Academic Catalog Archive Addendum 2012-2013

This document, published in October 2013, is a supplement to the Academic Catalog Archive 2012-2013 published in August 2012. It is the record of programs that were established, disestablished, or experienced name changes since the publication of the Academic Catalog Archive 2012-2013. It also contains additional programs and policies that were not provided within the Academic Catalog Archive 2012-2013 because information was unavailable at the time of publication.

This document also includes major maps, which provide the critical requirements, order of courses and grade requirements for undergraduate degree programs, and Transfer Admission Guarantee (TAG) and Maricopa to ASU Pathways Program (MAPP) agreements that were not available at the time the Academic Catalog Archive 2012-2013 was published.

This addendum is a printable publication for accreditation organizations, agencies and university offices for data collection, evaluation purposes and referencing. Academic advisors, faculty and current students should refer to the online version of the academic catalog.

Graduate Certificates and Degree Programs

Advanced Nursing Practice (Adult-Gerontology Nurse Practitioner), DNP (NUANPAGDNP). Establishment. Fall 2012.

Note: DNP 707 fulfilled the applied project requirement during the 2012-2013 academic year.

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

This program is designed for nurses seeking to become an advanced practice nurse as an adult/geriatric nurse practitioner. Graduate courses in application of theory to advanced practice, application of evidence to advanced practice, advanced pathophysiology, advanced health assessment, pharmacology, and advanced practice nursing roles provide a foundation for this specialty. A major focus of this program is the acquisition of advanced knowledge and skills for primary care, case management, screening, and health promotion of adults through the lifespan in a variety of settings, including private practice, ambulatory clinics, acute care, long-term care facilities, and the patient's home.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 84 credit hours including the required course (DNP 707) and an Applied Project

46 core credit hours

26 concentration credit hours

12 credit hours, applied project (DNP 71)

Admission Requirements:

All applicants must complete the Graduate College online application. A bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university recognized by ASU is required. Students must have earned the minimum of a 3.00 cumulative GPA (scale is 4.00=A) in the last 60 hours of a student's bachelor's degree program.

Eligibility for admission to the Graduate College

1. An undergraduate Junior/Senior GPA of 3.00 (4.00=A) and/or cumulative GPA of 3.00.
2. Graduate of an accredited B.S. nursing program or a program similar to ASU's B.S.N. in nursing program.
3. Submission of Graduate Record Exam (GRE) scores for the analytical writing portion only.
4. Letters of recommendation from three faculty and/or professional persons knowledgeable about the applicant's academic and nursing leadership potential. (Letters are provided electronically via the Graduate College's online application process). Students, who graduated with the B.S.N. in nursing degree within the past three years, will need to provide at least one faculty recommendation.

5. Evidence of unencumbered active licensure as Registered Nurse (R.N.) in the state where clinical practice will be conducted.
6. An interview with a faculty member in any offered specialty of nursing.

TOEFL required for applicants from a country whose native language is not English.

Previous Online Degree Search Title: Child/Family Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner (DNP)

Current Online Degree Search Title: Family Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner (DNP)

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

The child/family psychiatric mental health nurse practitioner program is designed for nurses seeking to become family psychiatric mental health nurse practitioners. Graduate courses in application of theory to advanced practice; application of evidence to advanced practice; advanced pathophysiology; advanced health assessment; and advanced practice nursing provide a foundation for this specialty. The D.N.P. program is designed to be accessible to students living or working at a distance, with course work delivered in a hybrid online format, in which students attend on-campus sessions two to three times each semester.

Graduate education in psychiatric mental health nursing gives opportunities for greater autonomy in practice; diverse employment opportunities; research and teaching capabilities; and advanced assessment and intervention skills. Focused clinical experiences are arranged with appropriate preceptors and administrators. Every attempt will be made to arrange this in the student's geographical area. In the event that clinical sites are unavailable in that area or if the faculty determine the student needs additional faculty supervision of skills, the student will be required to complete their clinical experience in the Phoenix area. Rural health and experiences with disadvantaged and multicultural populations are encouraged, and sites are available for these experiences.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 84 credit hours including the required course (DNP 707) and an Applied Project

Completion of an evidence-based doctoral applied project focused on a clinical issue relevant to advanced practice nursing is required.

The American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) has recommended a minimum of 1,000 post-baccalaureate practicum hours for all students completing a D.N.P. This program includes 1,170 practicum hours, exceeding the ANCC requirement.

Admission Requirements:

Applicants must submit the Graduate College online application. Admission to graduate status in the College of Nursing and Health Innovation is based upon meeting the following requirements:

1. Completion of a bachelor's in nursing from a nationally recognized, regionally accredited academic institution.
2. An undergraduate junior/senior GPA equal to 3.00, or a cumulative GPA equal to 3.00 (4.00=A) or higher for any baccalaureate or graduate degree attained.
3. A current unencumbered license in the state where clinical practice will be concluded and/or an unencumbered Arizona license to practice as a registered nurse to enroll in nursing practicum courses.
4. Satisfactory completion of the analytical writing section of the GRE.
5. Three online recommendations from individuals knowledgeable about the applicant's academic and nursing leadership potential and one self-evaluation submitted by the applicant.
6. An interview with a representative of the specialty area.
7. Completion of the English language proficiency test per Graduate College requirement and all requirements for the Commission on Graduates of Foreign Nursing Schools (CGFNS), if considered an international student.

Biology (Complex Adaptive Systems Science), PhD (LABIOCPHD). Establishment. Fall 2011.
Campus: Tempe

Program Description:

The Complex Adaptive Systems Science (CASS) Ph.D. concentration trains the next generation of scientists in advanced concepts and methods needed for approaching diverse phenomena in the social and life sciences. The program is tightly integrated with diverse, ongoing, university-wide research on CASS at Arizona State University and emphasizes the value of a CASS perspective to give better insight and a more active role in seeking solutions to a broad array of critical issues facing our society today. Students will be fluent in the common language of complexity while also receiving a solid foundation in the domain knowledge of existing academic disciplines.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 84 credit hours, a Written Comprehensive Exam, a Prospectus and a Dissertation

Student doctoral dissertations should include the application of complex adaptive systems concepts and/or methods in their field of study, and typically will have a member of the CASS graduate faculty as a member of their doctoral supervisory committee.

Admission Requirements:

1. Minimum of a bachelor's degree (or equivalent) or a graduate degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
2. Only students admitted to participating doctoral programs may apply for a CASS concentration. A letter of application from the student must be sent to the chair of the CASS graduate faculty. The application will be reviewed by members of the graduate faculty who will make final admission recommendations to the Graduate College.
3. Minimum of a 3.00 cumulative GPA (scale is 4.00=A) in the last 60 hours of a student's bachelor's degree program.
4. TOEFL required for applicants from a country whose native language is not English, see http://graduate.asu.edu/admissions/international/english_proficiency.

English (English Education), PhD (LAENEDPHD). Establishment. Fall 2012.

Note: The program requirements were incorrectly entered for the 2012-2013 academic year. Utilize the requirements published in the 13-14 academic catalog.

Campus: Tempe

Program Description:

The Ph.D. in English with a concentration in English education prepares students to examine the writing and reading practices of secondary students as well as the instructional practices of secondary English language arts teachers by emphasizing the relationship between pedagogy and research methodologies used to study the teaching of secondary English. Possible areas for research focus within this program include young adult literature, secondary reading and writing practices, new literacies, English language learning, critical literacy, and secondary English language arts curriculum and instruction development. The program encourages students to pursue coursework in other sub-disciplines within the Department of English such as rhetoric and composition, applied linguistics, and literature and in the Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College, such as literacy and educational research methodology. The program prepares students to become professors of English education or to pursue other relevant opportunities in research and administration.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 84 credit hours, a Written Comprehensive Exam, an Oral Comprehensive Exam, a Prospectus and a Dissertation

- 12 concentration credit hours
- Three research method credit hours
- 12 elective/research credit hours
- Nine internship credit hours (ENG 784)
- Six capstone, applied project (ENG 792)
- 12 dissertation credit hours (ENG 799)

Admission Requirements:

All applicants must complete the Graduate College online application. A bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university recognized by ASU is required. Minimum of a 3.00 cumulative GPA (scale is 4.00=A) in the last 60 hours of a student's bachelor's degree program.

Eligibility for admission to the Graduate College.

Undergraduate and Graduate Majors: We will consider applicants with master's degrees in English education and related fields such as English literature, applied linguistics, education, and rhetoric and composition.

Cumulative Grade Point Average: We will require that applicants have at least a 3.50 GPA in all previous graduate work.

Teaching Experience: A minimum of three years full-time teaching or volunteer work in secondary English language arts classrooms or in literate-rich settings (i.e. Peace Corps, community organizations, and libraries) is preferred. We are requiring this teaching experience because this type of experience is specifically required for faculty and curriculum specialist jobs within the field of English Education for which we want to prepare our doctoral students.

Graduate Record Examination: Applicants must submit scores on the GRE. The GRE scores will be considered in the context of applicant's overall portfolio application materials.

TOEFL required for applicants from a country whose native language is not English.

History and Philosophy of Science, PhD (LAHPSCIPHD). Establishment. Spring 2012.

Campus: Tempe

Program Description:

This degree combines solid training in the core areas of philosophy with an emphasis on interdisciplinary studies of the sciences, and:

- Conceptual structure.
- Epistemology.
- History.
- Impacts on society.

The strength of ASU's history and philosophy of science program is to bring philosophy, history, and the study of science together. This degree program is especially appropriate for students with a background in philosophy who seek to broaden their disciplinary studies with an historical perspective. Applicants will typically come from undergraduate programs that have included philosophical, historical, or history and philosophy of science training or with a master's degree in one of those fields. Science students are eligible as well, and will make up relevant undergraduate humanistic core courses during their first years. Most graduates will seek a career based in philosophical or historical analyses of the sciences.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 84 credit hours, a Written Comprehensive Exam, an Oral Comprehensive Exam, a Prospectus and a Dissertation

Six credit hours of required core courses.

At least 30 credit hours of restricted program electives.

At least 24 credit hours of program electives.

12 credit hours of research HPS 792.

12 credit hours of HPS 799 Dissertation.

Admission Requirements:

1. Minimum of a bachelor's degree (or equivalent) or a graduate degree from a regionally accredited college or university of recognized standing in a related field such as: history, philosophy, or history and philosophy of science, as well as a demonstrated background and interest in one or more sciences.
2. Minimum of a 3.00 cumulative GPA (scale is 4.00=A) in the last 60 hours of a student's bachelor's degree program.
3. GRE test scores.

Management, MS (BACMRMS). Name Change. Fall 2012.

Previous Name: Commerce (MS)

Campus: Tempe

Program Description:

Arizona State University's W.P. Carey School of Business M.S. in management is an innovative business degree program providing new liberal arts, science, engineering and other nonbusiness graduates with the intellectual and professional skills needed to succeed in today's business environment. This is a one-year program designed to develop 1) critical thinking skills as applied to fundamental business procedures and processes, and 2) leadership skills. It is also designed to bridge the gap between academic preparation and real-world business applications.

Graduates of this program will have the capability and motivation to rapidly progress in any profession where business plays an important role. The commerce program differs substantially from a traditional M.B.A. program in that no work experience is required for admission and the course work is completed in one year, giving a broad overview of the essentials of managerial decision-making.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 36 credit hours including a Capstone Course (MGT 591)

The following three-credit courses are required:

- ACC 502 Financial Accounting
- CIS 502 Information Systems
- ECN 501 Statistics for Managers
- ECN 502 Managerial Economics
- FIN 502 Managerial Finance
- MGT 502 Organization Theory and Behavior
- MGT 588 Strategic Leadership
- MGT 587 Topic: Entrepreneurial Consulting Projects
- MGT 591 Topic: Leadership
- MGT 591 Topic: Negotiations

MKT 502 Marketing Management
SCM 591 Topic: Sustainability & Social Responsibility

Admission Requirements:

The W. P. Carey School of Business seeks exceptional individuals who have completed all their undergraduate degree requirements before enrolling in the management master's program. This program is open only to nonbusiness majors who want to add business knowledge and skills to their portfolios. Applicants must be highly motivated and have strong intellectual capabilities. The admissions committee looks for outstanding academic credentials; character qualities such as maturity, integrity, leadership; and diversity in perspectives and experiences.

Students must submit an online Graduate College application for admission to the program. They must also submit the following to the W. P. Carey School of Business:

- Resume.
- Statement of purpose.
- Official transcripts of all course work completed at institutions other than ASU.
- GMAT and/or GRE test scores.
- One letter of recommendation.

Applicants should have a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or higher and a competitive GMAT or GRE score. Applicants with a GPA below 3.00 should contact department for GMAT and GRE score requirements.

Students with an undergraduate degree in business are not eligible to apply.

International applicants must meet the Graduate College's English proficiency requirements.

Application deadlines: Priority will be given to applicants who apply early. For a list of deadlines, please visit the school website.

Participatory Governance, Certificate (PPPGORCT). Establishment. Spring 2013.

Campus: Tempe, Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

This certificate provides students with the knowledge and skills to develop, implement and evaluate participatory governance programs and public engagement activities. This interdisciplinary program combines academic rigor with practical skills. Students examine the main theories and research findings on participatory governance and public engagement, and familiarize themselves with past and current democratic innovations in the USA and around the world. Students also develop the capacity to design, carry out and examine processes of participatory governance and public engagement. The certificate, administered by the School of Public Affairs, can be pursued as a specialization within an existing ASU graduate program, or as a stand-alone, 15-credit-hour program.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 15 credit hours.

overall required credit hours: 15

core course credit hours: 9

elective course credit hours: 6

Admission Requirements:

Applicants to the certificate will be accepted year-round. Students may be granted admission for fall, spring, or summer semesters. Students must meet all Graduate College admissions requirements. Potential applicants who hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution in a related field are eligible to apply to the program. Related fields include political science, planning, urban and metropolitan studies, sociology, as well as other social science degrees. Although the target students would most likely come from the aforementioned degree fields, there is no specific undergraduate degree major required for admission. The school will accept applicants with undergraduate degrees from all educational backgrounds. Regular admission may be granted to applicants who have achieved a grade point average of 3.0 or better (on a 4.0 scale) in the last two years of work leading to a bachelor's degree. Applicants will be required to submit an official ASU graduate online application, official transcripts of undergraduate and (if applicable) graduate course work, and a statement of career and educational goals.

Policy Informatics, Certificate (PPPOIGRCT). Establishment. Spring 2013.

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

Arizona State University offers a Graduate Certificate in Policy Informatics. This certificate teaches students the dimensions and approaches of Policy Informatics. Specifically, how advances in communication and computational technologies are advancing policy analysis, deliberation processes, and governance infrastructures. The certificate emphasizes simulation methodologies and complexity theories. Policy Informatics helps us advance evidence-driven policy design, wherein scientific models and analyses drive decision-making for resolution of complex policy challenges, dilemmas, and problems. Policy Informatics is both an emerging field of research and a community of practice focusing on advancing decision-making in the public sector through information-centric analysis of evidence that leverages computational and technological advances; and designing, managing, and evaluating information systems and infrastructures for policy construction, analysis, and implementation. Policy Informatics advances the multi-disciplinary nature of the public administration discipline by infusing it with the advances of information technology, management of information systems, and computational and informational science perspectives.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 15 credit hours.

- Overall required credit hours: 15
- Core Course credit hours: 12
- Elective Course credit hours: 3

Admission Requirements:

Applicants to the certificate will be accepted year-round. Students may be granted admission for Fall, Spring, or Summer semesters. Students must meet all Graduate College admissions requirements. Potential applicants who hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution are eligible to apply to the program. Students from related fields (such as public policy, public administration, political science, planning, urban and metropolitan studies, geography, information science, psychology, as well as other social science degrees) might in particular be interested in this program. However, all eligible students will be considered. Although the target students would most likely come from the aforementioned degree fields, there is no specific undergraduate degree major required for admission - the department will accept applicants with undergraduate degrees from all educational backgrounds.

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

The School of Public Affairs offers a graduate program leading to the Ph.D. in public administration.

The Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in public administration is a theoretically grounded research degree designed to prepare students for an academic career. The degree is also appropriate for practitioners who want to conduct high level research and policy development in public and nonprofit agencies, foundations, and research institutes.

Our goal is to develop well-rounded, independent scholars who are grounded in the classic and current literatures of public administration and public policy, skilled in research methods, and ready to make a positive and important contribution to the field through teaching and research. We provide a balanced curriculum to ensure mastery of core ideas and materials, as well as the opportunity to develop specialized expertise in two specific subfields as determined by the student and his or her committee. These subfields can focus on any area related to public administration and public policy and can draw on faculty expertise from across the ASU campus. The Ph.D. in public administration with an urbanism concentration permits students to draw upon the extensive resources in urban affairs at ASU. As a result, upon graduation, our doctoral students are poised for success as productive and active scholars, researchers and teachers.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 96 credit hours, a Written Comprehensive Exam, an Oral Comprehensive Exam, a Prospectus and a Dissertation

Students must have a Master of Public Administration or Master of Public Policy degree.

