and animal behavior.

Degree Requirements:

16 credit hours including a portfolio.

Required Core (1 credit hour)

BIO 611 Current Topics in Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR) in Life Sciences (1)

Electives (15 credit hours)

Culminating Experience (0 credit hours)
portfolio (0)

Additional Curriculum Information

Elective coursework is selected from a restricted list in consultation with the academic unit.

Admission Requirements:

Applicants must fulfill the requirements of both the Graduate College and The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Applicants are eligible to apply to the program if they have earned a bachelor's or master's degree in life sciences or related field from a regionally accredited institution.

Applicants must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") in the last 60 hours of their first bachelor's degree program, or applicants must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") in an applicable master's degree program.

Applicants are required to submit:

- graduate admission application and application fee
- official transcripts
- written statement
- proof of English proficiency

Additional Application Information

An applicant whose native language is not English must provide proof of English proficiency regardless of current residency.

The written statement should discuss the applicant's future career goals, to better assist the student with selecting the most applicable set of courses in computational life sciences.

International students who need an F1 or J1 visa first need to apply to and be accepted into a graduate degree program prior to being considered for the certificate program. International students residing in the U.S. on other types of visas must adhere to all Graduate College policies and procedures regarding admission to be considered for admission to this certificate program.

Global Affairs and Management – Executive, MA (TBGAMEMA). Established. Spring 2020.

Online Degree Search Title: Global Affairs and Management - Executive, MA

Campus: ASU@Washington, D.C.

Program Description:

The MA program in global affairs and management with an executive focus was developed to help globally-mindful mid-career professionals in the private, public and not-for-profit sectors take their careers to the next level. This transdisciplinary program prepares students with the tools and insights to address complex issues in global affairs and business, while being socially responsible. It prepares graduates for executive leadership positions within their existing organizations or to make a bold move in their careers by switching industries entirely. Students acquire competencies in political economy, international relations, global leadership, digital transformation and cross-cultural communications. They can focus in global public policy, global business or global law.

The flexible schedule is designed to offer busy professionals the flexibility they require in order to take on a challenging program while maintaining a demanding full-time job. The program allows students to earn a master's degree from the world's top global leadership and management school in as little as one year, so that they can immediately put their newly acquired skills to work and leverage Thunderbird's global network of over 45,000 alumni to advance their career goals.

Degree Requirements:

30 credit hours including the required capstone course (TGM 545).

Required Core (3 credit hours)

TGM 575 Global Affairs Theory (3)

ASU is not currently accepting applications for this program. Students interested in global leadership and strategy should apply to the executive global leadership and strategy program (<https://webapp4.asu.edu/programs/t5/majorinfo/ASU00/TBGLSXMGSL/graduate/false>).

Program Description:

The MGLS is a global cohort executive leadership and strategy program that centers on development of advanced capabilities to conceptualize and deliver profitable growth along with the competencies to lead strategy execution efforts in a complex and dynamic global environment. This innovative program closely patterns executive decision realities by orienting around key themes that naturally flow, from the macro to the micro, global to local, public to private, interweaving relevant disciplines to address the pressing issues executives face. It is transdisciplinary in both approach and execution.

The Master of Global Leadership and Strategy program combines thematically anchored content with field-deployed experiential learning projects (alternating between developed and emerging markets) that allow participants to interact first-hand with leaders who shape policy and industry and to demonstrate executive acumen through action and response simulation, sprint consultancy engagement, and innovation challenge delivery. The result is a deeply innovative, action-oriented, global executive education experience.

Global Management (Digital Audience Strategy), MGM (TBGMDASMGM). Established.
Fall 2019.

Online Degree Search Title: Global Management (Digital Audience Strategy), MGM

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

The World Economic Forum reports that empathy and collaboration are two critical abilities for a global manager's success. These abilities rely on the development of social capital, and they are equally critical for those seeking careers in digital audience strategy. This program is designed to develop social capital through field-based action learning, team-based projects and stretch assignments. Students have the ability to build sustainable trusting relationships --- the basis of social capital --- with others from diverse parts of the world by developing intercultural empathy, the ability to have an interpersonal impact and the ability to lead with diplomacy.

