- A minimum of 12 upper division credit hours (300 or 400 level) are required; selected in consultation with the Justice Studies academic advising staff; minimum grade of C required. While the Bachelor of Science in Justice Studies is a broad-based curriculum, the Justice Studies faculty require students to develop an academic emphasis outside the major. Students have two options to fulfill this requirement: Related Field (RF) or Discipline Specific Focus (DSF).
- Courses used for the Related Field or Discipline Specific Focus cannot be double-counted with the major (JUS), University General Studies, or Science & Society requirements. However, to encourage students to pursue a minor, concentration or concurrent major, students will be allowed to double-count the RF or DSF courses with a minor, concentration or concurrent major.

Curriculum Check Sheet

Note: ASU does not regard the AAS-to-BAS as a traditional transfer degree, so special provisions apply:

- [a] The AAS degree holder (the student) will be admitted only to the BAS program specified, e.g. Health Sciences. Only those students with a regionally accredited AAS from an approved (articulated) Health/Health Technology program are eligible for this degree.
- [b] The institution from which the student received his/her AAS degree must be regionally accredited. A foreign institution must be approved and recognized as a post-secondary institution by the Ministry of Education or other governmental authorities.
- [c] All courses applied toward completion of the AAS must have been completed with a grade of C or higher. ASU will not accept courses with a grade of D.
- [d] A block of up to 60 credit hours will be accepted for transfer with the completed AAS from an approved (articulated) Health/Health Technology program. Students must confirm with the institution granting the AAS that it has an articulation agreement with ASU in place for the BAS in Health Science.
- [e] A minimum of 60 credit hours for the BAS degree must be completed at ASU. If the AAS degree is earned with fewer than 60 credit hours, the student must complete additional credit hours at ASU, so that the total credit hours of the AAS and BAS degrees are at least 120.
- [e] After admission to ASU, if a student wishes to transfer out of the BAS program into another program at ASU, the agreement to accept a block of up to 60 transfer credit hours from the AAS degree shall be void and no longer in effect. The student's transcript will be evaluated course-by-course and only transferrable courses will be accepted.

First-Year Composition

General Studies designations listed on the major map are current for the 2012 - 2013 academic year.

The B.A.S. program is a transfer pathway specifically for students who have earned community college Associate of Applied Science (A.A.S.) degrees. The goal of the program is to provide students with management, leadership, critical thinking, and communication skills, along with significant work in a professional specialization. Students must complete a pathway or related Associate of Applied Science (A.A.S.) degree to be eligible for this program. AA and AS students are not eligible for this program.

Program Requirements

Students complete a relevant A.A.S. through a community college and transfer 60 lower division credit hours. The BAS is a 60 credit hour upper division program divided into four categories.

General Studies Completion Curriculum (19 semester hours):

The BAS curriculum builds on the general education content of the AAS. ASU general studies requirements will be completed with courses in these areas through upper division coursework:

- Mathematical Studies (MA) 3 credit hours
- Lab Science (SQ) 4 credit hours
- Literacy & Critical Inquiry (L) 3 credit hours
- Humanities, Fine Arts, and Design (HU) 3 credit hours
- Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB) 3 credit hours
- One additional HU or SB 3 credit hours

Additionally, students must complete the general studies awareness requirements either through previously taken transfer work or by combining with the general studies requirements from above (L, HU, SB):

- Cultural Diversity in the US (C) 3 credit hours
- Global Awareness (G) 3 credit hours
- Historical Awareness (H) 3 credit hours

In consultation with an advisor, students select courses from the ASU general studies list that contribute to the overall curriculum and meet degree requirements.

B.A.S. Core Curriculum (15 semester hours minimum):

The BAS core curriculum is focused on management and organization, professional communication, statistical processes, and computer competency. These are a set standard of courses required by the selected concentration.

Concentrations (20 semester hours minimum):

20 semester hours of specialization courses

Assignable Credit (6 semester hours):

These are traditional electives selected in consultation with an advisor to enhance the curriculum. Assignable credit also can be used to strengthen math/science capabilities or computer skills.

Graduation Requirements Summary:

Transfer Admission Guarantee (TAG) and Maricopa to ASU Pathways Program (MAPP)

Arizona State University has established special transfer partnerships with Arizona community colleges to facilitate the transition to ASU. Transfer Admission Guarantee (TAG) programs provide a prescribed set of course work that meet the requirements for an associate degree and AGECE (Arizona General Education Curriculum), as well as, lower-division course requirements for a specific ASU major. Maricopa Community College District (MCCCD) students participate in the Maricopa to ASU Pathways Program (MAPP), a TAG designed specifically for students attending one of the MCCCD community colleges.