Other master's degree may qualify, although students are required to cover certain prerequisite courses. The program consists of a minimum of 96 credit hours of graduate work with 30 of the 96 hours being satisfied by the student's master's degree. The remaining 66 hours are composed of 42 hours of graduate course work, 12 hours of dissertation, and 12 hours of research.

Students are required to complete course work in two areas of specialization. These specializations are developed in consultation with the student's plan of study committee and can focus on a variety of topics related to public administration and public policy. Students may work with faculty from other departments, if appropriate, to complete their specializations.

As an alternative, students may opt for the urbanism concentration.

Admission Requirements:

All applicants are expected to have completed graduate level statistics and research methods classes before admission. Applicants also are expected to have sufficient formal course work in public administration to pursue doctoral study in the field. Admitted students may be required to take deficiency courses as specified by the admissions committee before beginning the doctoral core classes.

Applicants are admitted for fall only. Admission is competitive; a limited number of well-qualified applicants will be admitted each year. A completed application packet is due by Jan. 15.

All applicants must submit the following materials to the ASU Graduate College:

1. An official online ASU Graduate application.
2. Application fee.
3. International students must submit Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) and Test of Spoken English (TSE) scores to be considered for admission. This is true even for those who have a master's degree from a U.S. university. To be considered for admission, the minimum score on the traditional TOEFL test is 600. Applicants with TOEFL scores below 600 or who do not submit a TSE score (or Internet-based TOEFL) will not be admitted. Only test scores from within the past five years will be accepted.
4. Official transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate work.
5. Scores on the GRE (verbal, quantitative, analytical).

Send transcripts to:

Arizona State University
Graduate College
Interdisciplinary Building, B-Wing, Room 170
P.O. Box 871003
Tempe, AZ 85287-1003

In addition to the above, applicants submit the following materials directly to the Ph.D. program:

A current resume or curriculum vitae.

- Three letters of recommendation. These should be primarily academic letters. All letters should address the candidate's capacity to successfully complete the doctoral program. They should assess the student's capacity for critical and analytic thought, their ability to communicate effectively, both orally and in writing and their commitment to completion of the program.
- Samples of research reports and/or papers (optional).
- A written statement of your areas of interest and your educational and career goals. You have the option of including the names of one to three ASU faculty members and why their research is of interest to you. Your specific choices will not affect admission and you will not be committed to working with these faculty members, but your choices are another way of indicating your interests.

Public Administration and Policy (Urbanism), PhD (PPPAURBPHD). Name Change. Fall 2012.

Note: The description for this program does not convey the name change established fall 2012.

Previous Name: Public Administration (Urbanism) (PhD)

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

The School of Public Affairs offers a graduate program leading to the Ph.D. in public administration. The Ph.D. in public administration with an urbanism concentration permits students to draw upon the extensive resources in urban affairs at ASU. As a result, upon graduation, our doctoral students are poised for success as productive and active scholars, researchers and teachers.

The concentration in urbanism is a mechanism for organizing varied perspectives on urbanism into a collective body of scholarship. The study of public administration is enriched by grounding it in a comprehensive understanding of the characteristics of urban context and the dynamic forces that shape them.

The concentration in urbanism leverages the varied interests in urbanism and help emerging scholars as they attempt to compare, contrast and take stock of urbanism. Working with faculty from across a range of departments and programs at ASU, doctoral students will be able to capture the creative tensions that scholarship on urbanism has inspired in order to stimulate a provocative, constructive kind of inquiry.

Degree Requirements:

This program requires: 96 credit hours, a Written Comprehensive Exam, an Oral Comprehensive Exam, a Prospectus and a Dissertation

Students are required to complete course work in two areas of specialization. Twelve hours are completed in urbanism courses. A second specialization of nine hours is also completed. These specializations are developed in consultation with the student's plan of study committee and can focus on a variety of topics related to public administration and public policy. Students may work with faculty from other departments, if appropriate, to complete their specializations.

Admission Requirements:

Applicants must apply to the Graduate College for admission to the urbanism concentration program under the Ph.D. in public administration and meet the Graduate College criteria as well as Ph.D. program criteria for admission. The successful candidate for admission to the Ph.D. program has a M.P.A. or M.P.P. Other master's degree may qualify, although students are required to cover certain prerequisite courses. The additional expectation for admission to the concentration is a strong interest in urban affairs as indicated in the applicant's written statement of educational and career goals.

Public Administration, Certificate (PPPUAGRCT). Establishment. Spring 2013.

Note: This program displayed an incorrect breakdown of credits. The correct breakdown for the 2012-2013 academic year was a core of six credit hours and nine elective credit hours.

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

The Graduate Certificate in Public Administration prepares students for work in government at all levels and nonprofit organizations through comprehensive coverage of topics in public administration, management and policy. Students discover the challenges of management, learn how to lead a public organization, and understand the process of policy development. The certificate is designed to give students a solid foundational understanding of administration, leadership and policy analysis in the service of public goods.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 15 credit hours.

- Overall required credit hours: 15
- Core Course credit hours: 9
- Elective Course credit hours: 6

Admission Requirements:

Applicants to the certificate will be accepted year-round. Students may be granted admission for Fall, Spring, and Summer semesters. Students must meet all Graduate College admissions requirements. Potential applicants who hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution are eligible to apply to the program. Students from related fields (such as public policy, political science, planning, urban and metropolitan studies, sociology, as well as other social science degrees) might in particular be interested in this program. However, all eligible students will be considered. Although the target students would most likely come from the aforementioned degree fields, there is no specific undergraduate degree major required for admission - the school will accept applicants with undergraduate degrees from all educational backgrounds. Regular admission may be granted to applicants who have achieved a grade point average of 3.0 or better (on a 4.0 scale) in the last two years of coursework leading to a bachelor's degree.

For non-degree seeking students (those not admitted to a graduate degree at ASU): Applicants will be required to submit an official ASU graduate application, official transcripts of undergraduate and graduate (if applicable) coursework, and a statement of career and educational goals.

For graduate-degree seeking students (those admitted to a graduate program at ASU): Applicants will be required to submit an official ASU graduate application and a statement of career and educational goals.

Public Policy (Policy Informatics), MPP (PPPUPPIMPP). Establishment. Fall 2012.

Note: Only a capstone is required. An additional applied project was not required in 2012-2013.

Campus: Downtown Phoenix

Program Description:

The Master of Public Policy with a concentration in policy informatics teaches students the dimensions and approaches of policy informatics. Specifically, how advances in communication and computational technologies are advancing policy analysis, deliberation processes, and governance infrastructures. Policy informatics helps us advance evidence-driven policy design, wherein scientific models and analyses drive decision-making for resolution of complex policy challenges, dilemmas, and problems. Policy informatics is both an emerging field of research and a community of practice focusing on advancing decision-making in the public sector through information-centric analysis of evidence that leverages computational and technological advances; and designing, managing, and evaluating information systems and infrastructures for policy construction, analysis, and implementation. Policy informatics advances the multi-disciplinary nature of the public administration discipline by infusing it with the advances of information technology, management of information systems, and computational and informational science perspectives.

Social and Cultural Pedagogy, MA (LASCPMA). Establishment. Fall 2012.

Note: The program required an applied project which may be substituted by a thesis option for the 2012-2013 academic year.

Campus: Tempe

Program Description:

The M.A. in social and cultural pedagogy is an innovative degree that immerses students in the theory and practice of social pedagogy, and prepares them for working with diverse populations in a variety of organizational and community settings. The program is geared to those working in education-related settings primarily in the independent/non-profit sector. The program emphasizes research, theory and practice related to non-formal and informal education dynamics throughout the lifespan, focusing on change-oriented processes and foregrounding anthropological and sociological perspectives. It includes core courses in historical and current developments in social pedagogy, lifelong and experiential learning, and sociocultural approaches to education. This degree is relevant for individuals interested in areas such as childhood and youth studies, adult education and workplace learning, popular and digital cultures, social movement learning, restorative justice, disabilities, indigenous knowledge, and ecopedagogy. Courses will be offered through the Internet (iCourses) and face-to-face. Social pedagogy is both an interdisciplinary academic field of inquiry and a field of professional practice. It has a long tradition that can be traced back to 1844, and is currently experiencing a surge in scholarly and professional interest. There are many master's programs in social pedagogy around the world (especially in Europe and Latin America), but this proposed M.A. in social and cultural pedagogy degree program at ASU is the first of its kind in North America.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 30 credit hours and a Thesis

Core: 9 credit hours

Electives: 15 credit hours

Applied Project: 6 credit hours (SST 593)

Admission Requirements:

All applicants must complete the Graduate College online application. A bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university recognized by ASU is required. Minimum of a 3.00 cumulative GPA (scale is 4.00=A) in the last 60 hours of a student's bachelor's degree program.

Writing sample. A 3-5 page application letter in which the applicants explain why they want to study in this program and why they feel well-prepared to succeed in this graduate program.

Curriculum Vita. The CV should describe prior educational history and related/relevant work/volunteer experiences.

Sustainability (Complex Adaptive Systems Science), PhD (SUSUSTCPHD). Establishment. Fall 2011.

Campus: Tempe

Program Description:

The Complex Adaptive Systems Science (CASS) Ph.D. concentration trains the next generation of scientists in advanced concepts and methods needed for approaching diverse phenomena in the social and life sciences. The program is tightly integrated with diverse, ongoing, university-wide research on CASS at Arizona State University and emphasizes the value of a CASS perspective to give better insight and a more active role in seeking solutions to a broad array of critical issues facing our society today. Students will be fluent in the common language of complexity while also receiving a solid foundation in the domain knowledge of existing academic disciplines.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following: 84 credit hours, a Written Comprehensive Exam, a Prospectus and a Dissertation

Student doctoral dissertations should include the application of complex adaptive systems concepts and/or methods in their field of study, and typically will have a member of the CASS graduate faculty as a member of their doctoral supervisory committee.

Admission Requirements:

1. Minimum of a bachelor's degree (or equivalent) or a graduate degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
2. Only students admitted to participating doctoral programs may apply for a CASS concentration. A letter of application from the student must be sent to the chair of the CASS graduate faculty. The application will be reviewed by members of the graduate faculty who will make final admission recommendations to the Graduate College.
3. Minimum of a 3.00 cumulative GPA (scale is 4.00=A) in the last 60 hours of a student's bachelor's degree program.
4. TOEFL required for applicants from a country whose native language is not English, see http://graduate.asu.edu/admissions/international/english_proficiency.

Sustainable Solutions, MSUS (SUSUSOMSUS). Establishment. Spring 2013.

Note: Incorrect information was published for the 2012-2013 academic year. A dissertation was not required for this program.

Online Degree Search Title: Sustainable Solutions (MS)

Campus: Tempe

Program Description:

The MS in sustainable solutions program is designed to prepare students for careers in sustainability and related fields. Beginning with a foundation in sustainability theory and methods, the program allows students to specialize in one of four tracks:

1. policy and administration
2. nonprofit organization
3. technology and society
4. international development

A key objective is to learn how to apply sustainability principles and approaches to career fields that address complex human and environmental challenges. Students are encouraged to complete a sustainability-related internship as a capstone, but may also choose a workshop or applied project. Each of these options is designed to engage students with real-world applications of sustainability and to develop problem-solving skills.

Degree Requirements:

Program requires the following:

33 credit hours including the applied project requirement of (SOS 593), or

33 credit hours including the capstone requirement of (SOS 584) an internship, or 33 credit hours including the capstone requirement of (SOS 594) a workshop.

- core credit hours (30)
- electives credit hours (6)
- thesis credit hours (6)
- dissertation credit hours (12)

Admission Requirements:

Degree: Minimum of a bachelor's or master's degree in sustainability fields, or a closely related field from a regionally accredited college or university.

The program is open to considering any field, since sustainability is an interdisciplinary field.

GPA: Minimum of a 3.00 cumulative GPA (scale is 4.0=A) in the last 60 hours of a student's first bachelor's degree program. Minimum of 3.00 cumulative GPA (scale is 4.0 = A) in the applicable master's degree.

Undergraduate Degrees

Early Childhood and Early Childhood Special Education, BAE (TEECSEBAE). Name Change. Fall 2012.

Previous Name: Early Childhood Education, BAE (EDECDBAE)

Campus: Polytechnic, Tempe, West

Program description:

The B.A.E. in early childhood/early childhood special education program in the Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College is available at the Tempe campus. This program prepares students for Arizona certification in early childhood education (birth - grade three) and early childhood special education (birth - age 5). This program has a special emphasis on community connectedness, technology integration, administration, policy analysis and advocacy related to young children and their families with and without disabilities or developmental delays. Program faculty have received numerous national awards for their work in the field of early childhood education.

Each semester during the professional program, students engage in field experiences and student teaching that prepare them for work in early childhood and special education settings. Graduates are recommended for the Arizona birth-through-grade-3 teacher certification, an early childhood special education certification and a provisional endorsement to work with English language learners. All graduates desiring to teach in a public school preschool and kindergarten or the primary grades must pass the state certification test in content area knowledge and professional knowledge to obtain certification in Arizona.

Additional Program Fee: No

Second Language Requirement: No

First Required Math Course: MAT 142 College Mathematics

Career Opportunities:

Changes in Arizona state certification will require all individuals teaching in public schools, early childhood programs and serving children birth through kindergarten to meet new early childhood certification or endorsement requirements by 2012. According to a policy study on the condition of early childhood education in 2005, the demand for early childhood teachers in Arizona is much greater than the current supply. Thus, job opportunities in center-based programs and public school early childhood programs are numerous. Many graduates with a degree in early childhood teaching and leadership hold leadership positions in Head Start, private nonprofit and private for-profit, center-based programs and public school early childhood centers. In a recent survey conducted at graduation, a majority of seniors reported that they had received job offers.

Campus: Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe, West

Program description:

The B.A.E. in special education/elementary education in the Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College is available at all campuses. This dual certificate program prepares students to work with children with mild disabilities in inclusive settings. The program offers students a firm grounding in academic content with current research and best practices, accompanied by real-world classroom experiences. Students engage in field experiences and student teaching that aligns with their special education and elementary education academic programs. Faculty members in the program are nationally recognized for their work in the field of education.

All students graduate from the program with extensive experience in integrating technology into teaching and a provisional endorsement to work with English-language learners. This is a dual-certificate program, which leads to certification in special education for K-12 in mild cross-categorical disabilities and elementary education for first-through-eighth grade certification. All graduates of this program must pass state certification tests in content area knowledge and professional knowledge.

Additional Program Fee: N

Second Language Requirement: N

First Required Math Course: MAT 142 College Mathematics

Career Opportunities:

National and state studies report the projected need in the next five to 10 years will be extremely high for special education teachers. Graduates of the B.A.E. in special education/elementary education program will be eligible to teach K-12 for the spectrum of high incidence disabilities (learning disabilities, behavior disabilities and mild mental retardation) in a variety of educational environments, including public, charter and private schools. In a survey conducted at graduation, a majority of seniors reported they had received job offers.

Transfer Admission Guarantee (TAG) and Maricopa to ASU Pathways Program (MAPP)

Arizona State University has established special transfer partnerships with Arizona community colleges to facilitate the transition to ASU. The following section is a compilation of Transfer Admission Guarantee (TAG) and Maricopa to ASU Pathways Program (MAPP) documents for established undergraduate degrees. These agreements were not available at the time of publication, or were revised since publication, of the Academic Catalog Archive 2012-2013 in August 2012. MAPP and TAG agreements are alphabetical by Arizona community college and program title.

Special Requirements

Completion of the TAG and all special requirements satisfies the requirements for Central Arizona College Associate in Business degree and AGEC-B, meets major map requirements at ASU, and guarantees admission to the Business B.A. degree program. Special Requirements: In addition to university requirements, the W. P. Carey School of Business has the following special requirements: All courses must be completed with a grade of "C" or better. Students must complete the TAG with a 3.0 cumulative transfer GPA. Because Arizona State University calculates GPA's differently than Central Arizona College, admission to the BA program is certified upon calculation of the 3.0 cumulative transfer GPA by ASU Undergraduate Admissions. After Transfer to ASU: Submission of a Current SAT Reasoning score or ACT score (we do not require the writing portion of these tests) by the end of the first semester in the program.

2012-2013 Catalog Year - RN-BSN

Nursing RN-BSN

ASU Major

Nursing, BSN - College of Nursing & Health Innovation

Special Requirements

Completion of the RN-BSN pathway and all special requirements satisfies the requirements for Coconino Community College Associate in Applied Science degree, satisfies lower division RN to BSN major requirements, and upon receipt of all application materials, guarantees admission to the ASU RN to BSN program. Special Requirements: A grade of "C" or better in each course and a minimum 2.5 cumulative GPA in the following courses is required for guaranteed admission: ENG 101, ENG 102, BIO 201, BIO 202, BIO 205, CHM 130 with lab, and PSY 101. In addition, students must complete the courses that meet the listed general studies requirements with a grade of "C" or better. These courses are not included in the 2.5 cumulative GPA computation. All remaining courses must be completed with a grade of "C" or better. Upon transfer to ASU: Students must have a current RN license in good standing before taking the courses in the RN-BSN program (TWC/NUR). While waiting for NCLEX-RN test results, students may opt to take Upper Division/General Studies courses, if needed. All additional ASU General Studies requirements can be completed while enrolled in the RN-BSN program. All other requirements are selected by the student and must be completed prior to graduation from ASU. While the pathway requirements total 82 credits, there are only 75 maximum transferable credit hours; the excess hours will not transfer.