Digital marketing is expected to have an 11% compound annual growth through 2021 (Forbes). Similarly, advances in technology have brought programming and data analysis within reach for far less technically trained individuals. This has created a new class of hybrid jobs that combine digital skills with marketing and design (Burning Glass). In response to this trend, Thunderbird School of Global Management has designed the digital audience strategy concentration within the MGM degree program in collaboration with the Walter Cronkite School

Digital Reach. Global Impact

The target audience for the concentration is comprised of students interested in augmenting their digital skills in the areas of marketing, design and product development. Through a collaborative sequence of courses offered in partnership with other ASU colleges, students are able to combine the global management skills found in graduates of the traditional Master of Global Management with digital expertise.

Strong quantitative and qualitative research methods provide the foundation of effective digital audience strategy, and graduates of the program master the ability to conduct research to identify and reach target audiences and to demonstrate returns on investments.

The research used to identify and reach target audiences through digital audience strategy includes traditional and emerging methods such as real-time website and social media audience analysis, social network analysis, search engine optimization analysis, surveys, focus groups and competitive analysis. Graduates master a range of methods to inform strategy for specific outcomes.

This concentration is perfect for students who are interested in expanding and refining their digital skills in the areas of marketing, design and product development to complement a strong core of global leadership and management skills. A Master of Global Management from Thunderbird with a concentration in digital audience strategy prepares graduates to take on leadership roles around the world in industries such as entertainment, journalism, public relations, marketing and many others.

Thunderbird School of Global Management has produced unique leaders for more than 70 years, leaders in every sector capable of tackling the world's greatest challenges. The alumni network comprises 45,000 graduates and 170 chapters around the globe.

Global Management (Global Development and Innovation), MGM (TBGMGDIMGM).
Established. Fall 2019.

Online Degree Search Title: Global Management (Global Development and Innovation), MGM

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

Recent research reveals that graduate programs in international development are in high demand. In fact, Devex found that the master's in international development was No. 3 in their survey of most demanded degrees (Devex, 2016). In a study of international development graduates in Canada, researchers found that over 86% of graduates were employed (Tiessen and Cameron, 2017).

In order to meet this current demand, Thunderbird created the development and innovation concentration within the MGM degree program. Offered in collaboration with the School for the Future of Innovation in Society (<https://sfis.asu.edu/school-future-innovation-society>), the Master of Global Management in global development and innovation prepares global leaders to leverage innovation strategies to tackle development and planetary challenges. The ability to access the tremendous resources available throughout ASU for a truly customizable and transdisciplinary education sets this degree program apart.

This unique academic concentration is relevant to development practitioners who seek to complement their skills and experience and to those interested in pursuing careers in international development agencies within and beyond government as well as in nongovernmental organizations and community organizations at local, national and international levels.

Graduates are equipped with the analytical and practical skills and experience needed to engage critically as leaders in issues around innovation and development and to work across the intersections of innovation, development policy and global management. They are prepared to make a positive impact as a leader alongside the school's global alumni network of 45,000 other leaders who are making a difference. Graduates have opportunities around the world to tackle some of humanity's most difficult and urgent challenges. They are on the frontline working as leaders, making a difference and advancing Thunderbird's vision of a world with inclusive and sustainable prosperity.

Program Description:

Digital marketing is expected to have an 11% compound annual growth through 2021 (Forbes). Similarly, advances in technology have made programming and data analysis accessible to individuals with less advanced technical training. This has created a class of hybrid jobs that combine digital skills with marketing and design (Burning Glass). The World Economic Forum, Future of Jobs Survey and the Jobs of the Future report by

McKinsey Global Institute 2017 listed transdisciplinary, new media literacy and virtual collaboration as important job skills for the future.

In response to this trend, Thunderbird has designed the global digital transformation concentration within the MGM degree program.

This concentration is offered to students interested in augmenting their digital skills in the areas of marketing, design and product development. Through collaborative courses offered in partnership with other ASU colleges, students may combine the global management skills of the Master of Global Management with digital expertise to create a dual specialization that will continue to be in high demand throughout the global economy.

The World Economic Forum reports that empathy and collaboration are two critical abilities for a global manager's success. Digital transformation is a field that is highly sought after. However, technical skills need to be supplemented with a strong repertoire of leadership and collaboration skills. The Master of Global Management program with a concentration in global digital transformation expands students' choices of electives and fuses technological skills with managerial skills. In this concentration, students combine the global management skills of the Master of Global Management with digital expertise by specializing in the various pathways of global digital transformation through program coursework.

Global Management (Global Health Care Delivery), MGM (TBGMGHDMGM). Established. Fall 2019.

