Students may fulfill major requirements by choosing one or more focus area. Each focus area will require 12 credit hour of coursework that combines required courses (3-6 credit hours) and recommended electives (3-9 credit hours). See course lists for elective requirements. Required courses for each focus area include:

Public Relations, Risk, and Strategic Communication focus area: COM 415 Risk Communication AND COM 454

Rhetorical and Critical Approaches to Public Relations

Media, Culture, and Social Technology focus area: COM 124 Media and Culture AND COM 457 New Media.

Dialogue, Relationships, and Communities focus area: COM 312 Communication, Conflict and Negotiation OR COM 463 Intercultural Communication in a Global Context

Communication Training and Mentoring focus area: COM 383 Communication and Mentoring AND COM 453

Communication Training and Development

Sport Communication focus area: COM 294 Sport Communication OR SOC 220 Sport and Society AND COM 477 Sport, Culture and Discourses

Students can take up to 6 credit hours in the Major Electives from courses designated as COM Experiential Electives. An additional 6 credit hours of Experiential Electives may be taken outside the major, for a total of no more than 12 credit hours of Experiential Electives to be used towards graduation. No more than 6 credit hours of COM 498 may be used to meet major requirements. See an academic advisor prior to enrollment.

- Meet with your academic advisor for final degree check and apply for graduation through your My ASU.
- Students seeking VEE Accreditation, select an elective from the course list in the note at the bottom of the major map.

- All students pursuing a BS or BSP degree in The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must complete two courses from the Science and Society list found at <https://thecollege.asu.edu/resources/science-society>. At least one of the two courses must be upper-division and students must earn a C or better in the courses. Both Science and Society courses (i.e., all six credits) may count towards any major, minor, related fields, and ASU General Studies requirements.
- The object of the degree is to prepare students to sit for exams to gain certification as an actuary. One of the optional certifications that individuals may pursue is completion of the VEE requirements from the Society of Actuaries or the Casualty Actuarial Society. This certification requires additional experience not covered in the maximum credits allowed for the degree.

However, students may decide to include these additional courses in their 12 hours of elective credit. ASU courses that meet VEE requirements include:

- STP 427 - requirement for Mathematical Statistics (Prerequisite(s): ACT 415 or STP 421 with C or better; STP 281 or 420 with C or better)
- ECN 211 and ECN 212 - sequence requirement for Economics
- FIN 300 - requirement for Fundamentals of Finance (Prerequisite(s) with C or better: ACC 231, 232 or 261; ECN 212; ECN 221, ECN 231, IEE 380 or STP 280; MAT 211, 266 or 271; Non-Business: min 2.50 GPA; min 56 hours; Pre- or corequisite(s): ACC 241, 242 or 271; Credit allowed for only FIN 300, 302 or 303)

Notes:

- Please keep in mind that the applicability of a specific transfer course toward an ASU degree program depends on the requirements of the department, division, college or school in which you are enrolled at ASU. Transfer agreements that guarantee the completion of university level requirements do not necessarily meet college and major requirements. Please consult with an advisor for more information.

In order to complete the requirements of this program, some laboratory courses will be completed in-person at the Tempe Campus.

These laboratory courses will be offered during summer. This may impact your financial aid. Financial aid is available to those who apply and qualify, and students may receive funds to help cover costs for each semester of enrollment. The amount of financial aid that a student is eligible for varies depending on prior education experience and other individual factors. In order to complete the requirements of this program, some laboratory courses will be completed in-person at the Tempe Campus.

These laboratory courses will be offered during summer. This may impact your financial aid. Financial aid is available to those who apply and qualify, and students may receive funds to help cover costs for each semester of enrollment. The amount of financial aid that a student is eligible for varies depending on prior education experience and other individual factors. Learn more about summer financial aid and additional ways to cover summer costs.

- All students pursuing a BS or BSP degree in The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must complete two courses from the Science and Society list found at <https://thecollege.asu.edu/resources/science-society>. At least one of the two courses must be upper-division and students must earn a C or better in the courses. Both Science and Society courses (i.e., all six credits) may count towards any major, minor, related fields, and ASU General Studies requirements.

LABSCMBS

In order to complete the requirements of this program, some laboratory courses will be completed in-person at the Tempe Campus.

These laboratory courses will be offered during summer. This may impact your financial aid. Financial aid is available to those who apply and qualify, and students may receive funds to help cover costs for each semester of enrollment. The amount of financial aid that a student is eligible for varies depending on prior education experience and other individual factors. Learn more about summer financial aid and additional ways to cover summer costs.

- All students pursuing a BS or BSP degree in The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must complete two courses from the Science and Society list found at <https://thecollege.asu.edu/resources/science-society>. At least one of the two courses must be upper-division and students must earn a C or better in the courses. Both Science and Society courses (i.e., all six credits) may count towards any major, minor, related fields, and ASU General Studies requirements.