Academic Policies

These university academic policies were changed during the 2012-2013 academic year.

Course Load and Concurrent Enrollment

Course

A minimum full-time course load for an undergraduate student is 12 credit hours. The maximum course load for which a student may register is 18 credit hours (with the exception of a 19-hour maximum for students enrolled in the Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering and College of Technology and Innovation), with a maximum of 9 credit hours in each A or B session. A student wishing to register for more than the maximum must petition the standards committee of the college in which the student is enrolled and must obtain an approved overload before registration.

Summer Session Semester Hour Load

The summer session credit hour load limit is seven credit hours for each six-week session and nine credit hours for the eight-week session, and the load limit may not exceed a total of 14 credit hours for any combination of sessions.

Graduate Credits Earned by Undergraduate Students

ASU undergraduate students who have achieved senior status (cannot be postbaccalaureate) with a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or higher may count up to nine credit hours of graduate-level course work toward their graduate degree at ASU (preadmission credit hours). Only graduate courses with a grade of "B" (3.00) or higher may be included on a graduate plan of study. Preadmission graduate courses cannot be used to meet any baccalaureate graduation requirements. Before registering for these courses, the student must submit a petition through their academic unit. Permission to take a preadmission graduate course does not guarantee admission to a graduate degree program or that the course may be used toward graduate degree requirements.

Use of Graduate Course Credit by Undergraduates

Graduate course credit earned by an undergraduate student that is used to fulfill requirements for an undergraduate degree program cannot also be used in a graduate degree program unless the student is enrolled in an approved 4+1 program. Students must contact their advisor before enrolling in a graduate course they wish to use toward a future graduate program at ASU.

Concurrent Enrollment

Provided that the other institution's regulations concerning enrollment, graduation requirements and transfer of credits are not violated, a student may enroll in classes at other institutions or in independent learning courses while enrolled at ASU. However, the student is urged to seek advising

Credit by Examination

Students may receive credit for an ASU course by taking an examination in place of the actual course. Some exams can be taken prior to admission to ASU. Information is provided below for each type of exam, the courses that are equivalent and other conditions that may apply to credit being awarded.

- A student may earn no more than 60 hours of credit by examination for any or all programs, including ASU comprehensive and proficiency exams.
- Credit will not be awarded for any course in which the student has been given credit from any educational institution.
- Credit will not be granted for a course taken at an educational institution after credit by examination has been awarded.
Exception: Students who take the advanced placement exams, however, may choose either 1) to have the credit earned by advanced placement kept in their cumulative university hours, or 2) to complete the ASU course and have the credit and grade instead, regardless of in which order the test or course are taken. (See the Advanced Placement section below for additional details on the exam and its equivalent scores.)
- Credit may not be received for a lower-level or prerequisite course when credit has already been received in a higher-level course within the same field.
- Only credit earned by comprehensive examination will count toward the resident credit requirement for graduation.

College-level Examination Program (CLEP)— can be taken before or during enrollment at ASU.

Advanced Placement (AP)— taken during secondary school or before enrollment at ASU.

DANTES or DSST(Defense Activity for Nontraditional Education Support Subject Standardized Test)— taken by military or approved government personnel before or during enrollment at ASU.

International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma/Certificate – earned by students of an International Baccalaureate®-approved school before enrollment at ASU.

Comprehensive Examinations – can be taken by current ASU students.

Proficiency Examinations – can be taken by current ASU students.

For information about placement testing for mathematics and English classes prior to orientation, please refer to the Placement and Testing Requirements [1] in the ASU Catalog.

College-Level Examination Program (CLEP)

Students who have taken a College-Level Examination of the College Entrance Examination Board may receive university credit. The table of CLEP credit applies to all students enrolled in the university for the first time in August 1975 and any student enrolling thereafter. CLEP examination credit is not given where it duplicates credit previously earned by the student at the university or accepted by the university for work done elsewhere. All examinations are given monthly by University Testing and Scanning Services [2].

The General Studies requirement in natural science (SQ and SG) and literacy and critical inquiry (L) are not satisfied by CLEP. There is no limit to the number of CLEP credits that can be used to fulfill the other parts of the General Studies requirement. A student who has received ASU credit for a course due to Special Programs credit may not duplicate the credit by enrolling in the same class for credit at ASU or transferring it to another institution.

Subject Examinations

To obtain credit or placement for all subject exams except English, French, German, and Spanish, a student must receive a score of 50 (Computer Based Testing [CBT] scale) or higher. To obtain credit for College Composition, a student must receive a standard score of 610 (1978 scale), 500 (1986 scale), or 50 (CBT scale). For test scores for French, German, and Spanish, see the CLEP credit table, below.

All equivalency is subject to future review and possible catalog change. For more information, contact University Testing and Scanning Services at 480-965-7146, or visit 1130 E. University Dr., Suite 204, Tempe, AZ.

Students who have taken an advanced placement (AP) course of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB) in their secondary school and who have taken an AP Examination of the CEEB may receive university credit. No credit is given for any examination with a score of 2 or 1. There is no limit to the number of AP credits that can be used to meet the General Studies requirement, including the requirements in natural sciences (SQ and SG) and literacy and critical inquiry (L).

When the scores are received by the university directly from the CEEB, credit is awarded as shown in the Advanced Placement Credit table below.

Credit is awarded for score results at or above the American Council on Education's recommended score if the subject examination is applicable to a program of study at ASU or may be assigned elective credit. To receive credit, a transcript showing the DSST results must be received by ASU directly from the Educational Testing Service.

International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma/Certificate

Students who present an International Baccalaureate Diploma/Certificate may qualify for university credit, depending on the level of the examination and the grade received. Arizona State University grants credit for higher-level courses only. A grade of five qualifies the student to receive credit for up to two introductory courses while a grade of four qualifies a student to receive credit for one introductory course. No credit is awarded for English as a Second Language (English B). Credit is awarded according to the International Baccalaureate Diploma/Certificate Credit table below.

Comprehensive Examinations

A comprehensive examination is intended to permit a student to establish academic credit in a field in which the student has gained experience or competence equivalent to an established university course. Applications are given only for courses listed in the current catalog and only for courses in which a comprehensive examination can serve as a satisfactory measure of accomplishment.

A number of restrictions apply. To be eligible to apply to take a comprehensive examination to establish undergraduate course equivalence, a student must:

1. Have earned not more than 60 semester hours of credit through comprehensive, CLEP, international baccalaureate and advanced placement examinations.
2. Have earned no credit for a duplicate course.
3. Have earned no credit for a course for which this course is a prerequisite.

The decision on the suitability of course material for a comprehensive examination, the development of a comprehensive examination and the administration of an examination are strictly departmental functions. An application is for one course only. The student should complete an application form with the number, title and number of semester hours for the course. When completed, the application must be approved by the student's advisor and the chair of the department responsible for offering the course.

The student must then pay the stated fee for such examinations at Cashiering Services. The receipt must be taken to the departmental office.

The examination is prepared by the instructor who normally conducts the course, and it is comprehensive in nature and scope. The instructor and other experts designated by the chair grade the examination, using letter grades "A+," "A," "A-," "B+," "B," "B-," "C+," "C," "D" or "E." If the grade is "C" or higher, a mark of "Y" is entered on the student's permanent record; otherwise, no entry is made. Credit by examination is indicated as such on the record. The student is notified by mail of the result of the examination. In cases of failure ("D" or "E"), the student is not given an opportunity to repeat the examination.

A student pursuing a second baccalaureate degree may not receive credit by comprehensive examination, but with prior approval of the college, the student may use the examination to waive a course requirement if a grade of "C" or higher is earned.

Proficiency Examinations

Proficiency examinations and auditions are given:

1. To waive a course requirement.
2. To validate certain transfer credits in professional programs.
3. To determine a student's ability in a field where competence is an important consideration.

Detailed information may be obtained from the dean's office of the college in which the student is registered.

Retention and Academic Standards

Class Standing

A student's class standing is determined by the number of hours earned, as shown in the table below.

Class Standing
Student	Hours Earned
Freshman	24 or fewer semester hours earned
Sophomore	25 to 55 semester hours earned
Junior	56 to 86 semester hours earned
Senior	87 or more semester hours earned
Graduate	bachelor's from accredited institution

Academic Good Standing

For the purpose of retention, academic good standing for degree-seeking students is defined as a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00. This standard is in effect for all students, regardless of catalog year, beginning in fall 2013.

A student who does not maintain the minimum GPA standard is placed on academic probation or is disqualified. A student on academic probation is in conditional good standing and is permitted to enroll.

Students on academic probation must meet with an academic success specialist to discuss academic success strategies for the subsequent semester and will be required to take UNI 220 Academic Refresher. In addition, students who have fewer than 24 credit hours will be required to participate in the ASU Pathway for Achieving Student Success Program. Students who successfully complete UNI 220 and participate in the PASS program will get an additional semester of academic probation before being disqualified. More information on the PASS program can be found here: <https://studentsuccess.asu.edu/pass> [1].

To transfer from one college to another within the university or to be eligible for readmission, a student must have an ASU GPA of 2.00 or higher. The GPA determining good standing is computed on courses taken only at ASU.

For purposes of retention or transfer, an individual college may set higher GPA standards; otherwise, the university standards prevail. See the college sections of this catalog or contact the college deans' offices for statements regarding college retention standards.

Dean's List

Undergraduate students who earn 12 or more graded semester hours (“A+,” “A,” “A-,” “B+,” “B,” “B-,” “C+,” “C,” “D” or “E”) during a semester in residence at ASU with a GPA of 3.50 or higher are eligible for the Dean’s List. A notation regarding Dean’s List achievement appears on the unofficial transcript.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

The university is required to publish and enforce standards of satisfactory academic progress for certain students (e.g., student athletes, students receiving financial aid and students receiving veterans benefits).

Certification of satisfactory progress for student athletes is verified by the academic advisor and the dean’s designee for certifying satisfactory progress. Certification of satisfactory progress for students receiving financial aid or veterans benefits is verified by Student Financial Assistance or the Veterans Services offices, respectively. Students should contact their advisors or the appropriate office for additional information on satisfactory progress requirements.

Probation

A student’s college assumes responsibility for enforcing academic standards and may place on probation any student who has failed to maintain good standing as previously defined. For purposes of probation and retention, an individual college may set higher GPA standards. A student on academic probation is required to observe any rules or limitations the college may impose as a condition for retention.

Ineligible

A student who is placed on ineligible status at the end of a semester is considered ineligible to continue in the college or school at the end of the following semester, even if the student meets ASU good standing requirements but not the conditions imposed for retention by the college or school. At the close of the semester, a student deemed ineligible will receive from the college or school a letter that will outline options available for continuing at ASU in another college.

Ineligibility is exercised at the discretion of the college. An ineligible student is notified by the dean of the college and is not allowed to register in a fall or spring semester at the university, unless arrangements are made to transfer to another college. A student who has already registered for a future semester will be withdrawn from classes. An ineligible student who does not change to a different major may not attend ASU. A student who is ineligible may apply for reinstatement to the college standards committee. An ineligible student may not attend ASU as a nondegree student.

Disqualification

A student who is placed on probation at the end of a semester is subject to disqualification by the college or school at the end of the following semester if the conditions imposed for retention are not met.

Disqualification is exercised at the discretion of the college or school. A disqualified student is notified by the dean of the college and is not allowed to register in a fall or spring semester at the university. If the student has already registered for a future fall or spring semester, the registration is canceled. A student who has been disqualified may apply for reinstatement to the college standards committee. A disqualified student may not attend as a nondegree student. If a disqualified student elects to attend another university, any credits earned there will not affect the ASU cumulative GPA. A course repeated elsewhere will not result in a replacement of a grade earned at ASU. Disqualified students must consult with an academic advisor to determine eligibility to attend ASU in the summer session, to raise the ASU cumulative GPA.

Reinstatement

A disqualified or ineligible student who has skipped a fall or spring semester must follow the procedures for readmission. See readmission to the university [2].

A disqualified or ineligible student who has not skipped a semester may submit an application for reinstatement to the college of his or her major. If the student wishes to transfer to a different college, he or she may submit an application for reinstatement to the college into which he or she wishes to transfer. An ineligible student who does not skip a fall or spring semester must follow the ineligible procedures. See ineligible status.

Admission and Registration

Admission/Readmission

Undergraduate admission:
students.asu.edu/admission

Undergraduate readmission:
students.asu.edu/readmission

Graduate admission/readmission:
graduate.asu.edu

Law College:
law.asu.edu

Students who are required to be advised must do so before submitting a registration request. Non-degree undergraduate students may not enroll for more than eight semester hours. Students who have been previously enrolled in a degree program at ASU are not permitted to attend in non-degree status.

Registration Procedures Overview

my.asu.edu

- Step 1: Log into My ASU to view your online enrollment appointment. An enrollment appointment is the date/time that you may begin to register for classes. You may register online or in person anytime after your assigned enrollment appointment begins through end of the drop/add period.*
- Step 2: Check for registration holds on My ASU. If you have an academic advising hold, plan to meet with your academic advisor well before your enrollment appointment occurs.
- Step 3: Review degree and catalog requirements.
- Step 4: Review your Major Map on My ASU (undergraduate students only).
- Step 5: Search for available classes using the Class Search at my.asu.edu.
- Step 6: Register for classes at my.asu.edu or in person at any registrar location <https://students.asu.edu/contact/office-university-registrar>

Step 7: Pay tuition. If you do not have adequate financial aid to cover tuition costs, and if you do not pay tuition by the applicable deadline, you will be enrolled in the Tuition Installment Plan and assessed a non-refundable $100 resident/$200 non-resident enrollment fee.

*Students may register for Fall 2012 through August 24, 2012 for Session A, August 29, 2012 for session C, and October 18, 2012 for Session B. However, a $50 late registration fee is charged beginning Monday, August 13, 2012. This fee does not apply to ASU online students.

Registration/Enrollment General Information

Enrollment Appointments

All students are assigned an online enrollment appointment which will permit registration for the Fall 2012 semester. Students should log into My ASU to view their enrollment appointment as soon as possible.

An enrollment appointment is the date and time that a student may begin registering for the next semester. Students may register in person or online anytime after the assigned enrollment appointment begins through the end of the drop/add period.

If you are an entering freshman in the fall semester, your enrollment appointment will be the date of your orientation program. If you are not an entering freshmen, and you do not have an enrollment appointment assigned, contact the University Registrar's Office at 480.965.3124.

Building Your Class Schedule

ASU's registration system will allow you to search the Schedule of Classes/Class Search and build a fall class registration request. You can save that plan (shopping cart) and then later return to it. When you return, you will be able to see if the class status has changed since you built and saved the plan. You can view the online Schedule of Classes/Class Search via My ASU (my.asu.edu). The Fall 2012 Schedule of Classes is available Monday, February 27, 2012.

Registration, cont.

Submitting Your Registration Request

Once you have submitted your schedule request, you will be able to immediately see which courses were successfully added to your schedule. Note: You may choose to audit a course in which case you attend and participate in the class but do not earn credit. Be sure to obtain instructor’s approval before registering and paying fees. Refer to your catalog and see your academic advisor for additional information about audit enrollment.

Drop/Add

Anytime after you have a class schedule, you will be able to drop and add courses via My ASU or in person at any registration location through the published drop/add deadline. During this period, you may drop one or more (but not all) scheduled classes. Classes that are dropped do not appear on the student's transcript. A student who wishes to withdraw from his/her last course during the drop/add period must process a complete withdrawal. Colleges or departments may require approvals before a student can add specific classes.

Swap

You can use the swap feature when you want to ensure that you do not drop a class you are already registered for until you have successfully added a replacement class.

Registration Holds

You will be able to view a list of holds that will prevent registration. Items that can prevent you from registering are: unpaid fees, academic advising requirements, immunizations, etc. Do not delay your ability to get the classes you want. Take care of your University business now to eliminate any holds.

To Dos

You will be able to view a list of your To Do items. To Do items display tasks you need to complete, such as completing a financial aid form. To Do items do not restrict registration. However, if you do not accomplish an open To Do item, it can become a Hold on your record. Follow the instructions or contact the appropriate person to make arrangements to complete each pending task as soon as possible.

A photo ID is required to process transactions in person.

In order to process any registration transaction in a student's absence, a third party must present their photo ID and written authorization signed by the student. A Registration by Proxy Form for a third party must present their photo ID and written purpose is available on the web at students.asu.edu/forms/registration or at any University registration site.

Extended Hours

Check online at students.asu.edu/academic-calendar for the latest schedule of extended hours and for registration sites. Available services include class registration, drop/add and withdrawal, official and unofficial transcripts, enrollment verification, curriculum changes, and distribution of forms.

Before taking advantage of the extended hours, it may be a good idea to call the appropriate office directly for their extended hour times.