Online Degree Search Title: Global Management (Global Health Care Delivery), MGM

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

Students gain practical skills and hands-on experience in both global management and health care delivery. Due to the aging population of the U.S. and the world, many careers of the future will involve health care services, including health care management and delivery. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics predicts that careers in the field of medical and health care management will grow 20% between 2016-2026. The Bureau also estimates the median annual wage for health care managers is almost twice that of the U.S. median, making these leadership positions not only lucrative but impactful.

This MGM concentration allows graduates to meet the growing need for skilled health care managers who possess a solid foundation of international business skills and a global mindset.

The Master of Global Management program with a concentration in global health care delivery is designed for current or aspiring executives and managers in health care who would like to hone their leadership and business skills to position themselves for careers leading health care organizations around the world. Some health care practitioners, such as nurses and doctors, may also use the degree as a way to move from clinical practice into management roles.

The concentration in global health care delivery addresses the current and future needs of the management workforce in the health care industry globally, including C-suite executives and administrators, health care providers (physicians, physician assistants, nurse practitioners and nurses), frontline staff (respiratory therapists, occupational therapists, physical therapists and dietitians) and students in medical disciplines. Students master core and advanced skills in designing systems, processes and mechanisms used to optimize health care delivery anywhere in the world. In addition, students integrate evidence-based financial principles geared toward improved individual and population health outcomes, such as leadership strategies in change management, for example.

This concentration is offered in collaboration with the College of Health Solutions. <https://chs.asu.edu/>

Global Management (Global Legal Studies), MGM (TBGMGLSMGM). Established. Fall 2019.

Online Degree Search Title: Global Management (Global Legal Studies), MGM

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

Jobs in the legal professions are expected to grow 9% between 2020 and 2026 (Bureau of Labor Statistics 1). However, many legal firms are consolidating and outsourcing legal processing and support (Kane, 2018). As the demand for lawyers decreases, a converse increase in support services is expected (BLS 1). Similarly, nonlegal management careers increasingly require knowledge of the law. From human resources to procurement, professionals with strong foundational knowledge of global legal issues are in demand.

To meet this market need, Thunderbird has designed the global legal studies concentration within the MGM degree program.

The concentration is designed for students with a desire to work in areas requiring knowledge of global legal issues but who may not want to be lawyers. Other students may use this concentration as an introduction to legal studies before pursuing law school. In this Master of Global Management program, students gain transdisciplinary global management and legal expertise that open doors in multiple sectors within organizations operating around the world. This concentration is offered in collaboration with the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law: <https://law.asu.edu/> (<https://law.asu.edu/>).

The first step in understanding and applying laws is developing an understanding of basic legal principles and then using those principles to identify and analyze relevant legal issues. The foundational courses of the Master of Global Management with a concentration in global legal studies lead to mastery of the relevant legal principles while developing legal analysis skills, mainly through case briefings, such as identifying a particular case's legal issue, articulating the legal rule, discussing the court's analysis and concluding. These legal analysis skills are tested on final exams in the foundational courses through hypothetical fact scenarios. Students gain and master the ability to understand legal principles --- the basis of legal analysis --- and to apply them in their field of interest.

The Master of Global Management program with a concentration in global legal studies is perfect for students who desire to work in public, private or nonprofit sector roles within an organization that operates around the world or has an international scope.

Thunderbird School of Global Management has produced unique leaders for more than 70 years, leaders in every sector capable of tackling the world's greatest challenges. The alumni network comprises 45,000 graduates and 170 chapters around the globe.

Global Management (Nonprofit Leadership and Management), MGM (TBGMNLMGM). Established. Fall 2019.

Online Degree Search Title: Global Management (Nonprofit Leadership and Management), MGM

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

In 2014, nonprofit organizations contributed $977 billion to the U.S. economy (Gaddy, 2016). Similarly, nonprofit leadership and management jobs grew 6.4% from 2016 to 2017 (EMSI, 2018). Not surprisingly, today's graduates are demanding careers that both pay well and are purpose-driven (Field, 2017). Nonprofit organizations around the world are poised to meet the double-bottom line mentality of millennials. Thunderbird has created the nonprofit leadership and management concentration within the MGM degree program to prepare students for these roles.

Because the lines between the functions of nonprofit and for-profit organizations are increasingly blurry, Thunderbird's renowned faculty has designed a curriculum that is cross-sectoral and transdisciplinary in nature, tailored for students aspiring to leadership roles in global nonprofit institutions in which they can leverage their business and global management lenses in their work.