Upper Division Elective	3
★ Minimum 2.00 GPA in MAT and STP.
Term hours subtotal:	12

- Minimum grade of C required in all MAT and STP classes; grade of B or better strongly correlated with timely graduation.
- Upper-division MAT/STP courses should be taken through the Tempe campus, unless approved by a SoMSS advisor.
- Meet with your academic advisor for final degree check and apply for graduation through your My ASU.

- All students pursuing a BS or BSP degree in The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must complete two courses from the Science and Society list found at <https://thecollege.asu.edu/resources/science-society>. At least one of the two courses must be upper-division and students must earn a C or better in the courses. Both Science and Society courses (i.e., all six credits) may count towards any major, minor, related fields, and ASU General Studies requirements.
- The Computational Mathematical Sciences degree requires students to select and complete two 1-year lecture and lab combinations. Upon advisor approval, two advanced courses for which the first 1-year science and lab sequence is a prerequisite may be substituted for the second 1-year science and lab sequence.

- All students pursuing a BS or BSP degree in The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must complete two courses from the Science and Society list found at <https://thecollege.asu.edu/resources/science-society>. At least one of the two courses must be upper-division and students must earn a C or better in the courses. Both Science and Society courses (i.e., all six credits) may count towards any major, minor, related fields, and ASU General Studies requirements.

- HST 302-307 are variable topics courses. Students may take these courses for credit multiple times, so long as the topics are different.
 - All students are required to take one course from HST 304 and HST 306, plus one course chosen from HST 303, HST 305, or HST 307. Students may select any topic within these course numbers for this requirement. However, for the Comparative History and History in the Wild requirements, students must choose only from the specific topics shown in the Comparative History and History in the Wild lists below. Any topic under HST 302 will count as a Comparative History course. Students must complete 33 total credit hours in history (HST), so any variable topics courses taken for Comparative History and History in the Wild will be in addition to the standard requirement for HST 304, HST 306, and (HST 303, 305, or 307).
 - Students must complete 12 credits of courses in Related Areas, at least six of which must be upper-division.

- HST 302-306 are variable topics courses. Students may take these courses for credit multiple times, so long as the topics are different.
- All students are required to take one course from HST 303, HST 304 and HST 306. Students may select any topic within these course numbers for this requirement. However, for the Comparative History requirement, students must choose only from the specific topics shown in the Comparative History list below. All topics under HST 302 fulfill the Comparative History requirement. Students must complete 33 total credit hours in history (HST), so any variable topics course taken for Comparative History will be in addition to the standard requirement for HST 303, HST 304 and HST 306.
- Students must complete 12 credits of Related Area courses, at least six of which must be upper-division.

Students may not be admitted directly to the BS in Integrated Studies. This degree program is only for students who have earned at least 32 graded credit hours at ASU, who have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.25, and whose study interests are not met by an already-existing major offered by Arizona State University. Students who meet the above qualifications and who have faculty mentors in their areas of interest are invited to meet with the Office of Student and Academic Programs in The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences to discuss the possibility of being allowed to pursue this opportunity. Appointments may be scheduled by calling (480) 965-6506.

- This degree program is intended for students who are already fairly competent in the language selected to study. The language selected by the student must be one offered by the School of International Letters and Cultures. Please see an academic advisor in SILC for approval of the language as well as the program of study which is tailored for individual students. Because of the nature of the degree program, students taking Romanian and Portuguese should be at least at the 313 level by the end of Term 1, and students taking Greek should be at least at the 301 level by the end of Term 1. Students in all other languages should be at the 201 level by the end of Term 1.

- All Justice Studies students must complete nine upper-division (300-499) credit hours in a related area other than JUS courses. Courses may be chosen from a variety of disciplines, as shown below, as well as upper-division courses from non-English language disciplines. No more than two courses can be used from a single discipline and at least one course must be chosen from one of the disciplines in the School of Social Transformation (AFR, APA, SST or WST). The related area courses may not be used concurrently in the major. However, in order to facilitate and encourage the student's completion of a minor, approved courses for the related area may be used in the minor.

- All students pursuing a BS or BSP degree in The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must complete two courses from the Science and Society list found at <https://thecollege.asu.edu/resources/science-society>. At least one of the two courses must be upper-division and students must earn a C or better in the courses. Both Science and Society courses (i.e., all six credits) may count towards any major, minor, related fields, and ASU General Studies requirements.

Term hours subtotal:	3

- All students pursuing a BS or BSP in The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must complete two courses from the Science and Society list found at <https://thecollege.asu.edu/resources/science-society>. At least one of the two courses must be upper-division and students must earn a C or better in the courses. Both Science and Society courses (i.e., all six credits) may count toward any major, minor, related fields, and ASU General Studies requirements.
- Students choose 9 credit hours from the related area prefixes below. The additional 6 credit hours of related area work may be from any prefix but must also carry the "SB" General Studies designation.