Measles Immunization Policy

Arizona State University requires new freshman, transfer, and graduate students to submit proof of two doses of MMR—Measels(rubeola), Mumps and Rubella(German Measles). This is a mandatory requirement for all college students born on or after

January 1, 1957. You will not be permitted to register, add, or drop classes without having met this requirement. If you cannot locate your documentation, the MMR vaccinations and lab test are available for a minimal fee at ASU Health Service.

One of the following may be used as documentation:

- Documentation of two MMR vaccines with the first at around 12 months or older and the second vaccination at least 28 days apart.
- Documentation by a physician of having had Rubeola, Mumps and Rubella diseases.
- Documentation of a positive lab test showing immunity to RUBEOLA IgG (Measles=Hard measles/10 day measles).

When submitting your documentation, please include the cover page that can be found at <https://students.asu.edu/forms/measles-immunization-form>

Advising

Admitted undergraduate students who have declared a major should contact an academic advisor in the college or school of their major for advising and for assistance in determining the catalog under which they will graduate. Exploratory/undeclared students should contact University College for academic advising. Many programs require academic advisement prior to registration for classes.

Visit <http://students.asu.edu/advising/directory> for more information regarding ASU Academic Advising.

Instructor-Initiated Drop Option

The instructor of a course has full authority within departmental or other higher-level policies to decide whether or not class attendance is required. During the second week of classes in Fall or Spring, or the first four days of each Summer Session, the instructor can drop a student for non-attendance. In classes which are full, this will allow accommodation of other students requesting the class and help instructors avoid excessive overrides. Instructor-initiated drops for non-attendance must be based upon concrete evidence of non-attendance and be signed by the Dean or Dean's Designee in the college offering the course. The college will notify the student by mail at the student's currently posted local address. Nothing in this policy contradicts any other policy regarding attendance, religious holidays, or the student's responsibility to notify the instructor in case of absences.

Note: Students should be aware that non-attendance will not automatically result in being dropped. Instructors have the right to exercise this option at their discretion. It is also the student's responsibility to contact the instructor before the end of the first week of classes if absences during that period cannot be avoided.

Withdrawal Policy

Course Withdrawal

After the drop/add period and up to September 12 for Session A, November 6 for Session B, and November 7 for Session C, a student may withdraw from any course with a grade of "W". Withdrawals may be initiated online using My ASU or in person at any registration site. Courses with alternate begin and end dates may have an adjusted withdrawal schedule. Courses from which the student withdraws will remain on the student's transcript with a grade of "W". Any appropriate refunds are issued based on the published Refund Schedule and the date of the withdrawal. To determine whether you will be eligible for a refund after withdrawing, see the Refund Schedule on page 20. It is the student's responsibility to initiate a withdrawal if unable to attend a class. Failure to do so will result in a grade of "E" being assigned for the class. Although students who do not attend class during the first week of a term may be administratively dropped from the class, such withdrawal is at the discretion of the instructor. In special circumstances, a medical withdrawal or academic record change maybe authorized by the Dean of an academic unit if the student petitions for the change and presents documentation of reasons for being unable to attend the class. Please note academic record changes can only be requested after the semester has ended. It is the student's responsibility to petition for such change if appropriate.

Complete Withdrawal

A student may withdraw from all of his or her classes (the student will no longer be enrolled in any classes for the specified semester) through the transaction deadline or the last day of classes for any semester. A grade of “W” is awarded for each class from which the student withdraws. The complete withdrawal deadline is October 12, 2012 for Session A, and December 11, 2012 for Sessions B and C. Beginning the first date of the semester, undergraduate students are required to request a complete withdrawal in person. Making a complete withdrawal from the University is a difficult decision, and ASU has many resources in place to help. Because there may be serious academic and financial consequences to processing a complete withdrawal, you should view complete withdrawal as a final resort. You are encouraged to meet with your academic advisor to explore alternatives.

Note: A student may not avoid any penalty for academic dishonesty by withdrawing from a course. A student may be reinstated to a course to receive a penalty of a reduced or failing grade, or XE. Remember: If you have financial aid or scholarships, be sure you understand minimum credit hour requirements for maintaining those awards.

Military Withdrawal

To completely withdraw due to military activation, immediately contact the Veterans Benefits & Certifications section, in the Pat Tillman Veterans Center. For the Tempe campus, call 480.965.7723; for the West campus call 602.543.8220, to determine whether the call to active duty qualifies for the “Military Activation” policy. For example, students reporting to “boot camp” or required training may not qualify for this policy. Students who qualify will receive some regulatory relief in the recalculation of financial aid and the calculation of tuition and fee charges. Students are also given options regarding their academic records, e.g., complete withdrawal, incomplete grades, etc.

Financial Assistance Withdrawal Policy

Circumstances may necessitate complete withdrawal from the University. For financial aid, a complete withdrawal from the full term or any individual session can affect financial aid eligibility. The outcome of complete withdrawal on your financial aid depends on when the complete withdrawal is initiated and the types of financial aid you received. In all cases, your financial aid must be recalculated.

Official Complete Withdrawal

Federal regulations require the recalculation of Title IV financial aid in cases where a student received financial aid and officially

Withdrew on or before the point which 60% of the semester has lapsed. If a return of aid is required, ASU returns the unearned portion of Title IV financial aid funds to the Federal Programs on behalf of the student. Any return of financial aid funds made by the University will be charged to the student’s University account. Payment to the University will be due on demand. Title IV funds include the Federal Pell Grant, the Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG), the Federal Perkins Loan, the Leveraging Educational Assistance Partnership (LEAP), the Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG), the Science and Mathematics Access to Retain Talent Grant (SMART), the Federal Teach Grant, the Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant, the Federal Direct Subsidized and Unsubsidized Student Loans and the Federal PLUS Loan. Federal Work Study earnings and non-Title IV aid are not included in this formula. However, the student may not continue to work under the Federal Work Study program after their official date of withdrawal.

University Testing Requirements

All new, transfer, or readmitted undergraduate students must meet one of the following testing requirements:

- Take the ACT English, SAT verbal examination, WritePlacer Plus section of the ACCUPLACER, or TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) and have scores submitted to ASU.
- Receive a score of 4 or 5 for the advanced placement examination in English offered by the College Entrance Examination Board and have scores submitted to ASU.
- Take the CLEP College Composition exam, earning a score of 50 that qualifies for placement in ENG 102, and have scores submitted to ASU.
- Have previously taken or be currently enrolled in WAC101, WAC107, ENG101, ENG102, ENG105, ENG107, or ENG108 at ASU. If the course was taken at ASU before 1980, contact the Records and Enrollment Services Office in SSV140 or at 480.965.3124, before registering for classes.
- Transfer a course equivalent to ENG101, ENG102, ENG105, ENG107, or ENG108 with a grade of “C” (2.00) or higher.

An official transcript showing the grade must be received by ASU. If a student transfers an equivalent composition course from a Maricopa County Community District College, the equivalency is automatically posted, and the student need not take further action. A student transferring a composition course from any other college or university must have the course evaluated for equivalency. Please visit <https://students.asu.edu/node/8476> for an equivalency form. The student should visit the Writing Programs Office, in LL314, or call 480.965.3853 for further assistance.

Placement Exams

A. First-Year Composition

Placement in First-Year Composition courses (WAC101 followed by ENG101 the next semester, or ENG101, or ENG105) is determined by the score earned on the ACT English, SAT Verbal Exam, or Accuplacer. International students from non-English speaking countries will be placed into First-Year Composition courses (WAC107 followed by ENG107 the next semester, or ENG107) according to SAT, ACT, Accuplacer, or TOEFL scores. The Accuplacer may be taken once on campus at the University Testing and Scanning Services, located at 1130 E. University Dr. Suite 204 in Tempe, at regularly scheduled times. Contact the UTSS at 480.965.7146 to make an appointment. Placement in First-Year Composition will be determined as follows:

SAT scores shown are based on the scale for the SAT English test which was first offered in April 1995. Scores on the SAT taken before April 1995 are converted to the scale when entered on the computer. Qualified deaf and hearing-impaired students must receive authorization through the Disability Resource Center in order to register for an appropriate First-Year Composition course.

Students who have taken the Advanced Placement Exam in English offered by the College Entrance Examination Board, the International Baccalaureate English A Exam, or the CLEP College Composition Exam, can contact the Writing Programs Office at 480.965.3853 for more information about placement into first-year Composition courses.

International students who have taken the IELTS exam should contact the Writing Programs Office at 480-965-3853 for placement information.

B. Mathematics Course Placement Exams

Arizona State University requires the Math Placement Test to assess a student's prerequisite knowledge for placement into several mathematics courses up to and including first semester calculus. The instrument used for testing is a powerful artificial-intelligence based assessment tool that zeros in on the strengths and weaknesses of a student's mathematical knowledge, reports its findings to the student and then, if necessary, provides the student with a learning environment for bringing this knowledge up to an appropriate level for course placement.

All incoming students must complete the Math Placement Test prior to enrollment unless they have transferred an equivalent prerequisite course. The time limit to finish the assessment is 24 hours.

Student Identification

ASU Sun Devil Cards

Students are required to provide an ASU ID card to receive many ASU services, gain access to educational records, or gain access into secure buildings, classrooms and labs. Each student admitted to ASU now may choose between the NEW Pitchfork ID Debit MasterCard® offered by MidFirst Bank¹ and the basic Sun Card. The NEW Pitchfork Card includes both ASU secure building access and an official Sun Devil Checking Account in a single card. Both cards act as official university IDs and cost $25*, which may be paid with cash, check, Visa®, MasterCard®, or applied to the student's university account. As proof of identity, students will need their ten-digit ASU ID and a legal photo ID (driver's license, passport, or Military ID, etc.). Call 480.965.CARD (2273) or visit <http://cardservices.asu.edu> for more information. Both the NEW Pitchfork Card and the Sun Card contain a 16-bit iCLASS® chip that allows easy access into classrooms and residence halls without the use of a key.

Do not punch holes in your card, or you will damage your card's functionality.

Both the NEW Pitchfork Card and the Sun Card can be used for a variety of services.

Residency Classification

Residency (tuition) status is initially determined by the application for admission at the time a student applies to the University. Non-resident students who feel they may qualify for resident tuition status must file a petition for reclassification no later than the last day of regular registration. For general information about the requirements, consult the ASU General Catalog or the web at students.asu.edu/residency. Residency classification is a complex process and you are encouraged to petition early during the reclassification period. It is recommended that you submit the appropriate residency petition form along with your $50.00 non-refundable petition fee to the Residency Classification Office by the appropriate deadline date. Deadline for submitting a reclassification petition for Fall 2012 is August 29, 2012. Failure to petition by the last day of regular registration constitutes a waiver of the student's rights for residency reclassification or appeal for the current semester.

Citizenship or Lawful Presence Requirement

Arizona law requires that students who are seeking consideration for in-state tuition status or aid that is funded in part or in whole by state money to provide verification of citizenship, permanent residency or other lawful immigration status. Most students will be able to be verified through automatic processes such as the financial aid application (FAFSA). Students choosing to go through the FAFSA process should be verified no later than the beginning of July for the Fall term, January for the Spring term and June for the summer term. If the FAFSA has not cleared the verification requirement by the recommended month it is highly possible that documentation is still required.

Tuition Billing

Tuition charges will be billed on your student account and may be viewed online through My ASU (my.asu.edu) after registration. (From My ASU, select My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side.)

By registering for classes you agree to pay all applicable tuition and registration fees.

If tuition is not paid by the applicable tuition due date, or financial aid is not awarded and accepted by the due date, you will be automatically enrolled in the Tuition Installment Plan and charged a non-refundable enrollment fee of $100 for resident students and $200 for non-resident students. For students with accepted financial aid sufficient to cover tuition charges, financial aid will automatically pay tuition charges and no action is necessary. For students with accepted financial aid insufficient to cover tuition charges, the payment deadline is extended to Wednesday, September 12, 2012, after which students with unpaid tuition charges in excess of pending aid will be automatically enrolled in the Tuition Installment Plan and charged the non-refundable fee.

Online Billing

Online billing provides reliable and secure access to billing statements any time of day from anywhere in the world along with immediate access to current account information. To view and pay your charges, login to my.asu.edu, click on My Finances located in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side, then click "Make a Payment". Online billing statements are also available through QuikPAY by clicking "View Account". Students are responsible to review their ASU e-mail account for notification of billing statements and to login to their student account on My ASU for current billing information. Billing statements are not mailed.

Students may authorize others to view and pay their ASU student account through QuikPAY. Log in to my.asu.edu, select My Finances on the left-hand side, then click "Make a Payment". Once directed to QuikPAY select Authorized Payers from the left windowpane and enter the requested information for each person to be authorized on the account. Authorized Payers must have a valid email account.

eCheck Payments

eChecks are ASU's preferred payment method and are accepted online with no service charge or additional cost to the student. Make eCheck payments on QuikPAY by logging in to My ASU (my.asu.edu), select My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side, then click "Make a Payment" to be directed to the online payment processor. eChecks are a fast and simple payment method that can be made from regular U.S. checking and savings accounts in U.S. dollars. Checks issued from money market accounts, credit card companies, mutual funds, brokerage accounts, home equity or other lines of credit cannot be processed as an eCheck. Additional information is available at students.asu.edu/tuitionandbilling, see Payment Options.

Credit Card Payments

ASU does not directly accept credit or debit card payments for tuition or other student account charges. The University has arranged for a third-party processor to accept MasterCard, Discover, and American Express credit and debit card payments online. The processor will charge a 2.5% service charge for credit and debit card payments in addition to the ASU payment amount. The service charge is not paid to ASU and is non-refundable, even if related payment to ASU is refunded. Credit and debit card payments may be made on QuikPAY by logging in to My ASU (my.asu.edu). Click on My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side, then click "Make a Payment" to be directed to the online payment processor. Credit and debit card payments are not accepted by mail, in person, or over the phone. VISA credit and debit cards are not accepted.

Personal Checks

Checks payable to Arizona State University and without restrictive endorsement are generally acceptable. Mail checks to Cashiering Services, Arizona State University, PO Box 870303, Tempe, AZ 85287-0303. Include your ASU ID number. Check payments should be mailed at least two weeks prior to the applicable tuition due date to avoid automatic enrollment in the Tuition Installment Plan. Check payments are also accepted in person at all campuses. See Tuition Hours on page 16.

Tuition Installment Plan

The Tuition Installment Plan provides students with the option to budget payment of tuition, program tuition, and health insurance over several months. Students may enroll themselves in the plan through my.asu.edu or they will be automatically enrolled if tuition charges are not paid in full by the applicable due date. There is a per-semester non-refundable fee of $100 for resident students and $200 for non-resident students. For information on how the fees are broken down, go to students.asu.edu/tuitioninstallmentplan. Please note that the enrollment fee is non-refundable, even if the student withdraws from classes.

All students are eligible to enroll in the Tuition Installment Plan beginning July 1, after they register for classes. Once a student enrolls for classes, he or she will not be withdrawn from classes during the current semester for non-payment. Students must withdraw from classes if they decide not to attend. If students enrolled in the plan do not make scheduled payments, monthly late fees will be assessed until the account is brought current on payments, registration in future semesters will be blocked, and access to other University services, such as official transcripts and diplomas, will be withheld.

Tuition Payment with Financial Aid

Financial aid is posted to your student account and used to pay tuition and other student account charges, with any excess financial aid immediately refunded to you. Any institutional charges incurred after financial aid disbursement are the student's responsibility to pay by the due date. Financial aid awards generally only pay charges in the semester for which the aid is intended, and you may be refunded excess financial aid for one semester and still have a balance owed for another semester. If you receive a refund, ensure that all charges have been paid by logging in to My ASU (my.asu.edu) and clicking on My Finances.

For students with accepted financial aid sufficient to cover tuition charges, financial aid will automatically pay tuition charges and no further action is necessary. For students with accepted financial aid insufficient to cover tuition charges, the payment deadline is extended to Wednesday, September 12, 2012, after which students with unpaid tuition charges in excess of pending aid will be automatically enrolled in the Tuition Installment Plan.

Note: If financial aid is not awarded and accepted by the tuition due date, tuition charges must be paid in full to avoid automatic enrollment in the Tuition Installment Plan and assessment of the non-refundable Tuition Installment Plan fee of $100 for resident students and $200 for non-resident students.

By registering for classes you agree to pay all applicable tuition and registration fees. Classes are not automatically cancelled for non-attendance or non-payment.

Taxability of Scholarships and Fellowships: Scholarships, grants, fellowships and stipends (but not loan funds) are taxable income to the recipient, except for the portion of these funds used for tuition, registration, other University fees, and books, supplies and equipment required for the courses being taken. Special tax regulations also apply to non-resident alien students and may require withholding of taxes at the time of aid disbursement to these individuals. Information on the taxability of scholarships can be obtained from the following IRS publications and forms: Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Education, Pub 519-U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens, Form 1040EZ and instructions - Income Tax Return for Single and Joint Filers with No Dependents, Form 1040NR and instructions - U.S. Non-resident Alien Income Tax Return. These publications and forms can be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service at their toll free number 1.800.829.FORM or online at www.irs.gov.