This unique concentration in nonprofit leadership and management within the Master of Global Management program provides students with an understanding of the nonprofit sector's role in the global economy and with knowledge applicable to those who wish to lead and manage these organizations. Offered in collaboration with ASU's Watts College of Public Service and Community Solutions <https://publicservice.asu.edu/> (<https://publicservice.asu.edu/>), students take courses in nonprofit leadership and management through the Watts College. Students learn to evaluate and articulate the historical and philosophical context of nonprofit organizations in society, the theory and practice of philanthropy, and learn financial management practices.

Thunderbird School of Global Management has produced unique leaders for more than 70 years, leaders in every sector capable of tackling the world's greatest challenges. The alumni network comprises 45,000 graduates and 170 chapters around the globe.

Program Description:

Solutions for the Planet and Industry

The Thunderbird MGM program with a concentration in sustainability solutions prepares students for the professions of the future. In this concentration, students earn a degree that benefits their career and the planet. There is an accelerating demand for leaders with a global mindset who possess expertise in sustainability, understand how to apply its principles and technology in approaching problems, and know how to work with and draw from different disciplines to develop practical solutions to the world's most urgent sustainability challenges.

The World Economic Forum reports that empathy and collaboration are two critical abilities for global manager success. These are equally critical for those seeking careers in sustainability solutions. These abilities rely on the development of social capital. This program is designed to develop a student's social capital through field-based action learning, team-based projects and stretch assignments. Students have the ability to build sustainable trusting relationships --- the basis of social capital ---with others from diverse parts of the world by learning techniques and methods of developing intercultural empathy, the ability to have interpersonal impact, and to act with diplomacy when influencing others. This concentration is offered in collaboration with ASU's School of Sustainability.

Doing Well by Doing Good with a Degree

Research shows that more than 40% of executives want to align their company's goals with sustainability principles. In the same survey, chief executive officers identified sustainability as a top priority (McKinsey, 2014). Governments are also increasingly recognizing the importance of sustainability. This has led the United Nations to outline sustainable development goals for 2030, an effort that many multinational corporations, nonprofit organizations and state entities have pledged to join. As sustainability gains more traction, knowledge in this area will become increasingly attractive to employers. Thunderbird has designed the sustainability solutions concentration to prepare students for these new organizational norms and to capitalize on the need for expert leadership in this rapidly growing profession.

Thunderbird School of Global Management has produced unique leaders for more than 70 years, leaders in every sector capable of tackling the world's greatest challenges. The alumni network comprises 45,000 graduates and 170 chapters around the globe.

Global Management (Sustainable Tourism), MGM (TBGMSTMGM). Established. Fall 2019.

Online Degree Search Title: Global Management (Sustainable Tourism), MGM

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

Recent research indicates that 1 in 10 people are employed in a tourism-related job (World Economic Forum, 2017). Another study showed that travelers are more likely to visit places if there are sustainable practices in place (Mandala, 2017). In addition, governments are recognizing the importance of sustainability, leading the United Nations to outline sustainable development goals. As the tourism industry continues to adopt eco-tourism and suitability practices, a new set of skills is needed.

Solutions for the Planet and the Tourism Industry

Thunderbird's MGM program with a concentration in sustainable tourism prepares students for management and executive-level positions in the tourism industry globally. Offered in collaboration with ASU's Watts College of Public Service and Community Solutions (<https://publicservice.asu.edu/>), Thunderbird's sustainable tourism concentration addresses the unique character of the sustainability revolution. It prepares graduates to transform the sustainability practices of global enterprises in tourism development and management.

The target audience for the program is students interested in working in sustainable tourism, hospitality, travel and related fields. The concentration in sustainable tourism opens up a world of opportunities, allowing students to take courses in sustainable tourism from ASU's Watts College of Public Service and Community Solutions at the Downtown Phoenix campus, located in the heart of the state capital's business district.

Students specialize in sustainable tourism management, mastering the principles and practices of successful sustainable development in the tourism field. Students learn to integrate economic, social and environmental aspects of sustainability as it relates to tourism; conduct sustainability audits for destinations and businesses; evaluate community impacts of tourism; innovate and evaluate sustainable tourism practices; and perform business planning and management. Students receive specialized, hands-on training in international business, cross-cultural relations, global political economy, and regional business environments.

This sustainable tourism concentration prepares students to work in the tourism industry globally. Graduates enter their profession ready to oversee initiatives in research, development, implementation, execution and evaluation of sustainable tourism plans for businesses and destinations.