The Student Financial Assistance Withdrawal Policy will apply when a student receives financial aid funds and subsequently withdraws, drops out, takes an unapproved leave of absence, fails to return from an approved leave of absence, is expelled, or otherwise fails to complete the period of enrollment for which he or she was charged. See page 8 in this handbook or online at students.asu.edu/financialaidpayment.

Students with loans who would like to cancel or reduce their loans must inform the Student Financial Assistance Office in person within 14 days of the disbursement.

Tuition Payment with Prepaid or College Savings Plans

Prepaid or College Savings Plan payments made payable to Arizona State University are generally accepted. Mail checks to Cashiering Services, Arizona State University, PO Box 870303, Tempe, AZ 85287-0303. Include the student's ASU ID number. Prepaid or College Savings Plan payments should be mailed at least two weeks prior to the applicable tuition due date to avoid automatic enrollment in the Tuition Installment Plan and assessment of the non-refundable installment plan fee. Notification to Arizona State University of pending payments by the Prepaid or College Savings Plan does not exempt a student from automatic enrollment in the Tuition Installment Plan and assessment of the non-refundable installment plan fee.

Sponsorship by Approved Governmental and Third-Party Agencies

Submit sponsorship authorization in person at the Student Accounts Office or by fax to 480.965.9242. Failure to do so by the tuition payment deadline will result in automatic enrollment in the Tuition Installment Plan and assessment of a non-refundable enrollment fee of $100 for resident students and $200 for non-resident students. An acceptable letter of authorization must be submitted to the Student Accounts Office by September 26, 2012.

A $75 per semester Sponsored Tuition Fee will be assessed to each sponsored student. Sponsored students are responsible for all tuition, fees, and late charges if the sponsoring agency fails to pay by the due date of the invoice. Questions about third party sponsorship may be directed to the Student Accounts Office at 480.965.2436 or 480.965.4029.

International students who are required to carry student health insurance and are using coverage through their sponsor must receive approval from ASU Campus Health Services, Room 124, 480.965.2411. Governmental and Third-Party Agencies must have offices in the United States with invoices directed to a U.S. address.

Employee Reduced In-state Tuition

Partial waivers are available to faculty and staff who are employed at least 50% time within the state University system, and to their spouses and dependent children. Employees must fill out the Employee Tuition Waiver Form every semester they attend, which can be obtained at Human Resources, the Student Accounts Office, or at asu.edu/hr/forms/index.html. The completed form may be submitted to Student Accounts (Tempe Campus), Student Services Building Room 230, or at the West, Polytechnic, or Downtown Phoenix campus Cashiering Offices. The form may also be faxed to 480.965.9242. The tuition waiver does not cover 100% of your tuition and fees. The non-waived portion of the tuition and fees will be billed on your student account and should be paid by the due date to avoid late fees.

Please submit early.

Non-residents are not eligible for Tuition Waivers. Please contact Residency Classification at 480.965.7712. Residency processing can be time-consuming, so apply early. You must be employed on the first day of the semester to be eligible for employee reduced in-state tuition. Employee Tuition Waivers must be processed by the Student Accounts Office on or before the first day of the session to qualify for reduced tuition. Waivers submitted after the first day of the session will not be accepted and you will be held responsible for the full tuition and fees.

Graduate Assistants

Students identified as Research and Teaching Assistants receive tuition assistance if they meet employment and class enrollment requirements. RA/TA remissions do not cover 100% of tuition and fees. If eligible for a remission, the remaining tuition and fees will be billed on your student account with a October 25, 2012 due date.

Differential Program Tuition

Certain graduate, undergraduate, colleges and programs assess additional differential tuition and program tuition which differs according to college and/or program. Contact your program advisor for details on these fees or see the Tuition Estimator at students.asu.edu/costs.

Excess Hours Tuition

The Arizona Legislature enacted legislation in 2005 (A.R.S. § 15-1626) that establishes credit hour thresholds for undergraduate students who attend a public university in Arizona. Undergraduate students who enroll for credit hours beyond the applicable threshold of 145 hours are required to pay a tuition surcharge. The tuition surcharge is billed in addition to tuition, program tuition, mandatory fees and class fees. See students.asu.edu/tuitionandfees for additional information.

Special Class Fees

Special class fees are assessed based on enrollment in specific classes. Class fees are published with each class through class search.

Financial Aid Trust Fee

All students are assessed a mandatory financial aid trust fee as authorized by the Arizona Legislature to create a Financial Aid Trust Fund, from which Financial Aid Trust Grants are awarded under the usual aid eligibility criteria. Fees collected from students are matched by the State of Arizona. See the Tuition and Fees Schedule at students.asu.edu/tuitionandfees.

Technology Fee

All students are assessed a mandatory technology fee as authorized by the Arizona Board of Regents to fund technology initiatives and improve access on all campuses. See the Tuition and Fees Schedule at students.asu.edu/tuitionandbilling.

Student Programs Fee

All students are assessed a mandatory student programs fee as authorized by the Arizona Board of Regents to provide funding for new or enhanced facilities and student support programming. See the Tuition and Fees schedule at students.asu.edu/tuitionandfees.

Arizona Students' Association (ASA) Fee

The Arizona Students' Association is a non-profit, higher education advocacy organization that represents Arizona public university students to the ABOR, State Legislature, and U.S. Congress. During 1996-1997, students at the state universities voted to change the mechanism for funding the ASA to a fee, which will be charged to each student each semester. Any refunds for this fee will be provided through ASA Central Office at 1.877.294.6900 (toll free) or 602.294.6900. You may also pickup a refund form to complete from the ASASU Business Office (Tempe campus) in the Memorial Union Room 311 or Student Life (West campus) in UCB 221. The refund forms will be available for the first 21 days of classes.

Recreation Fee

All students are assessed a recreation fee allowing access to recreation facilities on all four ASU campuses. See the Tuition and Fees Schedule at students.asu.edu/tuitionandfees. Faculty/staff who are attending classes and all online students are not assessed the recreation fee. Please contact the Student Recreation Complex at 480.965.8900 for information on how to become a member.

Health and Wellness Fee

All students are assessed a health and wellness fee as authorized by the Arizona Board of Regents to enhance services for students who seek both preventative and acute care and to expand outreach and wellness education and services.

Student Service Facility Fee

All students are assessed a Student Services Facility Fee as authorized by the Arizona Board of Regents to provide funding for new and enhanced student service facilities. See the Tuition and Fees schedule at students.asu.edu/tuitionandfees.

Late Registration Fee

All students who register Sunday, August 12, 2012 and after, will be assessed a late registration fee of $50.00. Registration after the published deadline may be permitted under extraordinary circumstances if approved by an authorized College designee. Late fees are not refundable.

Tuition Receipt

For students requiring tuition receipts for insurance, reimbursement, or other reasons, login to my.asu.edu and click My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side, then click View History and select the Tuition Receipt tab at the top of the page. For in person assistance or additional documentation, see campus locations under "Tuition Payment Hours", page 16.

Delinquent Financial Obligations

Students with delinquent accounts will not be allowed to register for classes or obtain official transcripts or diplomas. The University reserves the right to involuntarily withdraw students with severely delinquent accounts from current semester courses. University billings not paid by the due date are subject to monthly late charges beginning 30 days past due and continuing monthly until paid in full. The monthly late charge for past due balances between $20-$50 is $5, for balances between $51-$400 is $10, for balances between $401-$1,000 is $25, for balances between $1,001-$3,000 is $50, for balances between $3,001-$5,000 is $75, and for balances greater than $5,000 is $100. Former students with outstanding charges may be referred to an outside collection agency with late fee assessment continuing monthly until paid in full.

Returned Checks

A $25 fee is assessed for returned checks and eChecks. Students with multiple returned checks or eChecks are subject to a permanent registration hold requiring advanced payment in secure funds prior to registration or access to other University services.

Student Health Insurance

Eligibility: Group Health insurance is available to:

- Undergraduate students registered for at least seven units or have a consortium agreement to take courses at another qualified college with an overall credit hour total of at least seven units
- Graduate students enrolled in degree or certificate programs, and taking at least three credit hours or one dissertation/thesis hour
- Group Health Insurance is available to undergraduate students registered for at least seven units, or have a consortium agreement to take courses at a qualified college with an overall credit hour total of at least seven units, graduate students enrolled in degree or certificate programs, and taking at least 3 credit hours or one dissertation/thesis hour. Student Health Insurance enrollment is an available option through My ASU (my.asu.edu) by selecting Health and Wellness in the Quick Links. Open enrollment is online through the first two weeks of class.
- International student enrollment in Student Health Insurance is mandatory and the cost of insurance is automatically added to registration fees. Waiver exception may apply. For additional information or waiver application <http://students.asu.edu/internationalstudenthealth>

Student Health Insurance enrollment is available through My ASU (my.asu.edu) by selecting Health and Wellness in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side of the page. Once enrolled for Student Health Insurance, you will be automatically re-enrolled into the plan each subsequent semester once you have registered for classes. The premium will be billed to your student account.

Coverage may be added or dropped until September 5, 2012. Complete withdrawal from the University on or before September 5, 2012 will not result in automatic cancellation of student health insurance. Go to my.asu.edu and select Health and Wellness in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side to cancel enrollment in student health insurance. The insurance cannot be cancelled if complete withdrawal from the University occurs after September 5, 2012, or if the insurance has been utilized.

Additional information about coverage, eligibility, spouse and dependent coverage, cost, payment options and coverage limits, can be found at students.asu.edu/health or Aetna Student Health enrollment information.

Institutional Refund Policy

Tuition and Fees

Tuition and fees are subject to a 100% refund if enrollment is officially cancelled within the refund period. In the Fall semester, for classes eight weeks or longer, the refund period is two weeks, and for classes shorter in length the refund period is one week. For Fall 2012 classes, 8 weeks or longer, the 100% refund period extends through the first two weeks of the semester to September 5, 2012. Tuition and fees are non-refundable thereafter.

Beginning the first day of classes, undergraduate students are required to work with a Student Retention Coordinator to facilitate the withdrawal process. For more information call 480.965.0493

The 100% refund period is one week for sessions shorter than eight weeks and dynamically dated classes. All refunds are less any amounts owed to the University and are subject to payment holding periods. Students withdrawing for medical or other extenuating circumstances must contact their college to initiate the process. Tuition is non-refundable after the first week of these sessions/classes.

The University provides a prorated refund for students receiving financial aid; therefore, the refund schedule is the minimum amount refundable to these students. Withdrawal or cancellation occurs on the calendar day that withdrawal is processed either in person at any Registrar site or online using My ASU. See students.asu.edu/financialaidpayment for the Financial Aid Withdrawal Policy.

Student Account Refund (Disbursement)

Financial aid is posted to your student account and used to pay University charges such as tuition and Residential Life fees. Refunds of excess financial aid will be processed beginning the week before classes and will continue to be processed throughout the semester. Any changes to your schedule that results in a fee increase or any other fees incurred after financial aid disbursement, will be your responsibility to pay by the due date. You may view details of your student account, including financial aid refunds, by logging into my.asu.edu and selecting My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side, then clicking "View History".

Note: To receive your financial aid refund beginning the week before classes, you must register for classes, complete your financial aid packet, and accept your loans at least two weeks before the semester begins. Financial aid refunds will be mailed or direct deposited to your bank account.

Refund by direct deposit to your bank account is available and is the most convenient way to receive student account refunds. Direct deposit enrollment is available at My ASU (my.asu.edu) by selecting My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left hand side, then selecting Direct Deposit Enrollment in the Helpful Links section on the right. Further information is available at students.asu.edu/tuitionandbilling or in the Student Accounts Office on the 2nd floor of the Student Services Building (Tempe campus). Direct deposit enrollment must be completed a minimum of two weeks prior to your refund being issued. For students not enrolled in direct deposit, or who do not meet the direct deposit enrollment deadline, refund checks will be mailed. Keep your mailing address up to date to ensure that refund checks are received in a timely manner. View and update your address on My ASU by clicking on "My Profile" in the top-right corner. If you request a replacement check there is a $20 per check reissue fee. All student account refund checks will be mailed.

University Policies

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act

General Information

The federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (also known as FERPA, and/or the Buckley Amendment) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. They are:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access.

Students should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The University official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the University official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

Note: Students must provide photo identification in order to access their education records.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.

Students who believe their record is inaccurate or misleading should write to the University official responsible for the record. Clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading.

If the University decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing about the request for amendment. Additional information about the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

Note: FERPA does not address grade disputes or grievances which are pursued through other University and/or college procedures.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interest. School officials are administrators, faculty, professional staff, academic advisors, clerical or support employees, including ASU law enforcement unit personnel and ASU health staff, volunteers, a person or company with whom the University has contracted as its agent, acting with legitimate educational interest to provide a service instead of using University employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, collection agent, service provider); a person serving on the Board of Regents; staff in the Alumni Association and ASU Foundation offices, or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

Additional exception categories may be found in SSM 107-01: Release of Student Information which is located on the web at <http://www.asu.edu/aad/manual/ssm/ssm107-01.html>

A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the interest in an education record is justified under one or more of the following conditions:

- The information or records requested are relevant and necessary to accomplish some task or determination related to the legitimate educational interest of the student;
- the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the University;
- the task or determination is an employment responsibility or a properly assigned subject for the inquirer's determination and/or
- the task or determination is consistent with the purpose for which the records, information, or data are maintained.

Note: A parent of a dependent student may challenge denial of access to the dependent student's record by producing the most current copy of Internal Revenue Form 1040. (Dependency is defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code.) If that form lists the student in question as a dependent, the parent will be required to sign an Affidavit of Dependency which affirms that the student is his/her tax dependent. The affidavit will be retained by the University Registrar's Office and must be renewed each tax year. Upon receipt of these documents, the dependent student records will be made available to the parent as specified under FERPA.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Arizona State University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. Students are encouraged to first contact the University Registrar's Administration Office at 480.965.7302. A complaint may be filed with the Department of Education at the following address:

Family Policy Compliance Office

U.S. Department of Education

400 Maryland Avenue, SW

Washington, DC 20202

Definitions:

Student is any individual formally admitted and is or has been in attendance at ASU. The term does not apply to applicants for admission, nor does it apply to persons who have been admitted but who have not registered.

Education Record is any record(s) directly related to a student and maintained by Arizona State University or by a party acting for the University. This includes any information or data recorded in any medium, including, but not limited to: handwriting, print, computer media, video or audio tape, film, microfilm, and microfiche.

Directory Information (or releasable information) is general information that may be released to anyone without the consent of the student, unless the student indicates otherwise, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent, including:

- Student Name
- Addresses (e.g., local, home, mailing and ASU e-mail, including directory number)

- Telephone Number(s)
- Date of Birth
- College
- Major
- Academic Level
- Dates of Attendance
- Enrollment status (e.g., undergraduate or graduate, full-time or part-time)
- Most Recently Attended Institution
- Participation in Officially Recognized Activities/Sports
- Weight/Height of Members of Athletic Teams
- Degrees, Honors and Awards Received (including National Merit, National Achievement, and National Hispanic Scholars)

Personally Identifiable Information (or non-releasable information) includes all information not defined as directory information, plus any information including directory information that the student has instructed ASU not to release. Personally identifiable information may not be released without the prior written consent of the student, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

Student Control of Directory Information

Students may control release of directory information by submitting the appropriate form to any University registration location.

Unless otherwise requested, a student's name, email address, academic level, college and major may appear in the directory of faculty, staff, and students on ASU's web directory. To avoid the release of directory information in the printed directory, complete the appropriate form located at students.asu.edu/forms/withhold-directory-information-request.

ASU has a policy that regulates and permits the sale of enrolled student directory information only through the University Registrar's Office. Unless otherwise directed by the student, directory information is subject to sale to outside purchasers.

Students accessing education records or receiving University services must provide proof of identification.

Questions or requests for additional information maybe directed to any University registration location. Additional information, including FAQ's, is available on the web at

Discrimination Complaints

Complaints of alleged discrimination in employment and educational programs and activities on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, age, disability, and qualified veteran statuses may be referred to the Office of Equity and Inclusion for review, investigation and resolution. Any employee or student may visit with the Office of Equity and Inclusion to discuss, any concern without fear of jeopardizing job or academic standing with the University.

Sexual Harassment

The University prohibits sexual harassment of employees, students and members of the public and will not tolerate sexual harassment that unlawfully interferes with an individuals work or educational performance or if it creates an intimidating, hostile,

Office of Equity and Inclusion or offensive working, learning, or residential environment. The following conduct shall constitute violation of this policy:

1. Making sexual advances or requesting sexual favors if submission to or rejection of such conduct is the implicit or explicit basis for imposing or granting terms and conditions of employment or education at the University;
2. Making sexual advances, requesting sexual favors, or otherwise discriminating on the basis of gender in a manner that unlawfully creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working, residential, or educational environment at the University or that otherwise unlawfully interferes with an individual's work or educational performance;
3. Engaging in any sexual contact against a person who has not given consent or committing any act of sexual assault, public sexual indecency or sexual abuse against a person who has not given consent, if the act is committed on University property or in connection with any University sponsored event or activity;
4. Acting, recommending action, or refusing to take action in a supervisory position in return for sexual favors, or as a reprisal against a person who has rejected, reported, filed a complaint regarding, or been the object of sexual harassment; or
5. Disregarding, failing to investigate, or delaying investigation of allegations of sexual harassment to the extent that action, reporting, or investigation is appropriate or required by one's supervisory position.