Graduates are prepared to enter today's complex and exciting global economy able to work in and lead organizations that desire employees with global management and sustainable tourism skills. They join a global network of Thunderbird alumni who hold leadership positions in global organizations worldwide.

With their global mindset, future-ready core professional skills, mastery of management principles, and multicultural outlook, students are prepared for leadership roles in organizations with a global scope. Potential employers include international tour operators as well as cities and venues around the world that host guests from all over the globe.

Thunderbird School of Global Management has produced unique leaders for more than 70 years, leaders in every sector capable of tackling the world's greatest challenges. The alumni network comprises 45,000 graduates and 170 chapters around the globe.

Health Care Simulation, MS (NUHCSMS). Establishment. Spring 2020.

Online Degree Search Title: Health Care Simulation, MS

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

The expanding use of simulation education in health care demonstrates the need and the opportunities to educate innovative leaders in experiential learning strategies. Simulation provides an effective learner-centered methodology for health care professionals to practice across the continuum of care.

Incorporating deliberate practice for skill mastery, students develop effective critical-thinking, refinement of interprofessional competencies and ethical and compassionate behaviors. In the MS program in health care simulation, students demonstrate the ability to influence the design, operations and evaluation of educational health care simulation in academic or practice settings. Students have learning opportunities to develop evidence-based scenario design, use technology-enhanced environments replicating real patient experiences with life-like high fidelity computer manikins or standardized patients (trained actors), and employ operations techniques. This program provides students the opportunity to learn and work with their peers and with faculty and leaders from multiple disciplines such as health care, sociology, technology, the arts and public policy

Online Degree Search Title: International Affairs and Leadership, MA

Campus: ASU@Washington, D.C.

This program is not currently accepting applications. The anticipated launch date for the program is Fall 2021.

Program Description:

The MA in international affairs and leadership offered by The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the McCain Institute prepares students for international leadership roles in a dynamic active learning environment led by senior international affairs professionals from the public and private sectors. Drawing on the legacy of values-driven leadership embodied by Senator John McCain, the McCain Institute's access and connectivity in the international community, and ASU's extensive academic capacity, students acquire a distinctive edge to succeed in the full spectrum of international affairs professions.

Degree Requirements:

36 credit hours including the required applied project course (IAL 560).

Required Core (9 credit hours)

IAL 501 Principles of Character-Driven Leadership (3)

IAL 502 The Making of U.S. National Security Policy (3)

IAL 503 Applied International Leadership: Case Studies (3)

Electives (21 credit hours)

Other Requirement (3 credit hours)

IAL 584 Internship (3)

Culminating Experience (3 credit hours)

IAL 560 Capstone (3)

Admission Requirements:

Applicants must fulfill the requirements of both the Graduate College and The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Applicants are eligible to apply to the program if they have earned a bachelor's or master's degree in any field from a regionally accredited institution.

Applicants must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") in the last 60 hours of a student's first bachelor's degree program, or applicants must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") in an applicable master's degree program.

Applicants are required to submit:

- graduate admission application and application fee
- official transcripts
- letter of intent
- professional resume
- writing sample
- proof of English proficiency

Additional Application Information

An applicant whose native language is not English must provide proof of English proficiency regardless of current residency.

Applicants are encouraged to have a foundational understanding of microeconomics and macroeconomics prior to starting the program.

GRE or GMAT results are not required but can be submitted as an additional application material.

Applicants should have a deep-rooted interest in international issues of the future and a desire to influence them through character-driven leadership within the context of an increasingly complicated, globalized world. Ideal candidates are those who have previous leadership experience and who plan to devote their careers to working with other cultures and nations across a variety of sectors. While an ideal candidate has previous experience traveling or living overseas and has previously studied a language other than English, we also welcome candidates with no prior experience in these areas. Both international and domestic students are encouraged to apply.

Using the letter of intent, applicants should narrate their own leadership journeys as well as their motivations for further studies in the areas of international affairs and leadership. The letter of intent should describe applicants' academic and professional interests to date, their definitions of character-driven leadership, their reasons for pursuing a master's degree in International Affairs and Leadership, and how this advanced degree relates to their specific future goals.

The application review panel also reviews the applicant's writing skills. Successful applicants must be able to tell a concise, coherent story about their past experiences and future goals.

Global Management (TBTGMCERT). Establishment. Fall 2019.

Campus: Downtown Phoenix, West

Description:

Research from McKinsey and Company, a highly respected consulting firm, indicates that in the near future, almost 40% of the growth globally will result from just 400 cities in emerging markets around the world. This certificate program in global management provides broad-based training in global business and global studies that helps prepare students for a global management career. It offers unique courses that integrate an in-depth understanding of the political, economic and cultural aspects of doing business in specific regions with tools to assess business trends in specific countries.

Thunderbird School of Global Management has produced unique leaders for more than 70 years. Home to the Bachelor of Global Management and Bachelor of International Trade, the school's innovative and practical curriculum complements a strong core of global business management skills, international political economy and cross-cultural training, with a transdisciplinary approach. The alumni network has over 45,000 graduates across 170 chapters around the globe.

Program Requirements:

The global management certificate requires a minimum of 18 credit hours as outlined below, with a minimum of 12 upper-division credits. Students are encouraged to take courses that develop breadth within their sector rather than limiting their selection to courses in one particular subject area.

Required Course -- 3 credit hours

TGM 101: Principles of Global Management (G) (3)

It is recommended that students take TGM 101 prior to or concurrently with other TGM courses.

Electives -- 15 credit hours

TGM 204: Principles of Marketing for Global Organizations (3)

TGM 300: Principles of Finance for Global Organizations (3)

TGM 310: Supply Chain Operations for Global Organizations (3)

TGM 312: Big Data in the Global Economy (3)

TGM 353: Asia Region (G) (3)

TGM 353: Latin America Region (G) (3)

TGM 468: States and Markets in a Global Economy (SB & G) (3)

TGM 478: Cross-Cultural Communication and Negotiation (3)

TGM 487: Global Entrepreneurship (3)

TGM 489: Multinational Organizational Leadership (3)

Depending on a student's undergraduate program of study, prerequisite courses may be needed in order to complete the requirements of this certificate.

Study abroad or international experience is encouraged but not required. Consider ASU Study Abroad (<https://studyabroad.asu.edu/>) opportunities.

Enrollment Requirements:

A student pursuing an undergraduate certificate must be enrolled as a degree-seeking student at ASU. Undergraduate certificates are not awarded prior to the award of an undergraduate degree. A student already holding an undergraduate degree may pursue an undergraduate certificate as a nondegree-seeking graduate student.

International Trade (TBINTRCERT). Establishment. Fall 2019.

Campus: Downtown Phoenix, West

Description:

International trade is increasingly important in this globalized economy, but also increasingly challenging. The International Monetary Fund predicts that most of the world's economic growth in the next decade will take place in the largest emerging markets, which are not always easy for companies and nonprofit organizations to penetrate. Most of the world's consumers are outside of the United States. Given these trends, organizations across sectors that operate in multiple countries are increasingly in need of managers who understand the complexities of the global economy.

The certificate program in international trade provides students with an understanding of foreign markets and the intricacies of international trade, laying the foundation for a career that can take them anywhere in the world.

Thunderbird School of Global Management has produced unique leaders for more than 70 years, leaders in every sector capable of tackling the world's greatest challenges. Home to the Bachelor of Global Management and Bachelor of International Trade, the school's innovative and practical curriculum complements a strong core of global business management skills, international political economy, and cross-cultural training, with a transdisciplinary approach. Freshmen students applying to the Herberger Institute School of Art enter ASU as art exploratory majors in the School of Art. There is no portfolio review process at the time of admission to ASU for freshmen.

Typically, students in their second year interested in studio art and art education submit a portfolio for review once they have completed their core requirements and are completing the last of the 12 hours of 200-level art requirements, or if they are interested in art history or museum studies they submit a declaration form in the semester in which they complete 30 hours.

Art (Photography), BFA (FAARTPHBFA). Admission Requirements Change. Fall 2019.

Current Admission Requirements:

There is no portfolio review process for admission to the School of Art. Usually in their second semester, after completing either ART 204 Black & White or ART 205 Color Photography, photography majors submit a portfolio to continue in the degree program.

Previous Admission Requirements:

All art students are admitted to ASU into the Bachelor of Arts (art studies) program. They must complete a series of requirements that include foundational coursework to be eligible for study in one of the school's Bachelor of Fine Arts degree programs, which include upper-division coursework in the studio. There is no portfolio review process for admission to the School of Art.

Students in their second year who are interested in studio art and art education obtain a signed BFA declaration form after completing the core requirements and during completion of the last of the 12 hours of 200-level art requirements. Students interested in art history or museum studies submit a major declaration form in the semester in which they complete 30 credit hours. The student's major is changed upon successful completion of the major declaration form. Students may choose to remain in and complete the Bachelor of Arts (art studies).