University policy does not prohibit fully consensual amorous relationships. Even an apparently consensual amorous relationship, however, may lead to sexual harassment or other breaches of professional obligations, particularly if one of the individuals in the relationship has a professional responsibility toward or is in a position of authority with respect to the other, such as in the context of instruction, advisement, or supervision. Due to the power difference, it may be difficult to avoid the appearance of favoritism or to assure a truly consensual relationship. Amorous relationships may result in conduct that amounts to sexual harassment or that violates the professional duties of even-handed treatment and maintenance of an atmosphere conducive to learning or working.

Specifically, if involved in an amorous relationship with someone over whom he/she has supervisory authority, the individual must remove himself/herself from any participation in recommendations or decisions affecting, evaluation, employment conditions, instruction, or the academic status of the other person in the relationship, and must inform his/her immediate supervisor. Disability Accommodations

To facilitate the availability of reasonable and effective disability accommodations from the first day of class, qualified students must use the following process:

- Register for classes on their assigned priority enrollment date, and
- Request disability accommodations, from the applicable campus Disability Resource Centers, immediately following Priority Enrollment.

Note: Some accommodations, including but not limited to: alternative print formats, (e.g., Braille, e-text, large print), interpreting services, lab materials conversions, assistive technology, and the hiring of lab assistants, may require up to one semester in preparation time.

To request disability accommodations for ASU classes, both in person and online, contact the DRC on the host campus, i.e., the campus where you are taking the class or in the case of online courses, the campus supporting the class.

NOTE: Disability information is confidential. Disability documentation is required.

ASU Statement on Drug-Free Schools and Campuses

Under federal legislation entitled the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 (“Act”), no institution of higher education shall be eligible to receive funds or any other form of financial assistance under any federal program, including any federally funded or guaranteed student loan program, unless it has adopted and has implemented a program to prevent the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol by students and employees. The Act requires the annual distribution of the following information to students and employees.

Prohibition

It is the goal and policy of Arizona State University (“ASU”) to provide a drug free environment for all University students and employees. To achieve this goal and to comply with federal law, ASU prohibits the unlawful sale, manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, and use of controlled substances on its property or as part of any of its activities.

Every ASU student and employee must abide by the terms of this statement, abide by applicable policies of the Arizona Board of Regents and Arizona State University, and abide by local, state, and federal laws regarding the unlawful possession or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol.

ASU students and employees are subject to all applicable drug and alcohol policies, including policies set forth in the University’s Staff Personnel Policies and Procedures Manual, the Academic Affairs Policies and Procedures Manual, University Student Services Manuals, and the ASU Police Department Policies and Procedures Manual. The following drug and alcohol policies also apply to students and employees: the Arizona Board of Regents’ Code of Conduct and Student Code of Conduct and Arizona State University’s Policy regarding alcohol and other drugs.

Sanctions

Sanctions under federal, state, and local law for the unlawful possession or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol are serious and can range from civil sanctions to criminal convictions including fines and imprisonment. A listing of Arizona penalties can be found at www.azleg.gov/arizonarevisedstatutes.asp?title=13 and a listing of Federal penalties can be found at www.justice.gov/dea/agency/penalties.htm. Sanctions will be imposed on a student who violates a Board of Regents’ or University drug or alcohol policy; those sanctions may include expulsion or suspension, and may also include the requirement that the student participate in a drug education program. Sanctions will be imposed on an employee who violates university drug or alcohol policies which may include termination of employment, progressive discipline, and may also include the requirement that the employee participate in a drug education program.

Health Risks

A. Alcohol

Alcoholic consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increase the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including spouse and child abuse. Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely altering a person’s ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effect just described.

Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life threatening. Long-term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs such as the brain and the liver.

Mothers who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. These infants have irreversible physical abnormalities and mental retardation. In addition, research indicates that children of alcoholic parents are at greater risk than other youngsters of becoming alcoholics.

B. Illicit Drugs

A description of health risks associated with the use of illicit drugs is set forth in the attached Exhibit B.

Treatment, Counseling, and Rehabilitation Programs

Additional information regarding the health risks associated with the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol, drug awareness programs, and drug rehabilitation programs are available to employees and students through Student Health, the Employee Assistance Program and Counseling and Consultation. Classes on drug abuse are offered in the School of Social Work, Departments of Psychology and Counseling, the College of Nursing and the Human Resources Department.

The following offices have the ASU Statement on Drug-Free Schools and Campuses and will provide it on request:

- Office of General Counsel
- Dean's Office in each ASU College
- Human Resources Department
- Division of Graduate Studies
- Provost Offices on each campus
- Student Employment
- Office of Research Development and Administration
- Student Life

For further information about this statement or the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendment of 1989, contact the Office of General Counsel by calling 480.965.4550.

Students who are required to be advised must do so before submitting a registration request. Non-degree undergraduate students may not enroll for more than eight semester hours. Students who have been previously enrolled in a degree program at ASU are not permitted to attend in non-degree status.

Registration Procedures Overview

my.asu.edu

- Step 1: Log into My ASU to view your online enrollment appointment. An enrollment appointment is the date/time that you may begin to register for classes. You may register online or in person anytime after your assigned enrollment appointment begins through end of the drop/add period.*
- Step 2: Check for registration holds on My ASU. If you have an academic advising hold, plan to meet with your academic advisor well before your enrollment appointment occurs.
- Step 3: Review degree and catalog requirements.
- Step 4: Review your Major Map on My ASU (undergraduate students only).
- Step 5: Search for available classes using the Class Search at my.asu.edu.
- Step 6: Register for classes at my.asu.edu or in person at any registrar location <https://students.asu.edu/contact/office-university-registrar>

Step 7: Pay tuition. If you do not have adequate financial aid to cover tuition costs, and if you do not pay tuition by the applicable deadline, you will be enrolled in the Tuition Installment Plan and assessed a non-refundable $100 resident/$200 non-resident enrollment fee.

*Students may register for Spring 2013 through January 8, 2013 for Session A, January 13, 2013 for session C, and March 5, 2013 for Session B. However, a $50 late registration fee is charged beginning Monday, December 31, 2013. This fee does not apply to ASU online students.

Registration/Enrollment General Information

Enrollment Appointments

All students are assigned an online enrollment appointment which will permit registration for the Spring 2013 semester. Students should log into My ASU to view their enrollment appointment as soon as possible.

An enrollment appointment is the date and time that a student may begin registering for the next semester. Students may register in person or online anytime after the assigned enrollment appointment begins through the end of the drop/add period.

If you are an entering freshman in the Spring semester, your enrollment appointment will be the date of your orientation program. If you are not an entering freshmen, and you do not have an enrollment appointment assigned, contact the University Registrar's Office at 480.965.3124.

Building Your Class Schedule

ASU's registration system will allow you to search the Schedule of Classes/Class Search and build a Spring class registration request. You can save that plan (shopping cart) and then later return to it. When you return, you will be able to see if the class status has changed since you built and saved the plan. You can view the online Schedule of Classes/Class Search via My ASU (my.asu.edu). The Spring 2013 Schedule of Classes is available Thursday, October 18, 2012.

Registration, cont.

Submitting Your Registration Request

Once you have submitted your schedule request, you will be able to immediately see which courses were successfully added to your schedule. Note: You may choose to audit a course in which case you attend and participate in the class but do not earn credit. Be sure to obtain instructor’s approval before registering and paying fees. Refer to your catalog and see your academic advisor for additional information about audit enrollment.

Drop/Add

Anytime after you have a class schedule, you will be able to drop and add courses via My ASU or in person at any registration location through the published drop/add deadline. During this period, you may drop one or more (but not all) scheduled classes. Classes that are dropped do not appear on the student's transcript. A student who wishes to withdraw from his/her last course during the drop/add period must process a complete withdrawal. Colleges or departments may require approvals before a student can add specific classes.

Swap

You can use the swap feature when you want to ensure that you do not drop a class you are already registered for until you have successfully added a replacement class.

Registration Holds

You will be able to view a list of holds that will prevent registration. Items that can prevent you from registering are: unpaid fees, academic advising requirements, immunizations, etc. Do not delay your ability to get the classes you want. Take care of your University business now to eliminate any holds.

To Dos

You will be able to view a list of your To Do items. To Do items display tasks you need to complete, such as completing a financial aid form. To Do items do not restrict registration. However, if you do not accomplish an open To Do item, it can become a Hold on your record. Follow the instructions or contact the appropriate person to make arrangements to complete each pending task as soon as possible.

Measles Immunization Policy

Arizona State University requires new freshman, transfer, and graduate students to submit proof of two doses of MMR—Measels(rubeola), Mumps and Rubella(German Measles). This is a mandatory requirement for all college students born on or after

January 1, 1957. You will not be permitted to register, add, or drop classes without having met this requirement. If you cannot locate your documentation, the MMR vaccinations and lab test are available for a minimal fee at ASU Health Service.

One of the following may be used as documentation:

- Documentation of two MMR vaccines with the first at around 12 months or older and the second vaccination at least 28 days apart.

Registration, cont.

- Documentation by a physician of having had Rubeola, Mumps and Rubella diseases.
- Documentation of a positive lab test showing immunity to RUBEOLA IgG (Measles=Hard measles/10 day measles).

Advising

Admitted undergraduate students who have declared a major should contact an academic advisor in the college or school of their major for advising and for assistance in determining the catalog under which they will graduate. Exploratory/undeclared students should contact University College for academic advising. Many programs require academic advisement prior to registration for classes.

Students may visit MyASU to learn their current academic advising office assignment. For additional information regarding general academic advising for all ASU departments Visit <http://students.asu.edu/advising/directory>

Instructor-Initiated Drop Option

The instructor of a course has full authority within departmental or other higher-level policies to decide whether or not class attendance is required. During the second week of classes in Fall or Spring, or the first four days of each Summer Session, the instructor can drop a student for non-attendance. In classes which are full, this will allow accommodation of other students requesting the class and help instructors avoid excessive overrides. Instructor-initiated drops for non-attendance must be based upon concrete evidence of non-attendance and be signed by the Dean or Dean's Designee in the college offering the course. The college will notify the student by mail at the student's currently posted local address. Nothing in this policy contradicts any other policy regarding attendance, religious holidays, or the student's responsibility to notify the instructor in case of absences.

Note: Students should be aware that non-attendance will not automatically result in being dropped. Instructors have the right to exercise this option at their discretion. It is also the student's responsibility to contact the instructor before the end of the first week of classes if absences during that period cannot be avoided.

Withdrawal Policy

Course Withdrawal

After the drop/add period and up to January 27 for Session A, March 31 for Session B, and March 31 for Session C, a student may withdraw from any course with a grade of "W". Withdrawals may be initiated online using My ASU or in person at any registration site. Courses with alternate begin and end dates may have an adjusted withdrawal schedule. Courses from which the student withdraws will remain on the student's transcript with a grade of "W". Any appropriate refunds are issued based on the published Refund Schedule and the date of the withdrawal. To determine whether you will be eligible for a refund after withdrawing, see the Refund Schedule on page 20. It is the student's responsibility to initiate a withdrawal if unable to attend a class. Failure to do so will result in a grade of "E" being assigned for the class. Although students who do not attend class during the first week of a term may be administratively dropped from the class, such withdrawal is at the discretion of the instructor. In special circumstances, a medical withdrawal or academic record change maybe authorized by the Dean of an academic unit if the student petitions for the change and presents documentation of reasons for being unable to attend the class. Please note academic record changes can only be requested after the semester has ended. It is the student's responsibility to petition for such change if appropriate.

Complete Withdrawal

A student may withdraw from all of his or her classes (the student will no longer be enrolled in any classes for the specified semester) through the transaction deadline or the last day of classes for any semester. A grade of “W” is awarded for each class from which the student withdraws. The complete withdrawal deadline is February 27, 2012 for Session A, and April 30, 2012 for Sessions B and C. Beginning the first date of the semester, undergraduate students are required to request a complete withdrawal in person. Making a complete withdrawal from the University is a difficult decision, and ASU has many resources in place to help. Because there may be serious academic and financial consequences to processing a complete withdrawal, you should view complete withdrawal as a final resort. You are encouraged to meet with your academic advisor to explore alternatives.

Note: A student may not avoid any penalty for academic dishonesty by withdrawing from a course. A student may be reinstated to a course to receive a penalty of a reduced or failing grade, or XE. Remember: If you have financial aid or scholarships, be sure you understand minimum credit hour requirements for maintaining those awards.

Military Withdrawal

To completely withdraw due to military activation, immediately contact Veterans Services in the Pat Tillman Veterans Center. For the Tempe campus, call 480.965.7723; for the West campus call 602.543.8220, to determine whether the call to active duty qualifies for the “Military Activation” policy. For example, students reporting to “boot camp” or required training may not qualify for this policy. Students who qualify will receive some regulatory relief in the recalculation of financial aid and the calculation of tuition and fee charges. Students are also given options regarding their academic records, e.g., complete withdrawal, incomplete grades, etc.

Financial Assistance Withdrawal Policy

Circumstances may necessitate complete withdrawal from the University. For financial aid, a complete withdrawal from the full term or any individual session can affect financial aid eligibility. The outcome of complete withdrawal on your financial aid depends on when the complete withdrawal is initiated and the types of financial aid you received. In all cases, your financial aid must be recalculated.

Official Complete Withdrawal

Federal regulations require the recalculation of Title IV financial aid in cases where a student received financial aid and officially withdrew on or before the point which 60% of the semester has lapsed. If a return of aid is required, ASU returns the unearned portion of Title IV financial aid funds to the Federal Programs on behalf of the student. Any return of financial aid funds made by the University will be charged to the student’s University account. Payment to the University will be due on demand. Title IV funds include the Federal Pell Grant, the Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG), the Federal Perkins Loan, the Leveraging Educational Assistance Partnership (LEAP), the Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG), the Science and Mathematics Access to Retain Talent Grant (SMART), the Federal Teach Grant, the Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant, the Federal Direct Subsidized and Unsubsidized Student Loans and the Federal PLUS Loan. Federal Work Study earnings and non-Title IV aid are not included in this formula. However, the student may not continue to work under the Federal Work Study program after their official date of withdrawal.

University Testing Requirements

All new, transfer, or readmitted undergraduate students must meet one of the following testing requirements:

- Take the ACT English, SAT verbal examination, WritePlacer Plus section of the ACCUPLACER, or TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) and have scores submitted to ASU.
- Receive a score of 4 or 5 for the advanced placement examination in English offered by the College Entrance Examination Board and have scores submitted to ASU.
- Take the CLEP College Composition exam, earning a score of 50 that qualifies for placement in ENG 102, and have scores submitted to ASU.
- Have previously taken or be currently enrolled in WAC101, WAC107, ENG101, ENG102, ENG105, ENG107, or ENG108 at ASU. If the course was taken at ASU before 1980, contact the Records and Enrollment Services Office in SSV140 or at 480.965.3124, before registering for classes.
- Transfer a course equivalent to ENG101, ENG102, ENG105, ENG107, or ENG108 with a grade of “C” (2.00) or higher.

An official transcript showing the grade must be received by ASU. If a student transfers an equivalent composition course from a Maricopa County Community District College, the equivalency is automatically posted, and the student need not take further action. A student transferring a composition course from any other college or university must have the course evaluated for equivalency. Please visit <https://students.asu.edu/node/8476> for an equivalency form. The student should visit the Writing Programs Office, in LL314, or call 480.965.3853 for further assistance.

Placement Exams

A. First-Year Composition

Placement in First-Year Composition courses (WAC101 or WAC107 followed by ENG101 or ENG107 the next semester, or ENG101, ENG105, or ENG 107) is determined by the score earned on the ACT English, SAT Verbal Exam, Accuplacer, or TOEFL exam. Multilingual students are not required to take multilingual sections of first-year composition courses (WAC107, ENG107, and ENG108). They have the option of taking mainstream composition courses (WAC101, ENG101, and ENG102). If students enter the university without taking an acceptable placement exam, the Accuplacer may be taken once on campus at the University Testing and Scanning Services, located at 1130 E. University Dr. Suite 204 in Tempe, at regularly scheduled times. Contact the UTSS at 480.965.7146 to make an appointment. Placement in First-Year Composition will be determined as follows:

SAT scores shown are based on the scale for the SAT English test which was first offered in April 1995. Scores on the SAT taken before April 1995 are converted to the scale when entered on the computer. Qualified deaf and hearing-impaired students must receive authorization through the Disability Resource Center in order to register for an appropriate First-Year Composition course.

Students who have taken the Advanced Placement Exam in English offered by the College Entrance Examination Board, the International Baccalaureate English A Exam, or the CLEP College Composition Exam, can contact the Writing Programs Office at 480.965.3853 for more information about placement into first-year Composition courses.

Multilingual students who have taken the IELTS exam should contact the Writing Programs Office at 480-965-3853 for place-

B. Mathematics Course Placement Exams

Arizona State University requires the Math Placement Test to assess a student's prerequisite knowledge for placement into several mathematics courses up to and including first semester calculus. The instrument used for testing is a powerful artificial-intelligence based assessment tool that zeros in on the strengths and weaknesses of a student's mathematical knowledge, reports its findings to the student and then, if necessary, provides the student with a learning environment for bringing this knowledge up to an appropriate level for course placement.

All incoming students must complete the Math Placement Test prior to enrollment unless they have transferred an equivalent prerequisite course. The time limit to finish the assessment is 24 hours.

Veterans Educational Benefits

Veterans and eligible dependents must apply for veterans educational benefits and then verify their status with Veterans Services as soon as possible with each new semester. Distance Learning classes have veterans education benefit restrictions. Veterans cannot collect benefits for audited classes.

Student Identification

ASU Sun Devil Cards

Students are required to provide an ASU ID card to receive many ASU services, gain access to educational records, or gain access into secure buildings, classrooms and labs. Each student admitted to ASU now may choose between the NEW Pitchfork ID Check Card MasterCard® offered by MidFirst Bank¹ and the basic Sun Card. The NEW Pitchfork Card includes both ASU secure building access and an official Sun Devil Checking Account in a single card. Both cards act as official university IDs and cost $25*, which may be paid with cash, check, Visa®, MasterCard®, or applied to the student's university account. As proof of identity, students will need their ten-digit ASU ID and a legal photo ID (driver's license, passport, or Military ID, etc.). Call 480.965.CARD (2273) or visit carservices.asu.edu for more information. Both the NEW Pitchfork Card and the Sun Card contain a 16-bit iCLASS® chip that allows easy access into classrooms and residence halls without the use of a key.

Do not punch holes in your card, or you will damage your card's functionality.

Both the NEW Pitchfork Card and the Sun Card can be used for a variety of services.

Residency Classification

Residency (tuition) status is initially determined by the application for admission at the time a student applies to the University. Non-resident students who feel they may qualify for resident tuition status must file a petition for reclassification no later than the last day of regular registration. For general information about the requirements, consult the ASU General Catalog or the web at students.asu.edu/residency. Residency classification is a complex process and you are encouraged to petition early during the reclassification period. It is recommended that you submit the appropriate residency petition form along with your $50.00 non-refundable petition fee to the Residency Classification Office by the appropriate deadline date. Deadline for submitting a reclassification petition for Spring 2013 is January 11, 2013. Failure to petition by the last day of regular registration constitutes a waiver of the student's rights for residency reclassification or appeal for the current semester.

Citizenship or Lawful Presence Requirement

Arizona law requires that students who are seeking consideration for in-state tuition status or aid that is funded in part or in whole by state money to provide verification of citizenship, permanent residency or other lawful immigration status. Most students will be able to be verified through automatic processes such as the financial aid application (FAFSA). Students choosing to go through the FAFSA process should be verified no later than the beginning of July for the Fall term, December for the Spring term and May for the summer term. If the FAFSA has not cleared the verification requirement by the recommended month it is highly possible that documentation is still required.

Tuition Billing

Tuition charges will be billed on your student account and may be viewed online through My ASU (my.asu.edu) after registration. (From My ASU, select My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side.)

By registering for classes you agree to pay all applicable tuition and registration fees.

If tuition is not paid by the applicable tuition due date, or financial aid is not awarded and accepted by the due date, you will be automatically enrolled in the Tuition Installment Plan and charged a non-refundable enrollment fee of $100 for resident students and $200 for non-resident students. For students with accepted financial aid sufficient to cover tuition charges, financial aid will automatically pay tuition charges and no action is necessary. For students with accepted financial aid insufficient to cover tuition charges, the payment deadline is extended to Monday, January 28, 2013, after which students with unpaid tuition charges in excess of pending aid will be automatically enrolled in the Tuition Installment Plan and charged the non-refundable fee.

Online Billing

Online billing provides reliable and secure access to billing statements any time of day from anywhere in the world along with immediate access to current account information. To view and pay your charges, login to my.asu.edu, click on My Finances located in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side, then click "Make a Payment". Online billing statements are also available through QuikPAY by clicking "View Account". Students are responsible to review their ASU e-mail account for notification of billing statements and to login to their student account on My ASU for current billing information. Billing statements are not mailed.

Students may authorize others to view and pay their ASU student account through QuikPAY. Log in to my.asu.edu, select My Finances on the left-hand side, then click "Make a Payment". Once directed to QuikPAY select Authorized Payers from the left windowpane and enter the requested information for each person to be authorized on the account. Authorized Payers must have a valid email account.

eCheck Payments

eChecks are ASU's preferred payment method and are accepted online with no service charge or additional cost to the student. Make eCheck payments on QuikPAY by logging in to My ASU (my.asu.edu), select My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side, then click "Make a Payment" to be directed to the online payment processor. eChecks are a fast and simple payment method that can be made from regular U.S. checking and savings accounts in U.S. dollars. Checks issued from money market accounts, credit card companies, mutual funds, brokerage accounts, home equity or other lines of credit cannot be processed as an eCheck. Additional information is available at students.asu.edu/tuitionandbilling, see Payment Options.

Credit Card Payments

ASU does not directly accept credit or debit card payments for tuition or other student account charges. The University has arranged for a third-party processor to accept MasterCard, Discover, and American Express credit and debit card payments online. The processor will charge a 2.5% service charge for credit and debit card payments in addition to the ASU payment amount. The service charge is not paid to ASU and is non-refundable, even if related payment to ASU is refunded. Credit and debit card payments may be made on QuikPAY by logging in to My ASU (my.asu.edu). Click on My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side, then click "Make a Payment" to be directed to the online payment processor. Credit and debit card payments are not accepted by mail, in person, or over the phone. VISA credit and debit cards are not accepted.

Personal Checks

Checks payable to Arizona State University and without restrictive endorsement are generally acceptable. Mail checks to Cashiering Services, Arizona State University, PO Box 870303, Tempe, AZ 85287-0303. Include your ASU ID number. Check payments should be mailed at least two weeks prior to the applicable tuition due date to avoid automatic enrollment in the Tuition Installment Plan. Check payments are also accepted in person at all campuses. See Tuition Hours on page 17.

Tuition Installment Plan

The Tuition Installment Plan provides students with the option to budget payment of tuition, program tuition, and health insurance over several months. Students may enroll themselves in the plan through my.asu.edu or they will be automatically enrolled if tuition charges are not paid in full by the applicable due date. There is a per-semester non-refundable fee of $100 for resident students and $200 for non-resident students. For information on how the fees are broken down, go to students.asu.edu/tuitioninstallmentplan. Please note that the enrollment fee is non-refundable, even if the student withdraws from classes.

All students are eligible to enroll in the Tuition Installment Plan beginning December 1st, after they register for classes. Once a student enrolls for classes, he or she will not be withdrawn from classes during the current semester for non-payment. Students must withdraw from classes if they decide not to attend. If students enrolled in the plan do not make scheduled payments, monthly late fees will be assessed until the account is brought current on payments, registration in future semesters will be blocked, and access to other University services, such as official transcripts and diplomas, will be withheld.

Tuition Payment with Financial Aid

Financial aid is posted to your student account and used to pay tuition and other student account charges, with any excess financial aid immediately refunded to you. Any institutional charges incurred after financial aid disbursement are the student's responsibility to pay by the due date. Financial aid awards generally only pay charges in the semester for which the aid is intended, and you may be refunded excess financial aid for one semester and still have a balance owed for another semester. If you receive a refund, ensure that all charges have been paid by logging in to My ASU (my.asu.edu) and clicking on My Finances.

For students with accepted financial aid sufficient to cover tuition charges, financial aid will automatically pay tuition charges and no further action is necessary. Students with unpaid tuition charges in excess of pending aid will be automatically enrolled in the Tuition Installment Plan.

Note: If financial aid is not awarded and accepted by the tuition due date, tuition charges must be paid in full to avoid automatic enrollment in the Tuition Installment Plan and assessment of the non-refundable Tuition Installment Plan fee of $100 for resident students and $200 for non-resident students.

By registering for classes you agree to pay all applicable tuition and registration fees. Classes are not automatically cancelled for non-attendance or non-payment.

Taxability of Scholarships and Fellowships: Scholarships, grants, fellowships and stipends (but not loan funds) are taxable income to the recipient, except for the portion of these funds used for tuition, registration, other University fees, and books, supplies and equipment required for the courses being taken. Special tax regulations also apply to non-resident alien students and may require withholding of taxes at the time of aid disbursement to these individuals. Information on the taxability of scholarships can be obtained from the following IRS publications and forms: Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Education, Pub 519-U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens, Form 1040EZ and instructions - Income Tax Return for Single and Joint Filers with No Dependents, Form 1040NR and instructions - U.S. Non-resident Alien Income Tax Return. These publications and forms can be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service at their toll free number 1.800.829.FORM or online at www.irs.gov.

The Student Financial Assistance Withdrawal Policy will apply when a student receives financial aid funds and subsequently withdraws, drops out, takes an unapproved leave of absence, fails to return from an approved leave of absence, is expelled, or otherwise fails to complete the period of enrollment for which he or she was charged. See page 8 in this handbook or online at students.asu.edu/financialaidpayment.

Students with loans who would like to cancel or reduce their loans must inform the Student Financial Assistance Office in person within 14 days of the disbursement.

Tuition Payment with Prepaid or College Savings Plans

Prepaid or College Savings Plan payments made payable to Arizona State University are generally accepted. Mail checks to Cashiering Services, Arizona State University, PO Box 870303, Tempe, AZ 85287-0303. Include the student's ASU ID number. Prepaid or College Savings Plan payments should be mailed at least two weeks prior to the applicable tuition due date to avoid automatic enrollment in the Tuition Installment Plan and assessment of the non-refundable installment plan fee. Notification to Arizona State University of pending payments by the Prepaid or College Savings Plan does not exempt a student from automatic enrollment in the Tuition Installment Plan and assessment of the non-refundable installment plan fee.

Sponsorship by Approved Governmental and Third-Party Agencies

Submit sponsorship authorization in person at the Student Accounts Office, by fax to 480.965.9242, or by e-mail sponsorbilling@asu.edu. Failure to do so by the tuition payment deadline will result in automatic enrollment in the Tuition Installment Plan and assessment of a non-refundable enrollment fee of $100 for resident students and $200 for non-resident students. An acceptable letter of authorization must be submitted to the Student Accounts Office by March 10, 2013.

A $75 per semester Sponsored Tuition Fee will be assessed to each sponsored student. Sponsored students are responsible for all tuition, fees, and late charges if the sponsoring agency fails to pay by the due date of the invoice. Questions about third party sponsorship may be directed to the Student Accounts Office at 480.965.2436 or 480.965.4029.

International students who are required to carry student health insurance and are using coverage through their sponsor must receive approval from ASU Campus Health Services, Room 124, 480.965.2411. Governmental and Third-Party Agencies must have offices in the United States with invoices directed to a U.S. address.

Employee Reduced In-state Tuition

Partial waivers are available to faculty and staff who are employed at least 50% time within the state University system, and to their spouses and dependent children. Employees must fill out the Employee Tuition Waiver Form every semester they attend, which can be obtained at Human Resources, the Student Accounts Office, or at asu.edu/hr/forms/index.html. The completed form may be submitted to Student Accounts (Tempe Campus), Student Services Building Room 230, or at the West, Polytechnic, or Downtown Phoenix campus Cashiering Offices. The form may also be faxed to 480.965.9242. The tuition waiver does not cover 100% of your tuition and fees. The non-waived portion of the tuition and fees will be billed on your student account and should be paid by the due date to avoid late fees.

Please submit early.

Non-residents are not eligible for Tuition Waivers. Please contact Residency Classification at 480.965.7712. Residency processing can be time-consuming, so apply early. You must be employed on the first day of the semester to be eligible for employee reduced in-state tuition. Employee Tuition Waivers must be processed by the Student Accounts Office on or before the first day of the session to qualify for reduced tuition. Waivers submitted after the first day of the session will not be accepted and you will be held responsible for the full tuition and fees.

Graduate Assistants

Students identified as Research and Teaching Assistants receive tuition assistance if they meet employment and class enrollment requirements. RA/TA remissions do not cover 100% of tuition and fees. If eligible for a remission, the remaining tuition and fees will be billed on your student account with a March 25, 2013 due date.

Differential Program Tuition

Certain graduate, undergraduate, colleges and programs assess additional differential tuition and program tuition which differs according to college and/or program. Contact your program advisor for details on these fees or see the Tuition Estimator at students.asu.edu/costs.

Excess Hours Tuition

The Arizona Legislature enacted legislation in 2005 (A.R.S. § 15-1626) that establishes credit hour thresholds for undergraduate students who attend a public university in Arizona. Undergraduate students who enroll for credit hours beyond the applicable threshold of 145 hours are required to pay a tuition surcharge. The tuition surcharge is billed in addition to tuition, program tuition, mandatory fees and class fees. See students.asu.edu/tuitionandfees for additional information.

Special Class Fees

Special class and iCourse fees are assessed based on enrollment in specific classes. Class fees are published with each class through class search.

Financial Aid Trust Fee

All students are assessed a mandatory financial aid trust fee as authorized by the Arizona Legislature to create a Financial Aid Trust Fund, from which Financial Aid Trust Grants are awarded under the usual aid eligibility criteria. Fees collected from students are matched by the State of Arizona. See the Tuition and Fees Schedule at students.asu.edu/tuitionandfees.

Technology Fee

All students are assessed a mandatory technology fee as authorized by the Arizona Board of Regents to fund technology initiatives and improve access on all campuses. See the Tuition and Fees Schedule at students.asu.edu/tuitionandbilling.

Student Programs Fee

All students are assessed a mandatory student programs fee as authorized by the Arizona Board of Regents to provide funding for new or enhanced facilities and student support programming. See the Tuition and Fees schedule at students.asu.edu/tuitionandfees.

Arizona Students' Association (ASA) Fee

The Arizona Students' Association is a non-profit, higher education advocacy organization that represents Arizona public university students to the ABOR, State Legislature, and U.S. Congress. During 1996-1997, students at the state universities voted to change the mechanism for funding the ASA to a fee, which will be charged to each student each semester. Any refunds for this fee will be provided through ASA Central Office at 1.877.294.6900 (toll free) or 602.294.6900. You may also pickup a refund form to complete from the ASASU Business Office (Tempe campus) in the Memorial Union Room 311 or Student Life (West campus) in UCB 221. The refund forms will be available for the first 21 days of classes.

Recreation Fee

All students are assessed a recreation fee allowing access to recreation facilities on all four ASU campuses. See the Tuition and Fees Schedule at students.asu.edu/tuitionandfees. Faculty/staff who are attending classes and all online students are not assessed the recreation fee. Please contact the Student Recreation Complex at 480.965.8900 for information on how to become a member.

Health and Wellness Fee

All students are assessed a health and wellness fee as authorized by the Arizona Board of Regents to enhance services for students who seek both preventative and acute care and to expand outreach and wellness education and services.

Student Service Facility Fee

All students are assessed a Student Services Facility Fee as authorized by the Arizona Board of Regents to provide funding for new and enhanced student service facilities. See the Tuition and Fees schedule at students.asu.edu/tuitionandfees.

Late Registration Fee

All students who register Monday, December 31, 2012 and after, will be assessed a late registration fee of $50.00. Registration after the published deadline may be permitted under extraordinary circumstances if approved by an authorized College designee. Late fees are not refundable.

Tuition Receipt

For students requiring tuition receipts for insurance, reimbursement, or other reasons, login to my.asu.edu and click My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side, then click View History and select the Tuition Receipt tab at the top of the page. For in person assistance or additional documentation, see campus locations under "Tuition Payment Hours", page 17.

Delinquent Financial Obligations

Students with delinquent accounts will not be allowed to register for classes or obtain official transcripts or diplomas. The University reserves the right to involuntarily withdraw students with severely delinquent accounts from current semester courses. University billings not paid by the due date are subject to monthly late charges beginning 30 days past due and continuing monthly until paid in full. The monthly late charge for past due balances between $20-$50 is $5, for balances between $51-$400 is $10, for balances between $401-$1,000 is $25, for balances between $1,001-$3,000 is $50, for balances between $3,001-$5,000 is $75, and for balances greater than $5,000 is $100. Former students with outstanding charges may be referred to an outside collection agency with late fee assessment continuing monthly until paid in full.

Returned Checks

A $25 fee is assessed for returned checks and eChecks. Students with multiple returned checks or eChecks are subject to a permanent registration hold requiring advanced payment in secure funds prior to registration or access to other University services.

Student Health Insurance

Eligibility: Group Health insurance is available to:

- Undergraduate students registered for at least seven units or have a consortium agreement to take courses at another qualified college with an overall credit hour total of at least seven units
- Graduate students enrolled in degree or certificate programs, and taking at least three credit hours or one dissertation/thesis hour
- Group Health Insurance is available to undergraduate students registered for at least seven units, or have a consortium agreement to take courses at a qualified college with an overall credit hour total of at least seven units, graduate students enrolled in degree or certificate programs, and taking at least 3 credit hours or one dissertation/thesis hour. Student Health Insurance enrollment is an available option through My ASU (my.asu.edu) by selecting Health and Wellness in the Quick Links. Open enrollment is online through the first two weeks of class.
- International student enrollment in Student Health Insurance is mandatory and the cost of insurance is automatically added to registration fees. Waiver exception may apply. For additional information or waiver application <http://students.asu.edu/internationalstudenthealth>

Student Health Insurance enrollment is available through My ASU (my.asu.edu) by selecting Health and Wellness in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side of the page. Once enrolled for Student Health Insurance, you will be automatically re-enrolled into the plan each subsequent semester once you have registered for classes. The premium will be billed to your student account.

Coverage may be added or dropped until January 20, 2013. Complete withdrawal from the University on or before January 20, 2013 will not result in automatic cancellation of student health insurance. Go to my.asu.edu and select Health and Wellness in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side to cancel enrollment in student health insurance. The insurance cannot be cancelled if complete withdrawal from the University occurs after January 20, 2013 or if the insurance has been utilized.

Additional information about coverage, eligibility, spouse and dependent coverage, cost, payment options and coverage limits, can be found at students.asu.edu/health or Aetna Student Health enrollment information.

Institutional Refund Policy

Tuition and Fees

Tuition and fees are subject to a 100% refund if enrollment is officially cancelled within the refund period. In the Fall semester, for classes eight weeks or longer, the refund period is two weeks, and for classes shorter in length the refund period is one week. For Spring 2013 classes, 8 weeks or longer, the 100% refund period extends through the first two weeks of the semester to January 20, 2013. Tuition and fees are non-refundable thereafter.

Beginning the first day of classes, undergraduate students are required to work with a Student Retention Coordinator to facilitate the withdrawal process. For more information call 480.965.0493

The 100% refund period is one week for sessions shorter than eight weeks and dynamically dated classes. All refunds are less any amounts owed to the University and are subject to payment holding periods. Students withdrawing for medical or other extenuating circumstances must contact their college to initiate the process. Tuition is non-refundable after the first week of these sessions/classes.

The University provides a prorated refund for students receiving financial aid; therefore, the refund schedule is the minimum amount refundable to these students. Withdrawal or cancellation occurs on the calendar day that withdrawal is processed either in person at any Registrar site or online using My ASU. See students.asu.edu/financialaidpayment for the Financial Aid Withdrawal Policy.

Student Account Refund (Disbursement)

Financial aid is posted to your student account and used to pay University charges such as tuition and Residential Life fees. Refunds of excess financial aid will be processed beginning the week before classes and will continue to be processed throughout the semester. Any changes to your schedule that results in a fee increase or any other fees incurred after financial aid disbursement, will be your responsibility to pay by the due date. You may view details of your student account, including financial aid refunds, by logging into my.asu.edu and selecting My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left-hand side, then clicking "View History".

Note: To receive your financial aid refund beginning the week before classes, you must register for classes, complete your financial aid packet, and accept your loans at least two weeks before the semester begins. Financial aid refunds will be mailed or direct deposited to your bank account.

Refund by direct deposit to your bank account is available and is the most convenient way to receive student account refunds. Direct deposit enrollment is available at My ASU (my.asu.edu) by selecting My Finances in the Quick Links box on the left hand side, then selecting Direct Deposit Enrollment in the Helpful Links section on the right. Further information is available at students.asu.edu/tuitionandbilling or in the Student Accounts Office on the 2nd floor of the Student Services Building (Tempe campus). Direct deposit enrollment must be completed a minimum of two weeks prior to your refund being issued. For students not enrolled in direct deposit, or who do not meet the direct deposit enrollment deadline, refund checks will be mailed. Keep your mailing address up to date to ensure that refund checks are received in a timely manner. View and update your address on My ASU by clicking on "My Profile" in the top-right corner. If you request a replacement check there is a $20 per check reissue fee. All student account refund checks will be mailed.

University Policies

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act

General Information

The federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (also known as FERPA, and/or the Buckley Amendment) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. They are:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access.

Students should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The University official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the University official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

Note: Students must provide photo identification in order to access their education records.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.

Students who believe their record is inaccurate or misleading should write to the University official responsible for the record. Clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading.

If the University decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing about the request for amendment. Additional information about the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

Note: FERPA does not address grade disputes or grievances which are pursued through other University and/or college procedures.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interest. School officials are administrators, faculty, professional staff, academic advisors, clerical or support employees, including ASU law enforcement unit personnel and ASU health staff, volunteers, a person or company with whom the University has contracted as its agent, acting with legitimate educational interest to provide a service instead of using University employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, collection agent, service provider); a person serving on the Board of Regents; staff in the Alumni Association and ASU Foundation offices, or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

Additional exception categories may be found in SSM 107-01: Release of Student Information which is located on the web at <http://www.asu.edu/aad/manual/ssm/ssm107-01.html>

A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the interest in an education record is justified under one or more of the following conditions:

- The information or records requested are relevant and necessary to accomplish some task or determination related to the legitimate educational interest of the student;
- the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the University;
- the task or determination is an employment responsibility or a properly assigned subject for the inquirer's determination and/or
- the task or determination is consistent with the purpose for which the records, information, or data are maintained.

Note: A parent of a dependent student may challenge denial of access to the dependent student's record by producing the most current copy of Internal Revenue Form 1040. (Dependency is defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code.) If that form lists the student in question as a dependent, the parent will be required to sign an Affidavit of Dependency which affirms that the student is his/her tax dependent. The affidavit will be retained by the University Registrar's Office and must be renewed each tax year. Upon receipt of these documents, the dependent student records will be made available to the parent as specified under FERPA.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Arizona State University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. Students are encouraged to first contact the University Registrar's Administration Office at 480.965.7302. A complaint may be filed with the Department of Education at the following address:

Family Policy Compliance Office

U.S. Department of Education

400 Maryland Avenue, SW

Washington, DC 20202

Definitions:

Student is any individual formally admitted and is or has been in attendance at ASU. The term does not apply to applicants for admission, nor does it apply to persons who have been admitted but who have not registered.

Education Record is any record(s) directly related to a student and maintained by Arizona State University or by a party acting for the University. This includes any information or data recorded in any medium, including, but not limited to: handwriting, print, computer media, video or audio tape, film, microfilm, and microfiche.

Directory Information (or releasable information) is general information that may be released to anyone without the consent of the student, unless the student indicates otherwise, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent, including:

- Student Name
- Addresses (e.g., local, home, mailing and ASU e-mail, including directory number)

- Telephone Number(s)
- Date of Birth
- College
- Major
- Academic Level
- Dates of Attendance
- Enrollment status (e.g., undergraduate or graduate, full-time or part-time)
- Most Recently Attended Institution
- Participation in Officially Recognized Activities/Sports
- Weight/Height of Members of Athletic Teams
- Degrees, Honors and Awards Received (including National Merit, National Achievement, and National Hispanic Scholars)

Personally Identifiable Information (or non-releasable information) includes all information not defined as directory information, plus any information including directory information that the student has instructed ASU not to release. Personally identifiable information may not be released without the prior written consent of the student, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

Student Control of Directory Information

Students may control release of directory information by submitting the appropriate form to any University registration location.

Unless otherwise requested, a student's name, email address, academic level, college and major may appear in the directory of faculty, staff, and students on ASU's web directory. To avoid the release of directory information in the printed directory, complete the appropriate form located at students.asu.edu/forms/withhold-directory-information-request.

ASU has a policy that regulates and permits the sale of enrolled student directory information only through the University Registrar's Office. Unless otherwise directed by the student, directory information is subject to sale to outside purchasers.

Students accessing education records or receiving University services must provide proof of identification.

Questions or requests for additional information maybe directed to any University registration location. Additional information, including FAQ's, is available on the web at <http://students.asu.edu/policies/ferpa>.

Discrimination Complaints

Complaints of alleged discrimination in employment and educational programs and activities on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, age, disability, and qualified veteran statuses may be referred to the Office of Equity and Inclusion for review, investigation and resolution. Any employee or student may visit with the Office of Equity and Inclusion to discuss any concern without fear of jeopardizing their job or academic standing with the University.

Title IX Compliance

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 protects individuals from discrimination based on sex in any educational program or activity operated by recipients of federal financial assistance. Sexual harassment, which includes acts of sexual violence, is a form of sex discrimination prohibited by Title IX.

ASU is committed to providing an environment free from discrimination based on sex and provides a number of resources and services to assist students, faculty and staff in addressing issues involving sex discrimination, including sexual violence. The following conduct shall constitute a violation of Title IX.

1. Making sexual advances or requesting sexual favors if submission to or rejection of such conduct is the implicit or explicit basis for imposing or granting terms and conditions of employment or education at the University;
2. Making sexual advances, requesting sexual favors, or otherwise discriminating on the basis of gender in a manner that unlawfully creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working, residential, or educational environment at the University or that otherwise unlawfully interferes with an individual's work or educational performance;

3. Engaging in any sexual contact against a person who has not given consent or committing any act of sexual assault, public sexual indecency or sexual abuse against a person who has not given consent, if the act is committed on University property or in connection with any University sponsored event or activity;
4. Acting, recommending action, or refusing to take action in a supervisory position in return for sexual favors, or as a reprisal against a person who has rejected, reported, filed a complaint regarding, or been the object of sexual harassment; or
5. Disregarding, failing to investigate, or delaying investigation of allegations of sexual harassment to the extent that action, reporting, or investigation is appropriate or required by one's supervisory position.

University policy does not prohibit fully consensual amorous relationships. Even an apparently consensual amorous relationship, however, may lead to sexual harassment or other breaches of professional obligations, particularly if one of the individuals in the relationship has a professional responsibility toward or is in a position of authority with respect to the other, such as in the context of instruction, advisement, or supervision. Due to the power difference, it may be difficult to avoid the appearance of favoritism or to assure a truly consensual relationship. Amorous relationships may result in conduct that amounts to sexual harassment or that violates the professional duties of even-handed treatment and maintenance of an atmosphere conducive to learning or working.

Specifically, if involved in an amorous relationship with someone over whom he/she has supervisory authority, the individual must remove himself/herself from any participation in recommendations or decisions affecting, evaluation, employment conditions, instruction, or the academic status of the other person in the relationship, and must inform his/her immediate supervisor.

Disability Accommodations

To facilitate the availability of reasonable and effective disability accommodations from the first day of class, qualified students must use the following process:

- Register for classes on their assigned priority enrollment date, and
- Request disability accommodations, from the applicable campus Disability Resource Centers, immediately following Priority Enrollment.

Note: Some accommodations, including but not limited to: alternative print formats, (e.g., Braille, e-text, large print), interpreting services, lab materials conversions, assistive technology, and the hiring of lab assistants, may require up to one semester in preparation time.

To request disability accommodations for ASU classes, both in person and online, contact the DRC on the host campus, i.e., the campus where you are taking the class or in the case of online courses, the campus supporting the class.

NOTE: Disability information is confidential. Disability documentation is required.

ASU Statement on Drug-Free Schools and Campuses

Under federal legislation entitled the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 (“Act”), no institution of higher education shall be eligible to receive funds or any other form of financial assistance under any federal program, including any federally funded or guaranteed student loan program, unless it has adopted and has implemented a program to prevent the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol by students and employees. The Act requires the annual distribution of the following information to students and employees.

Prohibition

It is the goal and policy of Arizona State University (“ASU”) to provide a drug free environment for all University students and employees. To achieve this goal and to comply with federal law, ASU prohibits the unlawful sale, manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, and use of controlled substances on its property or as part of any of its activities.

Every ASU student and employee must abide by the terms of this statement, abide by applicable policies of the Arizona Board of Regents and Arizona State University, and abide by local, state, and federal laws regarding the unlawful possession or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol.

ASU students and employees are subject to all applicable drug and alcohol policies, including policies set forth in the University’s Staff Personnel Policies and Procedures Manual, the Academic Affairs Policies and Procedures Manual, University Student Services Manuals, and the ASU Police Department Policies and Procedures Manual. The following drug and alcohol policies also apply to students and employees: the Arizona Board of Regents’ Code of Conduct and Student Code of Conduct and Arizona State University’s Policy regarding alcohol and other drugs.

Sanctions

Sanctions under federal, state, and local law for the unlawful possession or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol are serious and can range from civil sanctions to criminal convictions including fines and imprisonment. A listing of Arizona penalties can be found at www.azleg.gov/arizonarevisedstatutes.asp?title=13 and a listing of Federal penalties can be found at www.justice.gov/dea/agency/penalties.htm. Sanctions will be imposed on a student who violates a Board of Regents’ or University drug or alcohol policy; those sanctions may include expulsion or suspension, and may also include the requirement that the student participate in a drug education program. Sanctions will be imposed on an employee who violates university drug or alcohol policies which may include termination of employment, progressive discipline, and may also include the requirement that the employee participate in a drug education program.

Health Risks

A. Alcohol

Alcoholic consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increase the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including spouse and child abuse. Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely altering a person’s ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effect just described.

Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life threatening. Long-term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs such as the brain and the liver.

Mothers who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. These infants have irreversible physical abnormalities and mental retardation. In addition, research indicates that children of alcoholic parents are at greater risk than other youngsters of becoming alcoholics.

B. Illicit Drugs

A description of health risks associated with the use of illicit drugs is set forth in the attached Exhibit B.

Treatment, Counseling, and Rehabilitation Programs

Additional information regarding the health risks associated with the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol, drug awareness programs, and drug rehabilitation programs are available to employees and students through Student Health, the Employee Assistance Program and Counseling and Consultation. Classes on drug abuse are offered in the School of Social Work, Departments of Psychology and Counseling, the College of Nursing and the Human Resources Department.

The following offices have the ASU Statement on Drug-Free Schools and Campuses and will provide it on request:

Facts About ASU

Arizona State University enjoys a national reputation as a leading research institution. ASU produces more graduates than any other university in the state. Students from around the nation and the world choose ASU because of its diversity and quality of academic, student, and research programs, a beautiful campus setting, and the value of the ASU degree in today's world.

Academic Environment

ASU offers 153 bachelor's degree programs, 147 master's degree programs, 83 doctoral programs, and one law degree program.

Undergraduate Students

ASU enrolled 9,254 new freshmen for the Fall 2011 semester. Of the new freshmen, 28.4% graduated in the top 10% of their high school class. The average ACT composite score of first time freshmen is 23.9. The average SAT combined score is 1107.

ASU enrolled 6,776 new transfer students for the Fall 2011 semester with 60% of the new transfers coming from community colleges in Arizona.

The graduation rate for 2000 lower division transfer students graduating in five years or less was 59.4%. The graduation rate for 2001 lower division transfer students graduating in five years or less was 58.6%. The graduation rate for 2002 lower division transfer students graduating in five years or less was 57.6%. The graduation rate for 2003 lower division transfer students graduating in five years or less was 56.6%. The graduation rate for 2004 lower division transfer students graduating in five years or less was 57.8%. The graduation rate for 2005 lower division transfer students graduating in five years or less was 58.7%. The graduation rate for 2006 lower division transfer students graduating in 5 years or less was 59.1%.

The graduation rate for 2000 upper division transfer students graduating in four years or less was 69.9%. The graduation rate for 2001 upper division transfer students graduating in four years or less was 71.6%. The graduation rate for 2002 upper division transfer students graduating in four years or less was 71.8%. The graduation rate for 2003 upper division transfer students graduating in four years or less was 71.0%. The graduation rate for 2004 upper division transfer students graduating in four years or less was 74.2%. The graduation rate for 2005 upper division transfer students graduating in four years or less was 71.3%. The graduation rate for 2006 upper division transfer students graduating in four years or less was 72.7%. The graduation rate for 2007 upper division transfer students graduating in four years or less was 72.2%.

Undergraduate Enrollment

ASU enrolled 58,404 undergraduates in the Fall 2011 semester. Seniors (Seniors: 19,797; Juniors: 16,707; Sophomores: 11,830; Freshmen: 9,850) compose the largest class, representing more than a quarter of the student body and over a third of the undergraduate enrollment. ASU enrolled students from every state and from 91 countries in the Fall 2011 semester.

Undergraduate Student Profile

33.9% are from ethnic minority backgrounds

3.2% are international students

The average age is 23 (22.7).

Degrees Awarded

In 2010-2011, ASU awarded 12,194 bachelors, 4,150 masters, 545 doctoral and 201 law degrees.

The graduation rate for 2000 first time, full time freshmen graduating in six years or less was 56.3%; the graduation rate for 2001 first time, full time freshmen graduating in six years or less was 55.6%; the graduation rate for 2002 first time, full time freshmen graduating in six years or less was 55.8%; the graduation rate for 2003 first time, full time freshmen graduation in six years or less was 55.8%. The graduation rate for 2004 first time, full time freshmen graduation in six years or less was 58.7%. The graduation rate for 2005 first time, full time freshmen graduation in six years or less was 58%. Information on students who transfer out from ASU is not recorded, therefore is not available.
